GERMANS RUSH 600,000 MORE MEN INTO FRANCE

MORE GAINS BY GERMANS

First Line Positions of the French for Half Mile Are Captured.

ACTIVITY IS NOW MARKED IN WEST

Developments Bearing Out Forecast of Big Drive Planned in France.

Today's War News Given in Summary

New gains for the Germans in the region between Lens and Arras, not far south of the Belgian border, were announced today by Berlin which reports the capture of first line French positions along nearly a half mile front on the west of Vimy. The gains were made on ground over which the French advanced in the allied offensive of last September near Neiuville, St. Vaast, in which the Germans late in January reported the storming of 1,500 yards of French positions.

In some quarters the recent German assaults in this quarter are regarded as primarily defensive operations designed to win back position which would give the entente forces an advantage in any forward movement they may attempt in the future. It has been persistently reported however, that the Germans were on the point of launching a determined offensive in Northern France and Belgium in which case the operations in the present area of activity would have an important bearing.

The latest advices concerning these supposed preparations came today from Amsterdam in the shape of a report that 600,000 men have been sent by the Germans to the Belgian frontier.

From the Balkans comes news indicating that there is no longer the former apparent unanimity of opinion that the Teutonic Allies are shortly to begin an advance on Saloniki. It is even declared in one official quarter that the Entente Allies are preparing to take the offensive.

Constantinople advices report setbacks for the Russians in their Caucasus campaign and in Persia. Persian tribesmen fighting against the Russian forces are unofficially reported to have inflicted a severe defeat near Sandshulak.

Petrograd, while not reporting on the Persian operations, declares that the engagements in the Caucasus have continued to result in advantage to the Russians.

Berlin, Feb. 9.—(Via London)—Capture of the first line French positions over a front of 800 yards to the west of Vimy was announced today by the war office.

AUTO FINALLY TAKEN FROM SPY RUN CREEK

The Ford automobile which went into a washout at the Lawton park bridge over Spy Run creek some weeks ago was brought to shore at 2:10 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, badly damaged as result of its long stay in the water. In dynamiting for the machine Wednesday morning a stone was hurled through one of the bedroom windows and out into the hall at the home of Edward A. Derheimer, 1530 Spy Run avenue. A broken window pane was the only damage done.

GRAND JURY HOLDS TIEPER FOR MURDER

Indictment at Buffalo Accuses Him of Slaying His Mother.

Buffalo, N. Y., Feb. 9.—An indictment charging John Edward Teiper with murder in the first degree was returned by the Erie county grand jury today. Teiper is charged with the slaying of his mother, Mrs. Agnes M. Teiper, who with his brother, Frederick C. Teiper, was killed on the Orchard park highway Sunday night, Jan. 30.

There were two counts in the indictment to both of which Teiper pleaded not guilty when arraigned. Application for bail was denied. The indictment charges that Mrs. Teiper was killed "with a revolver, a hammer, a blunt instrument and other instruments unknown to the grand jury. It is unlikely that Teiper will be tried at this term of court, it was said today, which means that it will not be called until some time in April. The condition of Grace J. Teiper, who was injured at the time her mother and brother were killed, showed improvement today, the hospital physicians said. She had a brief period of consciousness but said nothing that could throw any light upon the tragedy.

H. B. HUNT DIES IN LOS ANGELES

Former Fort Wayne Insurance Man Succumbs to Pneumonia.

Hoyt B. Hunt, formerly a well-known Fort Wayne life insurance man, died at 10:30 o'clock Tuesday evening from pneumonia at his home in Los Angeles. He had been ill since the first of the year, and news of his death came in a telegram to Mrs. W. A. Jones, of West Wayne street, a long-time friend of the family.

Mr. Hunt was 62 years of age. He lived in this city about twenty years and was general agent of the Northwestern Life Insurance company, with offices on Calhoun street. He removed to Los Angeles in 1912, where a few weeks later his wife died. Later he was united in marriage to a Los Angeles woman. Mr. Hunt was a man of fine Christian character, and during his residence here was a member of Wayne Street M. E. church and a local preacher in that congregation. Prior to coming to Fort Wayne he had done mission work in the slums of Chicago. The Hunt home in this city was on West Wayne street near Fulton.

ENGAGES ROOMS FOR HOOSIER DELEGATES

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 9.—Arrangements for quartering the Indiana delegation of the democratic national convention in St. Louis was made yesterday by Tom Taggart, democratic national committeeman, from Indiana, and A. C. Sallee, who were in St. Louis to attend a meeting of the sub-committee of the democratic national committee. A suite of twenty rooms has been engaged at the Planters hotel for the Indiana delegation. Mr. Taggart will be quartered with the national committeemen at the Hotel Jefferson. The Planters and Jefferson, under the same management, are the two leading hotels in St. Louis. The Planters is twenty blocks from the Coliseum, where the convention will be held, but a taxi can easily make the trip in seven minutes.

FIRST TRAIN IN FOUR YEARS.

Southern Pacific Is Opening Up Its Mexican Branch.

Washington, Feb. 9.—The first train in four years over the Southern Pacific line from Nogales, Ariz., to Mazatlin, Mex., was run on Jan. 20. State department reports say railroad officials are hopeful of keeping the line open.

Consul Edwards at Juarez reports that passengers from Casas Grandes deny Villa executed or caused to be executed a number of women charged with being spies, as was reported some time ago.

Myriad of Babies for Examination at Auburn

Auburn, Ind., Feb. 9.—Babies' health conferences in connection with the community institute, is in full blast here today with a large attendance of babies of all sizes and descriptions.

The attendance is so large that it was found necessary to limit the examination to each child from a half hour to fifteen minutes. After the examination the parents are instructed to the health needs of the child and if a physician is necessary are told to see their family doctor.

A successful effort is being made to have the fathers of the babies attend the conference as well as the mothers.

This is the second institute of its kind to be held in Indiana, the first being held at Butler last week.

J. J. Pettijohn, director of the extension division of Indiana university, spoke last night on "Community Promotion."

COL. D. N. FOSTER.

CHARLES M'CULLOCH.

THORNE RAPS MR. BRANDEIS

Assails Conduct of Supreme Court Nominee in Rail Rate Case.

Infidelity, Breach of Faith and Unprofessional Conduct Alleged.

Washington, Feb. 9.—Investigation of President Wilson's nomination of Louis D. Brandeis, of Boston, to the supreme court bench was begun today by a senate sub-committee which first heard Clifford Thorne, chairman of the Iowa board of railroad commissioners, who was associated with Mr. Brandeis in the fight against giving the eastern railroads increased freight rates. Mr. Thorne assailed the conduct of Mr. Brandeis in that case.

"I believe the nominee before this committee was guilty of infidelity, of breach of faith and of unprofessional conduct in one of the greatest cases in this generation," said he. Thorne charged that Brandeis as an attorney appearing for the shippers conceded that the rate return to the railroads was inadequate and that Brandeis in his opening oral argument conceded that the returns were inconsistent with the prosperity of the railroads.

Because of the widespread interest in the nomination the committee decided to hold public sessions. So far as known it is the first instance in which such a nomination has been inquired into except behind closed doors.

Mr. Thorne's Charges.

"At the outset two facts stand out, it appears to me," Mr. Thorne declared. "In the first place I believe the nominee before this committee was guilty of infidelity, of breach of faith and of unprofessional conduct in one of the greatest cases of this generation.

"In the second place in open court while acting as special counsel, Mr Brandeis committed himself to the proposition that the net return of 7½ per cent above all expenses, all interest on debts, on capital stock of railroads was inadequate, or to use his own words 'negligible.' This had been held adequate by the commission in 1910."

Mr. Thorne said that in the 1913 case Mr. Brandeis had limited his activities to showing that railroads were entitled to more revenue, how shall it be secured.

Thorne Was Surprised.

When he first received a copy of Mr. Brandeis' brief Thorne said he was surprised to find nothing additional in it about adequacy of rates. He asked Brandeis what his position was and the latter responded he believed some of the roads were not earning enough money and he thought conditions were unsatisfactory in Ohio, Michigan and Indiana.

"With the opening of Mr. Brandeis' oral argument he made this statement," began Mr. Thorne, reading from the record: 'On the whole the net income and the net operating revenue in official classification territory are smaller than are consistent with their prosperity and the welfare of the public and conditions are bad in central territory.'

Then He Was Dumbfounded.

"I was simply dumbfounded by the statement," declared Thorne. "For four years the roads had been fighting to establish that before the interstate commerce commission. They had carried on a nation-wide propaganda in newspapers magazines, speeches and every conceivable manner. I am not saying dishonestly. I was dumbfounded to hear at the conclusion of this great case, involving $50,000,000 interest on a billion dollars if you adopt the stand of dollars and

SENATE PUTS O. K. ON PREPAREDNESS BILLS

First Measures Passed by House Now Ready for President.

Washington, Feb. 9.—The senate today passed the resolution making $600,000 available for re-equiping the Mars Island and New York navy yards, and the bill increasing by 300 the entrance class at Annapolis naval academy. The measures passed the house on Monday and now go to President Wilson for his approval.

On objection by Republican Leader Mann the house today declined to consider a resolution by Representative Clark, of Florida, for calling of a peace congress of neutral nations by President Wilson.

THIS SEEMS TO FREE JAMES FROM ALL OF IT

Indianapolis, Feb. 9.—James LeRoy Hankins, of Wheaton, Ill., from whom Nellie S. Hankins obtained a divorce here last June, was released from all claims of any kind she might have against him yesterday in one of the most general releases ever filed in the county clerk's office. The release was received from Chicago. It reads:

"Know all men by these presents that I, Nellie S. Hankins, of Indianapolis, Ind., in consideration of $8 in hand paid, and other good and valuable considerations, receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, do hereby release, remise and forever discharge James L. Hankins, also known as James LeRoy Hankins, of Wheaton, Dupage county, Illinois, of and from all manner or actions, causes of actions, claims, debts, suits, contracts, judgments, covenants, accounts and demands whatsoever in law or equity, which I ever had, now have, or may hereafter acquire by reason of any cause or motive whatsoever, from the beginning of the world to the date of this instrument."

The instrument is dated Nov. 15, 1915. The $8 paid to Mrs. Hankins is said to have been the last of the alimony settlement between her and her husband.

MANY MEETINGS AT COMMERCIAL CLUB

The Commercial club was the busiest place in Fort Wayne Tuesday night, beyond any doubt. Meetings were in progress in every available corner of the big building and the electricians who were desirous of meeting there had to find quarters elsewhere. Among the meetings in progress at the same time were: Weekly luncheon of the Fort Wayne Real Estate exchange; smoker of the Fort Wayne Medical society; manufacturing committee of the Commercial club; jewelers and centennial committee.

NO NEW HITCH NOW EXPECTED

NEGOTIATIONS ARE GOING SMOOTHLY

"Recognizes Liability" Substituted for "Assumes Liability."

Washington, Feb. 9.—One of the changes in the Lusitania agreement suggested by Secretary Lansing to Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, is the substitution of the words "recognizes liability" for the words "assumes liability" which were employed in the tenative draft.

It is understood that upon this change and others described as minor, is based the expressed view of high officials that the two governments are "substantially in accord" although not wholly so. No new difficulty is expected here from the change of words. It is felt that Germany could not or would not assume a liability which she would not recognize. It is not believed here that the Berlin officials will hesitate to accept the suggestion.

It was not disclosed just when American officials determined that the recognition instead of the assumption of liability was more to be desired. The understanding based upon authentic information had been that the assumption of liability was contained in the tentative proposal which had embodied in it all the wording the United States desired and in which the German government substituted a phrase for the word "illegal."

From one quarter came the suggestion the word "recognizes" makes clearer the meaning the German government desires to convey. It has not been suggested it was said, that either the word illegal or legal be employed in the formal communication the understanding being that the Berlin officials are particularly undesirous of using either, at the same time wishing to have the viewpoints of the two governments concerned in harmony.

NO OFFICIAL INFORMATION.

Berlin, Feb. 9.—Berlin is still without official information from Washington regarding the reported good prospects for a settlement of the Lusitania case.

A Berlin dispatch in the Frankfurter Zeitung says experienced diplomats expect that even though Germany's latest proposal may not be accepted immediately it will not be rejected flatly as was thought possible last week. Thus it is said the way to counter proposals and eventual understandings is left open.

TWENTY CHURCHES AID HOPE HOSPITAL

Still Others Expected to Join Movement Within Short Time.

At a very enthusiastic meeting held Thursday evening at Hope hospital eighteen churches and two synagogues endorsed the movement which has been in progress for several months and signified their intention of joining the federation and signed the articles of agreement of the association.

The churches and synagogues which were represented Tuesday evening were Wayne Street, First, Trinity and St. Paul's M. E. churches, First and Third Presbyterian churches, Grace and Salem Reformed churches, B'Nai Jacob and Achduth Veshalom congregations, West Creighton Avenue Church of Christ, First and Crescent Avenue Evangelical, Plymouth Congregational, South Wayne Baptist, African M. E., Christ's and Trinity English Lutheran churches, Bowser Free Methodist and Church of God. Six or seven other churches will hold meetings this week at which time the question will be decided whether the churches will join the federation or not.

The old board will also hold a session some time this week at which time the by-laws of the present organization will be changed to conform with the new arrangement. As soon as this is accomplished another meeting of the new body of officials will be held at which time the organization will be perfected and officers chosen. Plans are to hold the meeting next week.

WILSON INVITED TO BRYAN'S HOME TOWN

Washington, Feb. 9.—President Wilson was invited today to speak on preparedness in Lincoln, Neb., by Senator Hitchcock and a Nebraska committee. The president said he would take the invitation under advisement but that he was not sure he would make another speaking trip. Lincoln is the home of former Secretary Bryan, the administration's leading opponent in the preparedness program.

Senator Hoke Smith and a large delegation from Atlanta asked the president to visit that city if he made a trip south. Senator Sheppard extended a similar invitation for Dallas, Tex.

OIL STOVE IN AUTO BUS FELLS TWELVE

St. Louis, Feb. 9.—Four persons were made unconscious from fumes of an oil stove and eight others were made ill today while making the trip in an automobile bus running from Gumber to Clayton, St. Louis county.

The driver, Chester Colver, fell from his seat unconsciouss and Fred Hackmann, a passenger, took Colver's place at the wheel. Before he could drive the car to Clayton three other passengers fell unconscious and eight more became ill.

The three unconscious passengers were given medical attention when the auto bus reached Clayton and they quickly revived. Colver, however, was not revived for thirty minutes. The body of the bus is completely enclosed and the vehicle is heated with two oil stoves.

GRAND JURY IS READY.

Begins Investigation Into Political Activity of Brewers.

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 9.—An investigation into the alleged political activities in Pennsylvania of national and state brewers' organizations will be started by the federal grand jury here today. Officials of the Northwestern National bank, in Philadelphia, were the first witnesses to be summoned to appear. They were ordered to produce books and other documents, which, it is said, will show records of bank transactions of at least one of the brewing organizations under investigation.

ORDERS INDICTMENT OF WOMEN WHO PLAY CARDS FOR PRIZES.

Madisonville, Ky., Feb. 9.—Society matrons of Madisonville were perturbed today over instructions delivered to the Hopkins county grand jury to investigate all bridge parties and "indict every woman, no matter who she is, if she is caught playing cards for booty."

"The card table is the ruination of many boys," said Judge Carl Henderson, who delivered the charge, "and that card table is in the home." He spoke of the influence the society women exercise on the city and directed the jury "to stop this terrible crime."

"Investigate the society gambling first and then go after the poor negro and ignorant class of people," was Judge Henderson's concluding statement to the jury.

FUND STARTED FOR MONUMENT

Statue of Late Perry A. Randall to Be Erected in Swinney Park.

Effort Will Be Made to Raise $2,000 Within Fifteen Days.

Following the suggestion made by Col. D. N. Foster, plans are now in progress for the erection in one of the city parks of a bronze statue or monument of suitable character to the memory of the late Hon. Perry A. Randall, who, during his lifetime, was Fort Wayne's greatest booster and who, perhaps, more than any other one man, took a more active part in practically all movements that had for their object the betterment and advancement of this city.

Col. Foster's suggestion has met with general approval and has gained such headway that its ultimate accomplishment is now almost a certainty.

At a meeting of interested citizens Monday at the Commercial club it was definitely decided to go ahead with the project and in order that some tangible plan might be devised a committee of five was appointed to take full charge. The committee is composed of Col. D. N. Foster, Charles McCulloch, Albert E. Thomas, Dr. Eric A. Crull and Luie H. Moore.

Hope to Raise $2,000.

The committee hopes to be able to raise $2,000 within fifteen days, the highest subscription being limited to $50. Several of the wealthier citizens of Fort Wayne have already agreed to subscribe the maximum amount. An opportunity will be given for all the friends of the deceased to subscribe and a minimum amount has been fixed at $1. The committee will be ready to announce its plans within the next two or three days.

MOTORMAN IS HELD TO CIRCUIT COURT

Floyd Luttman, a motorman in the employ of the Fort Wayne Traction company on the city lines, was bound over to the circuit court under $500 bond by Judge H. Waveland Kerr, in the city court, Wednesday afternoon, on a charge of assault and battery. The hearing was held several days ago and Judge Kerr took the case under advisement.

Luttman was in charge of a car on the Huffman street line, Christmas eve, when it struck a jitney bus in which Mrs. Lena Blazer, 1125 Polk street, was a passenger. The woman received injuries from which she died about three weeks later at St. Joseph hospital. It has been charged that Luttman was running his street car at excessive speed and that the collision with the jitney was due to negligence and carelessness.

It may be that an affidavit charging involuntary manslaughter will be placed against Luttman. In his findings relating to the death of Mrs. Blazer Coroner J. E. McArdle held that both Luttman and Oscar Shustman, the latter of whom was driving the jitney, were guilty of negligence and carelessness.

Judge Kerr fixed Luttman's bond at $500 and it was promptly furnished.

LITTLE HOPE OF SETTLING STRIKE

However, Certain Parties Declare They Will Make Another Effort.

Settlement of the street car strike which came so near being realized this week now seems more remote than at any time since the strike was declared on September 27. Further negotiations looking to peace are not probable although it is understood certain persons have not given up hope and will continue the effort. Both officials of the Traction company and the Federation of Labor declare that they are through, so far as attempting to bring about an agreement is concerned.

An Explanation.

The executive board has issued the following explanation:

"The communication sent to General Manager Greenland will necessarily require some explanation as the public has been led to believe that a settlement of the car strike was near at hand

"For the past several weeks meetings between the executive board of the Fort Wayne Federation of Labor and General Manager Greenland, of the traction company, have been going on. Various phases of the controversy were discussed and as a basis of settlement Mr. Greenland on February 7 verbally promised four members of the board that the men would be allowed to maintain their organization on the same basis that they could maintain any fraternal or religious affiliations, they saw fit. The men were also to wear their monthly button of their organization, if they so desired.

"Mr. Greenland also agreed that thirty-five men should be returned to work within thirty days and other employes re-employed as fast as vacancies occurred. He further verbally agreed that all grievances other than those relative to wages should be referred to the representatives of the company by the complaining employe or employes or representatives of these. The men were to return to work at wages as prior to strike.

"The carmen agreed to the proposition that the thirty-five men should return to work in thirty days, and the further re-employment of the men as vacancies occurred. They were willing that questions as to wages should be referred to the utility commission, providing this commission had power and authority to act on the question. The men were also satisfied with the proposition of the maintenance of their organization.

"Some questions as to how men should be re-employed and of their seniority rights were left to be settled at a conference arranged for Tuesday morning, Feb. 8.

"It was also mutually agree that in case of a settlement being reached that a statement of the conditions of settlement would be issued jointly and given to the press, but according to the morning paper, Mr. Greenland voluntarily gave out the news that the strike was settled, while the executive board refused to be interviewed. The plan to mislead the public, union men and their friends is plain, for at the conference Tuesday morning Mr. Greenland repudiated his words of the day before, refusing to allow the men to maintain their organization, and by denying the uniformed employes only the right to wear emblems of any organization with which they might be affiliated.

"Mr. Greenland also insisted on the men signing the individual contract that was so objectionable last fall and that the men have always maintained was illegal, because they had no part in the forming of said contract.

"The strike is not off and the controversy cannot be settled unless the men have the rights guaranteed them as American citizens—the right to belong to any church, order or union they see fit and the right to maintain that organization in any way they see fit.

"The union men of the city deplore the fact that this controversy of weeks' standing cannot be settled as questions between other employers and employes relative to hours, wages and conditions have been settled. We stand for a bigger and better Fort Wayne and know that we are trying to do our part to bring it about."

HIS TAXES TOO LOW; WOULD BOOST 'EM UP

Indianapolis, Feb. 9.—Uriah M. Hinson, of Martinsville, declaring that all assessments, including his own, are too small, applied to Governor Ralston yesterday for appointment as a member of the state board of tax commissioners and gave reasons why he would like to serve.

"I would like to have a place on the state tax board," he wrote, "for this reason: Land is not assessed equally. I own a farm that is listed at $2,400. It is worth $5,000. I spoke to the county assessor about it and told him I knew of a place offered for sale at $500 which was assessed at $400 which, in my opinion, represents its full value. If you don't think I am fit, get some one that will assess at its full cash value. Then the tax rate would be greatly reduced and assessments would be more equal. The poor have too much of the taxes to pay the way land is assessed now."

KENDALLVILLE HAS BIG GARAGE BLAZE

Kendallville, Ind., Feb. 9.—The Studebaker garage, owned an managed by Roy I. Wallace, was practically destroyed by fire, starting from an overheated furnace, early today.

Thirty cars, including several new models, were damaged. The loss is estimated at $15,000. Wallace and George Kihn, fire chief, were slightly injured.

CARRY RELIEF TO FLOOD SUFFERERS

Steamer Distributes Food and Fuel to Refugees in Arkansas.

Little Rock, Ark., Feb. 9.—Relief work among refugees of the flood began when a steamer loaded with supplies to distribute food and fuel among 2,000 or more destitute persons at Pendleton, Redfork, Douglas, Watson and other towns in the inundated basin. The cargo was in charge of Murray A. Auerbach, Little Rock special agent of the American Red Cross, and D. C. Welty, agricultural commissioner of the Iron Mountain railroad. Business in Arkansas City virtually is suspended. A few merchants are conducting business from the second stories of their stores and from box cars on the levee. Relief reached 200 or more refugees at Gaine's Landing yesterday, north of Lake Village.

Residents continue to desert Clerndon, and of the 3,500 inhabitants only about 300 remain. Relief work is proceeding slowly but effectively in the region near Clarendon.

"Wacht Am Rhein" Out of Fashion in Apia.

Schoolmaster B. H. Sawode

"Zum Rhein! Zum Rhein! Zum Deutschen Rhein!"

For years the school children at Apia, Samoa, sang the thrilling words of this German song at morning exercises. The kaiser's picture hung on the wall. The earnest master, B. H. Sawode, taught his charges German poetry and German folklore. Songs and tales of the Fatherland they learned. All this was before the war.

Then trouble came and with it the British, who captured German Samoa. They ordered the master of the little school to tear down the kaiser's picture, to teach his charges English and above all to quit the singing of "Die Wacht Am Rhein." To tear the kaiser's picture from the wall was a sacrilege to Sawode and he refused. He was thrown into a dungeon for a few days and later sent with his family out of the country.

He arrived in San Francisco recently and will try to return to Berlin.

SINNING ALLEGED IN DIVORCE SUITS

Wife in One Case and Husband in Another Accuse Mates.

Selma M. Fredrick has begun action in the superior court against Ervin W Fredrick for divorce, $3,000 alimony and the custody of an 8-year-old daughter. She says they were married April 29 1906, and lived together until January 20, last, on which day she alleges the defendant was guilty of adultery with a woman residing in Bloomingdale but whose name is left blank in the complaint. The wife also charges that her husband was for a long time guilty of cruel and inhuman treatment of her and refuses to support her. William Grayless, who is alleged to owe the defendant $130, is made party to the suit and an order restraining him from paying the money to Fredrick has been issued, the plaintiff asking that it be paid to the court for suit and support. R. B. Dreibelbiss is the plaintiff's attorney.

Wife Is Accused of Wrong.

John Craig has commenced suit in the superior court against Rosella Craig for divorce, charging her with guilty association with various men whose names are unknown to the plaintiff. He says she visited winerooms, became intoxicated and came home at early hours of the morning after being out all night, neglected her children and her household and abused the plaintiff with curses and vile names. He asks the custody of two children, aged 4 and 3 years, respectively for neglect of which he says she was prosecuted in the city court. Stephen A Callahaan is the plaintiff's attorney.

Wife Charges Cruelty.

Martha B. Whitacre has begun suit in the superior court for divorce from William H. Whitacre, charging cruel and inhuman treatment. She says her husband has a violent temper and when angry found fault, slapped her face and beat her with his fists, rendering her ill for days and weeks at a time, adding to the cruelty by refusing to get her a physician. She says also he did not provide her with a home and di not properly support her. An order restraining him from molesting her at 1511 Sherman street and from drawing his wages is asked for. McAdams & Hartzell are the plaintiff's attorneys.

Receiver for Movie Show.

In the suit of Hallie B. Reichard vs. A. A. Kleinrichert to collect $100 on a note and for the appointment of a receiver, it was represented that the defendant was dissipating the assets of a moving picture show situated at 1311 Maumee avenue and in imminent danger of becoming insolvent. The court appointed Robert B. Garmire receiver, under $2,500 bond, to take charge of the business.

Jessie Saunders complains in the superior court of Jack Saunders and asks a divorce on the ground of abandonment and failure to support. She asks the custody of a child of four years. They were married June 26, 1910, and she says he left her October 15, 1913. H. Waveland Kerr is the wife's attorney.

Wants $500 for Injuries.

Clair E. Knepple has begun action in the superior court against Abraham B Frank, demanding $500 damages for the wrecking of his motorcycle and bodily injuries to himself when, as he alleges an automobile belonging to the defendant and in charge of his servant, ran into the plaintiff at Washington boulevard and Calhoun street, October 9, 1915 He says the automobile was running at a speed of thirty-five miles an hour and hurled him and his machine against a telephone pole. S. M. Hench is attorney for the plaintiff.

In the suit of Wesley D. Rhodes vs. Oliver J. Harper, final report has been made to the superior court by Oscar E. Scott, receiver, and he has been discharged.

The will of the late William Wiegmann has been filed for probate. His entire estate is left to his wife, Augusta Wiegmann, who is named executrix.

In the circuit court the suit of Adam H. Hans vs. the Pennsylvania company for damages, has been set for trial before a jury April 10, and the suit of Henry Rockhill vs. John Rockhill before a jury February 24.

TRACTION CO. GETS VERDICT.

A jury in the Wells circuit court at Bluffton late Tuesday afternoon returned a verdict finding for the defendant in the case of Olive Jones vs. the Fort Wayne & Northern Indiana Traction company for $10,000 damages for personal injuries. The case was taken to Wells county on a change of venue from the Allen circuit court. The plaintiff alleged that she was injured at Huntington, Ind., while attempting to board an interurban car. The defense showed that her injury was due to her own carelessness. McAdams & Hartzell appeared for the plaintiff and Barrett, Morris & Hoffman for the defendant.

WILL SAVE HOMES OF HATTERS.

Accumulated Interest on Savings Deposits Belong to Defendants.

Hartford, Conn., Feb. 9.—Accumulated interest of $30,000 on the attached saving bank deposits of the 180 defendants in the famous Danbury Hatters' boycott litigation belongs to the defendants, according to a decision today by Judge E. S. Rhomas, of the United States district court. The plaintiffs, D. E. Loewe & Co., had claimed they were entitled to all the interest that had accrued since the attachments were made thirteen years ago. This sum, it is said in union circles here, will practically complete the amount needed to save the hatters' homes from being auctioned off to satisfy the judgment of $252,130, awarded D. E. Loewe & Co. by the United States supreme court. Organized labor throughout the United States recently undertook to raise the entire sum by subscription, but it is said that the amount was about $30,000 short.

SIX TRUSTEES ARE NAMED BY COMMITTEE

Twenty-Five Are Present at Regular Board Meeting of the Y. W. C. A. N N

Twenty-five members of the board of directors, which is composed of twenty-seven ladies, were present at the regular monthly business session held Wednesday morning at the Y. W. C. A., when a board of six trustees were elected. They are Mrs. Fred Hayden, Mrs. J. B. Harper, W. E. Mossman, Arthur H. Perfect, Fred J. Thieme and W. J. Vesey.

Mrs. E. A. Donnan, formerly president of the association, attended the board meeting and gave a brief address. A memorial was read at the meeting in honor of a former secretary of the local Y. W. C. A. Miss Grace Dodge, who passed away in Chicago last October.

Miss Mary Harrah, chairman of the student committee, reports that there are now five classes in her department that meet regularly. Mrs. Hudson, of the physical committee, stated in her report that during the month of January fifty-one classes met and that the enrollment of the classes now is 264. The physical department will give a demonstration at the high school building on February 25 of the work that is being done each day at the gymnasium of the Y. W. C. A.

Mrs. W. S. Whitbeck, chairman of the extension department, submitted a very interesting report. There are now six clubs in the extension department and each is progressing rapidly. The names and number of members of the clubs follows: Boss Glove Factory, 67; Gymnits, 50; Electric Works, 30; Perfection, 25; Busy Bee, 25, and Business Women's club, 40.

A meeting will be held at the association building February 18, at which time the clubs will be federated. A proposed constitution will be submitted and officers elected. The purpose of a federation of the clubs is to promote sociability and helpfulness among the members so that they will be an assistance to the other girls of Fort Wayne.

Visitors From Muncie.

Mrs. E. Whitely, president of the Muncie Y. W. C. A., Mrs. Eva H. Little Mrs. A. L. Johnson and Mrs. L. W Neely, members of the board of directors, came to Fort Wayne at noon Wednesday for the purpose of going through the local building and to get information for the new building to be erected in that city soon. They were guests at lunch with Mrs. J. S. House at the Y. W. C. A.

EMMONS AND FATHER BURKE PATCH PEACE

South Bend, Ind., Feb. 9—That the pipe of peace between Notre Dame university, at least official Notre Dame and the street car company was smoked last night, was the report after a conference between Father William Burke, of the university, and C. D. Emmons, general manager of the street railway system. Both men said they regretted sincerely and emphatically the series of episodes which culminated Sunday night in the burning of one of the company's cars by students, who asserted they had been discriminated against by the company.

Before going to South Bend Mr. Emmons was general manager of the Fort Wayne and Wabash Valley system and resided in Fort Wayne.

Frank Gray, of Philadelphia, supreme recorder of the Knights of Malta, arrived in Fort Wayne Wednesday and Wednesday evening will speak at the Hotel Anthony in the interest of the order here.

POLITICAL NOTES.

Everything is in readiness for the republican love feast to be held Thursday evening at New Haven when many of the candidates for state office will be in attendance. T. J. Logan, of this city, will preside as toastmaster.

A meeting of the Young Men's Republican club will be held Wednesday evening in the office of Judge Walter Olds in the Old National bank building.

An enthusiastic meeting in the interest of James E. Watson, who is seeking the republican senatorial nomination, was held at Huntington, Tuesday evening. Mr. Watson was the principal speaker.

Great preparations are being made for the democratic love feast to be held at Columbia City Thursday. More than twenty-five local democrats will attend.

Glenn Van Auken, of Auburn, candidate for the nomination for joint senator from Allen and DeKalb counties, was a visitor in Fort Wayne, Tuesday, in the interest of his candidacy. William S. Wells, of this city, is also seeking the nomination.

The plan is to erect a monument in one of the city's parks on which will be a bronze bust of Mr. Randall. The question of the kind of monument to be erected and other details connected therewith will not be taken up until after the money has been subscribed.

Swinned Park Favored.

The monument will, in all probability, be erected in Swinney park by reason of Mr. Randall's long connection with the Swinney estate.

The death of no citizen in recent years has caused more genuine sorrow and regret. During his long residence in Fort Wayne Mr. Randall was identified with almost every public spirited movement. He was for Fort Wayne and he never lost an opportunity or was never too busy to boost his home city. It is regarded as no more than proper that his services should be commemorated in this fashion. The committee has already met with much encouragement and does not contemplate any difficulty in raising the necessary $2,000 within the time specified.

All the banking institutions in the city will be closed next Saturday in observance of the anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln.

When you feel a cold coming on, stop it by taking LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE It destroys germs, acts as a Tonic and Laxative and keeps the system in condition to throw off Colds and Grip. There is only one "BROMO QUININE." E. W. GROVE'S signature on box. 25c.—Advertisement.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

Proverbs 19:1-20.

1 Better is the poor that walketh in his integrity, than he that is perverse in his lips, and is a fool.

2 Also, that the soul be without knowledge, it is not good; and he that hasteth with his feet sinneth.

3 The foolishness of man perverteth his way: and his heart fretteth against the Lord.

4 Wealth maketh many friends; but the poor is separated from his neighbour.

5 A false witness shall not be unpunished; and he that speaketh lies shall not escape.

6 Many will entreat the favour of the prince: and every man is a friend to him that giveth gifts.

7 All the brethren of the poor do hate him: how much more do his friends go far from him? he pursueth them with words, yet they are wanting to him.

8 He that getteth wisdom loveth his own soul: he that keepeth understanding shall find good.

10 Delight is not seemly for a fool; much less for a servant to have rule over princes.

12 The king's wrath is as the roaring of a lion; but his favour is as dew upon the grass.

13 A foolish son is the calamity of his father: and the contentions of a wife are a continual dropping.

15 Slothfulness casteth into a deep sleep; and an idle soul shall suffer hunger.

16 He that keepeth the commandment keepeth his own soul; but he that despiseth his ways shall die.

17 He that hath pity upon the poor lendeth unto the Lord; and that which he hath given will he pay him again.

18 Chasten thy son while there is hope, and let not thy soul spare for his crying.

19 A man of great wrath shall suffer punishment: for if thou deliver him, yet thou must do it again.

Regarding the "Pork Barrel."

The hue and cry regarding "pork" in the public buildings appropriations is never absent at any session of congress, and the fine art of securing imposing federal buildings in towns where federal business does not justify the expenditure on any rational business basis has engaged the attention of many congressmen from all political parties from time immemorial. Some interesting light on the real situation as to "pork" has just been contributed by Senator Gallinger, who has collected and tabulated the original authorizations and appropriations for every public building in the United States.

Senator Gallinger finds that the public buildings erected or authorized by the government number 1,439. Of this number only 493 are in towns having a population in excess of 10,000 at the time the appropriation was authorized. Of the whole number, five are in towns of less than 1,000 population, 68 in towns less than 2,000 population, 143 in towns between 2,000 and 3,000 population, 169 in towns between 3,000 and 4,000 population, 156 in towns between 4,000 and 5,000 population, 133 in towns between 5,000 and 6,000 population, 82 in towns between 6,000 and 7,000 population, 82 in towns between 7,000 and 8,000 population, 84 in towns between 8,000 and 9,000 population, and 51 in towns between 9,000 and 10,000. All of these appropriations for small towns range from $50,000 to $125,000 each.

There are five towns in the United States, Senator Gallinger finds, where imposing buildings were ordered built when the hamlets had less than 1,000 population. One of them is in Kentucky. Another is in Wyoming, where most of the federal buildings have been built in towns of less than 1,500 population.

Casting his eagle eye on Indiana, Senator Gallinger discloses the fact that of the fifty-one federal buildings in this state, seventeen are in cities of more than 10,000 population, and eleven of them were authorized when the towns selected for buildings had less than 5,000 population. To be absolutely fair about it, however, it must be noted that the past few congresses have killed off nearly all propositions of this character. It isn't so easy to "get by" with them as it used to be.

Fred Landis, late militant mooser and now back in the republican ranks, has issued from his home in Logansport, an announcement to the general effect that he will not be a candidate for the republican congressional nomination from the Eleventh district. He goes still further and expresses the conviction that no man who has been a principal in the bitter political feuds of the district should seek the place, because success demands a candidate free from old grudges. Mr. Landis is frank enough about it, but the form of his utterance indicates that he still has some suspicion regarding the thoroughness of his own reconstruction.

State Food and Drug Commissioner Barnard, speaking before the National Canners' association convention at Louisville, declared that the goods that left the Indiana canneries for the markets of the world were "just a little better because they came from Indiana." He explained that the Indiana canneries were cleanly, that they used good materials and cheerfully sought to comply with the pure food law requirements in every day. In view of frequent complaints regarding food products it is indeed refreshing to discover at least one industry that not only deserves commendation but gets it.

Washington indicates that President Wilson may soon announce that he is a candidate for renomination before the democratic national convention in St. Louis, but Washington mustn't expect the country to be greatly surprised at the announcement when it does arrive. Some things in the general trend of events recently have suggested the bare possibility of some such thing as that coming to pass, and we are more or less prepared for the news.

Twenty-four more or less prominent South Bend business men are said to have been caught in raids on two gambling establishments in that city. It is becoming increasingly evident that those of us whose eyes have been pretty steadily centered in admiration on South Bend will be forced to cast about for a new model of civic righteousness. Isn't it fierce when a cherished ideal is shattered?

A REAL TARIFF BOARD

(Pittsburgh Dispatch)

President Wilson's conversion to support of a tariff commission is symptomatic of the increasing popular demand that, so far as possible, the tariff be taken out of politics. But there are tariff commissions and tariff commissions. There is the commission which would confine itself to the statistical and clerical duties of collecting and tabulating facts. That sort of commission, of course, would be of little value because congress would be certain to pigeon-hole the report and forget it, as has been the custom with all investigations. Then there is the commission, like the interstate commerce commission, which not only gathers and assembles facts, but applies them. That is the sort of tariff commission that is needed—not the other.

If, for instance, a majority of congress favored a protective tariff, based on the difference in the cost of production here and abroad, a proper sort of tariff commission would report just what difference was in each schedule, and apply the principle laid down by congress. Or, if a majority of congress favored a tariff for revenue only, that particular principle would be applied mathematically by the tariff commission. In each instance the application would be simply a matter of facts and figures, a pure business operation, having nothing to do with politics, the political features, which principle, protective or revenue only, being left where it belongs, to the discretion of congress.

By this means we would end the log-rolling of sections and industries, the factional whipsawing and manipulation that has marked the framing of schedules by the committees of congress. Neither the public nor congress has at any time had any accurate idea of the details of more than one or two schedules in which there was personal interest. The subject is too many sided, too complex, too intricate, to ever be grasped in all its details and schedules by any but experts. This has enabled the log-rollers, time after time, to put over most indefensible discriminations which, when found out, have provoked the inevitable popular dissatisfaction and demand for revision. But anyone can understand a plain statement of a general principle, protective or for revenue only, and with the confidence that this principle will be applied impartially and exactly all along the line, and people would be able to judge intelligently just how the principle worked. Tariff discussion would then be possible on a bedrock basis instead of being lost in a maze of schedules and business details that not one person in hundreds of thousands could ever take the time to figure out.

FLAG DESECRATION

(Indiana Daily Times)

Especial attention is being given to the enforcement of the Indiana law against the desecration of the national flag of the United States. The Indiana flag law, enacted in 1901, was drawn by Capt. Wallace Foster and was backed by the Woman's Relief Corps, department of Indiana. The statute is stringent. Patriotic citizens are busying themselves in the effort to bring about its strict enforcement. To this end a circular has been sent out by Florence Millspaugh, department president of the W. R. C. The national committee of the W. R. C. on the prevention of desecration of the national flag has sent out a circular with an appeal for the co-operation of W. R. C. members in the work of protecting the flag, not only from profanation by the mercenary and heedless, but also from improper usage by those who would do the flag honor. Greater activity for law enforcement is earnestly urged. In response to the national appeal the W. R. C., department of Indiana, now asks that patriotic instructors and corps members in Indiana give better heed to flag law violations in this state.

BEAUTIFUL HAIR, THICK, WAVY, FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Draw a moist cloth through hair and double its beauty at once.

Save your hair! Dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.

Immediate?—Yes! Certain?—that's the joy of it. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after an application of Danderine. Also try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few week's use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

You can surely have pretty, charming, lustrous hair, and lots of it, if you will just get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it as directed.—Advertisement.

But I would suggest that a statue be erected in Swinney park with Col. Swinney in the center and Judge Fay at the right and P. A. Randall at the left. Yours truly, D. T. M'FEE.

What The Sentinel Had to Say About Persons and Events Twenty-Five Years Ago.

Editor A. J. Moynihan of the Morning Journal, has gone to Indianapolis on business.

The Monday club will hold a meeting tonight with Mrs. A. J. Detzer, of West Wayne street.

Ed J. Golden entertained the Cooing club in a pleasant way last evening.

The removal of chairs from the workrooms at the Fort Wayne Electric works caused a ripple of indignation among the young lady operators and for a time there was trouble in the air.

President A. S. Lauferty, of the Business Men's exchange, states that an effort will be made to convert the exchange into a Commercial club and to obtain a suitable club house for it. The interest in the Exchange has been subsiding.

Bishop J. H. Vincent, of New York, one of the foremost divines in the Methodist Episcopal church, preached three sermons here Sunday—one in Simpson M. E. church, one in Berry Street M. E. church and one in the Wayne Street M. E. church.

Collier's Once a Week, a leading illustrated weekly published in New York, prints a picture of the Georgetown university football club and in the group the face of Stephen B. Fleming of this city, is conspicuous. The magazine speaks in high terms of Mr. Fleming as fullback.

Harry McMullen has resigned his position as city editor on the Morning Press to take a similar position vacant at the News owing to the resignation of John T. Dougall. C. L. Drummond will temporarily fill the vacancy on the staff of the Press.

Dr. E. F. Biewend, of St. Louis, formerly of this city and now visiting here, injected the lymph of Dr. Koch, the great German savant, into the arm of E. M. Worley, cancer victim, at the city hospital, last Saturday in the presence of several local physicians. The patient shows signs of improvement. Dr. Biewend is a cousin of Dr. Koch and recently returned from an extended period of labor in the celebrated German scientist's laboratories as an assistant.

IRELAND HAS WON IMPORTANT POINT

Triumphs in Fight on Government Methods of Retrenchment.

Dublin, Ireland, Jan. 15—(Correspondence of The Associated Press).—Ireland has just passed through a vigorous and successful agitation against government methods of retrenchment. It is a tradition of Irish government that some of its services are extremely costly in proportion to the needs of the people, while others are starved. The treasury, in determining to effect war economics, proceeded to attack one after the other the "starved services," leaving mostly untouched the larger and less useful items. They thus irritated the largest possible number of people and interests for the smallest return in cash.

One of the starved services is education. The national library in Dublin, the Royal Irish academy of music, the teaching of science in secondary schools and agricultural education all suffered, or were threatened. Among the grants to be discontinued was the small sum for the colleges of Irish. This brought the Gaelic league into the fray, and throughout every part of Ireland, resolutions of public bodies, and public meetings, culminating in a meeting in the Dublin mansion house, conveyed to the government the popular indignation. The Irish Catholic bishops also passed a series of resolutions of protest.

It was not only the educational grants that suffered. Ireland has been receiving a grant of 10,000 pounds a year for the encouragement of horse-breeding. The country is a great breeding ground for army horses and its merits in this respect were recognized before the war not only by the British government but by foreign buyers. It was announced that the horse-breeding grant was to be stopped though a similar grant of larger amount given to Great Britain was not only to be continued but increased. Protest in parliament led to the explanation that army horses could be more conveniently bred in England because it was nearer to the seat of war, and because the provision of army horses might be an urgent matter of hours instead of days. As an argument against a grant for breeding horses in Ireland this was not regarded as convincing. Meanwhile no serious attack was made on the swollen items of Irish expenditure. The police cost over a million and a half a year of pounds sterling, though for some years past the record of the country is almost crimeless, and the judges of assize are constantly presented with white gloves by the sheriff because there are no cases to try.

Ireland's taxation since the war has increased from about eleven millions to about seventeen and a half millions, and the treasury methods of retrenchment would be ineffective for any real contribution towards war economics. They are said to have been due to the blunder of some minor officials in Dublin castle or in Whitehall unacquainted with the country. At first they were defended in the house of commons by the treasury chiefs. But after the representations made by Mr. Redmond, Mr. Dillon and other Irish parliamentary leaders it has been decided that these small economics detrimental to national efficiency will not be further persisted in. The matter has caused a great deal of irritation among people of all classes and sections of Irish opinion who have shown great sympathy with the war, and admit the necessity of wise public economics.

WAR PRICES FOR BREAD IN AMERICA?

That is Explanation by Government Experts for Sharp Rises.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 9.—"War prices for bread in America!"

This sums up the opinion of officials of the United States department of agriculture and of the department of commerce here in commenting on the reasons for the sharp upward trend in prices of wheat and flour in the United States.

"We have not been following the flour price fluctuations closely," says Charles J. Brand, chief of the office of markets and rural organization of the agricultural department, "but we have followed the wheat price! A few days ago the Minneapolis price for wheat went to $1.24 a bushel. As compared to prices before the outbreak of the European war this is over a 50 per cent. increase in the price of flour. Before the outbreak of the war, wheat was selling at from 75 to 85 cents a bushel. Beginning almost immediately with the war, the prices of wheat show a steady upward tendency, with a few very small sags. This is due unquestionably to the heavy exports and the demand due to the war."

Leon M. Estabrook, chief of the bureau of crop estimates of the agricultural department, agrees entirely with Brand. "The heavy increase in wheat prices," he said, "is unquestionably due to the war. It is a 'war price' and not a 'crop price.'

"This is proved by the fact that the 1915 wheat crop was the largest in the history of the country, amounting to 1,011,000,000 bushels. For the year 1914, the crop amounted to 892,000,000 bushels, so that the increased yield in 1915 would tend, if anything, to hold down prices instead of boosting them. The 1915 crop is now on the market.

"One big factor in the wheat situation is the fact that the Russian crop—and Russia is a large exporter of wheat—has been bottled up for two years. This has increased enormously the demand on other wheat exporting countries, and has consequently boosted the price."

Figures furnished by the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce show how exports both of wheat and flour, have jumped on account of the war, and indicate why the American people must pay "war prices" for their bread. The total exports of wheat for the ten months ending October, 1914, amounted to 125,804,067 bushels, valued at $128,127,532. The European war began in August, 1914. For the ten-month period ended October, 1915, the exports of wheat jumped to 179,705,686 bushels, valued at $251,598,751.

For the ten-month period of 1914, wheat flour exports amounted to 9,444,377 barrels, valued at $44,978,122. For the same period in 1915, the wheat flour exports amounted to 12,668,460 barrels, valued at $79,877,016.

The exports of wheat and wheat flour are merely typical of what is going on generally. America is largely feeding and supplying the nations at war. American exports for December exceed those for any previous month in the country's history. The total value of all kinds of goods shipped abroad for that month amounted to $359,301,274, which makes the total exports of all kinds for 1915, $3,550,915,393, or about a billion dollars more than was ever before exported during a like period.

We are feeding and supplying the world, and our exporters are getting rich from the profits—but in the meantime our people must compete with the nations of Europe in paying prices for our own products. War prices in Europe mean war prices in America!

Make Your Own Stomach Medicine at Home

Simple, Inexpensive, Effective.

Many people seem to think that the best medicines are to be had only upon the prescription of a high-priced specialist, but there are many simple things that can be obtained for a few cents which often do the work even after the best doctors have failed.

How many stomach sufferers have ever heard of concentrated liquid marlix? Perhaps not one in ten, yet here is something that any good druggist can sell you and which is said to produce astonishing results in cases of indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, belching, bloating, pains and heart palpitation after meals and similar indications of stomach disorders.

It is a simple thing—perfectly harmless—and the best way to prepare it is to get two ounces of liquid marlix (concentrated)—cost about fifty cents and an empty eight ounce bottle. Take these home, pour the marlix into the bottle and add water enough to fill it. The dose is a teaspoonful before each meal and the quantity—eight ounces—will last for several weeks. Those who know of it and have tried it, say it is not only the simplest, but one of the finest things persons troubled in this way can take and that relief is usually felt within a few minutes.

Being in liquid form it has the advantage over the many medicines in pill or tablet form. The rapidity with which it reaches the affected parts and brings relief to the sufferer is the best proof that it is readily assimilated by the stomach. —Adv.

DRESS WARM AND KEEP FEET DRY

Tells Rheumatism Sufferers to Take Salts and Get Rid of Uric Acid.

Rheumatism is no respecter of age, sex, color or rank. If not the most dangerous of human afflictions it is one of the most painful. Those subject to rheumatism should eat less meat, dress as warmly as possible, avoid any undue exposure, and, above all, drink lots of pure water.

Rheumatism is caused by uric acid which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which overcomes uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.—Advertisement.

The few intimate friends who were entertained at the home of Miss Armonde Breen last evening were prepared for a delightful time and were not surprised to be informed during the evening of Miss Breen's engagement to Frank J. Malone and also learn that the wedding would take place before the Lenten season begins. In every way the party was a charming affair, with the loveliest of decorations all carried out in pink while the supper served after a merry game of cards, bespoke the coming nuptials in heart-shaped sandwiches, white ice cream cupids in pink ice cream, pink rosebuds and cake in white hearts covered with pink frosting, that were a part of the menu. Miss Irma Blee and Miss Josephine Hayes won the prizes in the card game. The house and the supper table were beautifully decorated with many pink baskets of roses. The chandelier in the diningroom sent its light through pink paper and underneath it stood a white crochet basket with a vase of pink roses. Attached to the basket were narrow pink ribbons, one of which extended to each plate and was tied to hand-painted cards, the work of a friend in Washington, D. C., with whom Miss Breen has been visiting [illegible]. The cards told the announcement [illegible] gave the date of March the first as the interesting day. At each plate lay a small white crocheted basket of pink and white candies. On each place card was a verse suggestive of a hymeneal affair and the table itself, decked in a Madeira embroidered center piece with napkins to match, was a handsome sight. Big bows of pink maline topped off the baskets and gave an airy look to the table. Miss Breen is exceedingly popular with her acquaintances and is a very pretty and sweet young woman who since her graduation from St. Catherine's academy, has devoted herself to her music and to her home. Mr. Malone is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Malone, of South Calhoun street, and is an ambitious and energetic young man who is located in Toledo, O., with the Toledo Tool Machine company. The guests were Misses Lucile Miller, Frances McGuire, Matilda Boyce, Esther Lennert, Muriel Lavimore, Mary Travis, Julia Brennan, Irene Lennon, Helen and Marie Aurentz, Agnes Murphy, Nellie Breen, Miss White of Broughton, O., Mrs. A. G. Foley, of Pierceton, Mrs. C. E. Wahl, of Denver, Colo., who is an aunt of Miss Breen. Miss Breen is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Breen, of 231 West DeWald street.

SIMPLE LINES FOR MAGPIE GOWN—SPRING CREATION IN NEWEST SILK.

By Betty Brown

A dull, drab bird is the magpie compared with the new magpie ribbon-silk. It fairly shrieks—the contrasts are so sharp; scarlet or emerald green would seem sober beside it.

The new silk is either made or marred by the designer, more than any other fabric it depends on good lines for its effectiveness. The severe straight line of the pleated back, the straight folds of the panniers, the almost rigid lines of the bodice give the desired "severely simple" effect to the gown I've pictured here—a gown that comes from the Fashion Art League of America, by the way.

The high Elizabethan collar is one of the new things of the season—many of the new neck adornments conceal only the back of the neck and leave the throat bare.

MR. DALTON'S "UNCLE JOHN."

New Farce at Temple Theater Delights Many Patrons.

Test Dalton's farce that is being tried out at the Temple theater this week by the stock company of that playhouse, is giving huge entertainment to the patrons of the house. Women fairly shriek with laughter and men laugh and chuckle over the situations as noisily. For some very ingenious ideas Mr. Dalton, an Indianapolis man, deserves all credit. The framework of the farce is tiptop. Some of the filling out is commonplace, but can easily be given the necessary wit. The role of Uncle John is good all the way through. There are many situations that are funny and a fine climax is reached in the second act that calls for the curtain. But Mr. Dalton has strung out the act by more situations and complications, farce like of course, but possibly not so effective, certainly not so strikingly good as the previous part of the play is. The development of the farce is clean cut, but not obvious and interest is maintained to the end of the third act. The stock company presents the play with much appreciation of its possibilities, considering how little time was given to rehearsals. "Uncle John" is what may well be termed a live wire as a character, and Walter Poulter, who takes the role, gives a very excellent idea of the part. The farce runs all this week.

MISS SPINDLER'S PUPILS PLAY.

European School of Music Presents Class in Recital.

A program of much interest will be given in Packard hall on Thursday evening by piano pupils of Miss Helene Spindler. The class is presented under the auspices of the European School of Music, as Miss Spindler is both a pupil and a teacher of that institution. Miss Pauline Heckman, a soprano with a beautiful voice, will assist in the program, which is to begin at 8:15 o'clock. Friends are invited. The program will be as follows: Study by Weigl, Nell Rader; May Showers, by Fink, Ralph Burgan; duet by Eleanor and Alvin Schuelke; Lark's Morning Song, by Fink, Roma Diehl; polka, by Vam Gael, Grace Tyger; "At Dawning," "Some Day, Sometime" and "From the Land of the Sky Blue Water," Miss Heckman; Dans les Champs, by Van Gael, Joe Folsom; Valse, by Gurlitt, Alma Harlan; waltz in D, by Poldini, Dorothy Rippe; Valse, by Godard, Velma Holt; Rondo Capriccioso, by Mendelssohn, Florence Henlins.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

Thurston's Farewell Appearance Tonight.

To tell the whole happenings of the two hours and a half performance of Thurston, the magician, the attraction at the Majestic again tonight, would be like telling a fairy story, as so many miracles are performed.

One is transported into the realms of magic and as the interesting program reveals itself, each trick seeming more wonderful than the preceding, you are oblivious of the time and only awaken by the regret that the curtain has fallen. You then rub your eyes, rise from your seat and leave the theater, wondering how it was all done.

Howe's Pictures on Friday and Saturday.

Gifted with that peculiar faculty of sensing exactly what is of absorbing interest, Lyman H. Howe's Travel Festival, which comes to the Majestic on Friday and Saturday, can always be relied upon for an evening of unalloyed pleasure for young and old. Besides pictorial pilgrimages of rare charm to Madeira, Italy, France, Holland, Switzerland, the Firth of Fourth bridge, Scotland, and to our own Glacier National park, the new program also includes some distinct novelties, such as the crystallization of different metals, and most amazing of all, a new demonstration of motion photography, showing the movements of animals so slowly that the eye can detect every detail which is impossible at the high speed at which these animals move normally. Thrills are also provided by a ride in an aeroplane above the clouds, the perils of ascent of perpendicular cliffs by fearless mountain climbers and the struggle of a torpedo boat through a raging sea.

AT KEITH PALACE

Another "Peachy" Act One of Several Features at Palace.

"The Earl and the Girls" another "peachy" act with a bunch of nifty young girls in the one act musical hit by Darl MacBoyle, will be presented at the New Palace as one of half a dozen features on the week end bill opening tomorrow afternoon. George Choos is presenting his clever little hit with Eddie Buzell, Peggy Parker, Charlotte Taylor and Loring Smith in the principal roles.

Al Herman, the singing comedian whose clever work at the Chicago Palace Music hall several weeks ago inspired a highly complimentary article in Variety, also is on this bill. James Grady and company will present the comedy dramatic sketch, "The Toll Bridge," and other acts on this bill are Newhoff and Phelps, in the skit, "In Care of General Delivery"; Josephine Lenhardt, the vest pocket edition of Irene Franklin; and Will and Kemp, the amusing and amazing equilibrists.

The current bill featured by the musical comedy tabloid, The Junior Follies, will close this evening. Boyle Woolfolk's juvenile entertainers have proved one of the most delightful bunches of entertainers Fort Wayne has enjoyed in a long time. On this same program are the Three Falcons in a sensational aerial act and Miss Lillian Watson, the dainty little singing comedienne.

AT THE ORPHEUM.

"LURE OF HEART'S DESIRE."

Edmund Breeze and Brilliant Cast in Drama Screened at Orpheum.

Robert Service's great poem, "The Spell of the Yukon," makes admirable material for a photoplay, and the Metro corporation in producing it, afford us one of the most virilely interesting releases in quite some time. The story provides two sharply contrasted settings, one of them New York's celebrated Great White Way and the other the great silent wastes of the Alaskan Klondike region. Many of the scenes are devoted to showing how New York cuts its New Year's eve capers, and the cameraman has secured any number of highly diverting views showing the famous Murray's cafe at the height of the revelry, with staid business men cavorting like unleashed colts, Ethiopian orchestras swaying the merrymakers to barbaric dance music, while on a dias in the center, Gotham's niftiest society dancers flash with dizzying speed through the intricacies of terpsichore's latest whim.

Edmund Breeze has the assistance of a large and capable cast in "The Lure of Heart's Desire," and gives a brilliant performance. Arthur Hoops is a perfect villian, while Jeanette Horton makes a most delightful heroine.

AT THE JEFFERSON.

TENNESSEE'S PARDNER

A Fine Picture and Beautiful Star at Jefferson.

The one great advantage of the motion picture is that the productions that are shown in the great cities of the country are the same that are shown in our home town, as there are no number two companies. That is why you will always find an excellent show at the Jefferson and it is not a puzzle as that house shows first run pictures and only the cream selected from the leading producers of the world. That is why Jefferson standard has a meaning. The current attraction, "Tennessee's Pardner," is no exception. The beautiful American actress, Fannie Ward, is the star, and she is the same star who became famous over night by her remarkable performance of the wife in "The Cheat," which has been the topic of conversation ever since it was shown some time ago. As Tennessee, she has an entirely different role than she has heretofore appeared in; that of a sixteen year old girl just out of a convent and with no knowledge of the world. She has for years lived in anticipation of seeing her "Daddy," whom she has never seen. She arrives at the little town full of hopes, only to learn that he has been dead for years, and here is where the artistry of this little woman comes into play. Her acting is superb. Pathos, sorrow and disappointment are depicted with rare intelligence in this one scene, which stamps her as one of the foremost emotional actresses of the day. The last showing with Pathe News is today. Tomorrow comes Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Castle in "The Whirl of Life."

AT THE LYRIC.

Last Opportunity to See "The Missing Links" With Keystone Comedy.

Tonight offers the last chance to see the initial Triangle program at the Lyric, headed by "The Missing Links," featuring Miss Norma Talmadge and Robert Herron, with "Because He Loved Her So," a Keystone comedy, with Sam Bernard as an added feature.

"The Missing Links" is a powerful drama, the scene of action being laid in a small country town, with an interest compelling story, capably acted by the large company of players, headed by Miss Talmadge. This picture was produced by D. W. Griffith, of "Birth of a Nation" fame.

To say that the comedy, "Because He Lived Her So," is a Keystone, tells the whole story. The brand Keystone has come to mean only the best and funniest of comedies, and this is no exception.

Bidwell and Rice, the operatic singers, who opened at the Lyric Monday, have delighted every audience to which they have sung, and are adding to their friends at every performance. This is without exception one of the finest singing acts ever offered the audiences of a photo play theater, or any other. Their offering for today will consist of the old ballad, "Alice, Where Art Thou?" and "Somewhere a Voice is Calling." Mrs. Malay at the organ is doing her usual brilliant work, and as one of the patrons of the Lyric put it, "Her playing is well worth the price of admission to the Lyric alone."

THURSTON SHOWS MARVELOUS SKILL

Big Audience Delights in Wizardry of Noted Conjuror.

Merely judging from applause given might convey the idea that the big audience at the Majestic theater on Tuesday evening to see Thurston, the magician, did not think they were seeing much. But that was not the case. The audience saw so much that they forget to stir their hands and one trick followed another so fast that some people missed a lot. One can't stop to watch the liberated pigeons walking around in one corner of the stage or think what a pretty girl about one of the magician's attendants, because Mr. Thurston is doing something all the time while his agreeable personality, his softly modulated voice and his cheerful smile are as much of a continuous delight as are his deft hands and his wonderful tricks. Mr. Thurston's program is a long one and is presented in three parts. Of the most daring and mystifying ones in the first part are the levitation of the young girl, the Princess Karnac. The suspending of the girl in the air after a supposed hypnotizing of her, has been explained by a few people who think they know something about a concealed spring of peculiar shape, but they never tell what becomes of the spring or where it is, so it is far easier to believe in Mr. Thurston's power to levitate the girl for the illusion is one of the most daring as well as difficult "tricks" that Mr. Thurston, or Hermann, or Keller or any East Indian sorcerer has ever worked out and accomplished. It is just as interesting the third or fourth time it is seen as the first, and just as mystifying. A trick that was especially clever was the exchanging of the heads of a duck and a rooster. There actually walked off the stage a rooster with a duck's head and a duck waddled off with the head of a rooster on it. Of course there were many little tricks that kept the audience in a great laugh all of the time and small boys and several young men from the audience went upon the stage somewhat as if they were hypnotized, to let Mr. Thurston use them. The little boy and girl in the egg trick were very cunning and the trick was not only awfully funny but very pretty to watch. Mr. Thurston explains to the aids he gets from the audience just what to do and there is no reason for anyone to feel the least embarrassed while on the stage. Certainly Mr. Thurston is kindness itself. Anyway that is what the boy who got a rabbit to take home thought. There were many cabinet tricks as daring as ever, while the young lady who in some way got from a trunk into a glass case of water, from which she emerged dripping wet, did so before the eyes of the audience, though no one saw her and of course everybody thinks there were two girls looking just alike. However, ask Mr. Thurston about that. The people who know "how it was done" are always present but they can't pull rabbits, ducks and geese from either their own backs or from someone's else back, tricks which the great magician Thurston doesn't call his big acts at all. The phantom piano, the haunted screen, the Bangkok bungalow, the lady and the box and the big triple mystery were of the latter part of the wonderful program. Here's hoping that the audience tonight will express some sort of an appreciation of the program and the magician at the close of the entertainment.

Howard L. Manley has leased the room at 711 Clinton street from John H. Bass and will open a restaurant in the near future.

BIG KEY NOW HAS A NEW CUSTODIAN

Park Board Passes Valve Wrench of Delta Lake to Strodel.

Possession of the key to the valve that stands between Delta lake and the Maumee river was formally passed from the park board to Street and Sewer Superintendent Herman Strodel Wednesday morning, and that municipal functionary hereafter will exercise custodianship of the wrench. The transfer was without ceremony and more official than actual, for the key is twelve feet in length, a couple of inches in diameter and weighs about 150 pounds. With the passing of the key passes also control of the water in Delta lake and the lagoon of Lakeide park and hereafter the department of public works will exercise complete authority over everything that has to do with drainage in Lakeside and Forest park additions. The drainage of Delta Lake is proceeding and it is expected the water will be lowered to a nine-foot level by Thursday noon. At 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, after having been open for forty-eight hours, the waste pipe was running a stream a foot deep from the lake. The ice has broken up and for the present skating in Lakeside is over. Reducing the level of the lake and lagoons to a nine-foot stage will not greatly diminish the skating area.

MEETING OF CITY COUNCIL

Annual Report of City Comptroller Shows Financial Condition.

That the city's financial condition need not be viewed with alarm was shown in the city council Tuesday evening when Comptroller W. C. Baade's annual report was submitted to that body. The exhibit shows that in the general fund there is a balance of $79,928.62, an increase of $1,489.59 over last year's balance in the annual report. In the special funds there is a balance of $284,766.75, against which there are unredeemed warrants of $26,320.05 and the park funds on hand are $13,042.10. The total cash of the city on hand Jan. 1, 1915, was $325,010.99. The total receipts for the general fund were $457,963.70. The total appropriations pro- 000. The comptroller cites a loss of $3,600 to the city because a dozen saloons went out of business. The comptroller's report was referred to the committee on finance.

To the committee on finance the council referred an ordinance appropriating $300 to the police station account for the purchase of additional "dummy policemen" for the regulation of traffic at street intersections and to purchase and install a number of "no parking" signs on the streets down town. The council referred to the committee on contracts and franchises an ordinance approving a contract made by the board of works for the purchase of iron pipe for the waterworks department and passed a measure authorizing the same board to sell an accumulation of junk in the street cleaning department.

BULLETIN.

London, Feb. 9.—Two German seaplanes raided the coast of Kent today, dropping several bombs. No casualties have been reported.

WILL HAVE TO USE DYNAMITE.

The Moellering Construction company which has begun the work of repairing the wash-out and bridge approach at the east end of the Spy Run bridge in Lawton park, destroyed by the freshet of three weeks ago, will have to employ dynamite to break up the huge concrete slabs that constituted the piers of the wooden approach. These piers fell flat in the bed off the stream and are diverting the current in such a fashion as to cause the stream to eat farther into the embankment. Dynamite is the most practicable means of breaking them up so they can be removed. They weigh many tons.

ASKS PARENTS TO REPORT.

Dr. J. H. Gilpin, secretary of the board of health, in his campaign to compel stricter observance of the law requiring attending physicians to report births within three days after they occur, is repeating his request to parents of newborn infants to report to the health office if within a reasonable time they fail to see a notice of their latest arrival in the list of natal statistics in the newspapers of the city. The department is reluctant to begin action against physicians for their delinquencies in this respect, but will do so in the cases of some of the more persistent violators of the law.

Lincoln's birthday will be observed in the schools of the city and county on Friday, as no school is held on Saturday.

BOWLING | BASKETBALL | BOXING | BASEBALL

MANSFIELD FALLS BEFORE ST. PAULS

Ohio Speed Demons Aren't in the Running With Local Germans.

St. Paul's Walther leaguers proved themselves too rapid by far for the Mansfield world beaters, and the local boys copped last night's go by a score of 50 and 16. Mansfield always has been considered one of the strong teams of the middle west and the manner in which the local boys ran around them certainly is a big credit mark in favor of St. Paul's.

The old Friar lineup worked for the first time under the Walther league banner last evening, and put up a brand of ball rarely witnessed in these parts. Referee Louis Island was on the job pretty consistently, watching for rough stuff, but was forced to call but a few fouls.

After the first five minutes of play the visitors began to lag, and by the end of the first half it was evident to the most inexperienced observer that the Mansfieldians were hopelessly outclassed. Stroup, Gerberding and MacMurray all put up great offensive games, while in his short time in play Benz put up a classy brand of stuff. Diedrich and Kennedy got tired playing the defensive game now and then, and each of them is credited with a couple of field goals as the result. The lineups and scores:

St. Paul's, 50—Stroup, R. F.; Gerberding-Benz, L. F.; MacMurray, C.; Dietrich, R. G.; Kennedy, L. G.

Mansfield, 16—Miller, R. F.; Leuthner, L. F.; Hughes. C.; Pecht, R. G.; Wilcox, L. G.

Field goals—Stroup, 8; Gerberding, 4; MacMurray, 6; Dietrich, 2; Kennedy, 2; Leuthner, 3; Hughes, 3.

Foul goals—Gerberding, 6; Miller, 1; Leuthner, 3.

Referee—Island.

LYCEUM FEDS TO MEET ZANESVILLE

The Lyceum Feds take on the overwhelming Zanesville giants next Friday evening at the Lyceum gym at Butler and Harrison streets. It will be a great game for both teams put up a brand of basketball that makes the fans sit up and take notice. It has been the contention of many local fans that Zanesville would not allow itself to be beaten by any local team. There is just as strong a belief that the Lyceum Feds cannot be beaten on their own floor, no matter what team comes to play them. So the going Friday night will be interesting to the lovers of speedy sport.

ALL SET FOR THE MEETING OF SHOP LEAGUE BOOSTERS THIS EVENING

With officials of various industrial institutions promising their aid in the formation of an industrial baseball league, with several of Fort Wayne's civic bodies actively interested, with the city government proffering its assistance, and with thousands of fans all over the city prepared to get behind and boost, Fort Wayne can have and will have an industrial league that will make a high mark in the history of Fort Wayne's sport. To this end a meeting of persons interested has been called at The Sentinel office at 7:45 this evening to form a temporary organization that will develop into a league representing the baseball enthusiasts of six or eight shops and manufactories.

Indications point to an enthusiastic meeting tonight, and there may be even more shops represented than can gain admittance to the league. In case this is the case it will be necessary to pick from the list those teams which early in the organization hold promise of enthusiasm and pep and ability.

The meeting tonight will result in a general discussion and the presentation of ideas by the representatives of various interests involved, in the naming of temporary officers to handle the preliminary work, and the appointment of several committees to investigate matters that will have to be looked into before the final organization can be completed.

It is hoped by those instrumental in stirring up the interest in the proposed organization that all teams desiring admittance to the league will have representatives at tonight's meeting.

NEW DRAFT SYSTEM IS AGAIN UP TO MAJORS

Ebbets Once More Presses Plan in Recruiting from Majors.

New York, Feb. 9.—A resolution introduced by President Ebbets, of Brooklyn, limiting the number of 25 cent bleacher seats at the grounds of any club to 2,000 and several other propositions not reached at yesterday's session were before the annual meeting of the National league today. Mr. Ebbetts' innovation, if adopted, would have a severe effect upon several clubs. At present there are 10,000 25 cent seats in Boston, 9,000 in St. Louis, 6,500 in Philadelphia and 4,000 in Cincinnati. Representatives of some of the western clubs expect to oppose the measure on the ground that it would deprive them of considerable revenue.

Mr. Ebbets also has a resolution to adopt a new system of drafting minor league players. This measure was defeated two seasons ago. The question of the regulation and distribution of passes was left unfinished at yesterday's meeting.

The most important action taken at the opening session was the investment of President John K. Tener with absolute authority to decide disputes over protested games. The members today were unanimous in the belief that this change would do away with the complications arising under the old system, which gave the clubs the privilege of appeal from the president's decision to the board of directors.

The members exchanged congratulations today over the adoption of a playing schedule that contained only three conflicts. The league race will start officially April 12 with New York playing in Philadelphia, Boston at Brooklyn, Chicago at Cincinnati and Pittsburg at St. Louis. As in the past each club will play three home series, closing the season in the east Oct. 5 and in the west Oct. 1. The league will celebrate the fortieth anniversary of its organization with a dinner here tonight, which will be attended by about 250 guests.

DAYTON CADETS HERE FOR PAIR OF GAMES

The Dayton Cadets, who meet the St. Mary's five Sunday afternoon and St. Paul's Monday night, already has started on its trip, which is to include Fort Wayne. For the past few days the team has been playing central and southern Ohio cities, and will show in Evansville tomorrow. Then it will come up state, and after leaving here go back through northwestern Ohio. Sollenberger, the star center, will be the only one of the famous lineup not to show in Fort Wayne, but Bill Varley has been shoved in his place, and Varley is one of the best bets of Ohio state.

MOVIES OF SELF TEACH GIBBONS.

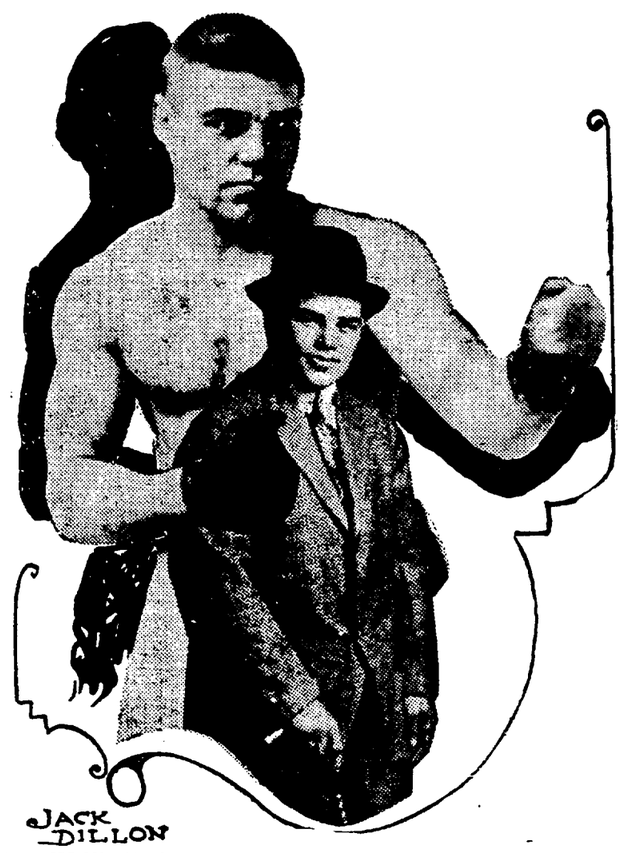
Some folk think Mike Gibbons, the St. Paul phantom, knows about all there is to know about the boxing game, but he doesn't think so. He is ever on the watch for a chance to learn more.

Movies of Mike in his one-round knockout of Young Ahearn are being shown in St. Paul, and Mike has seen them a dozen times. He goes to study his movements in the ring and see if he has any faults.

Mike says seeing movies of himself in action has taught him things about himself that he had never noticed in his years of boxing and gym work.

Fort Wayne lodge No. 200, Loyal Order of Moose, will initiate a class of 300 candidates Tuesday evening, Feb. 29.

DILLON, A DEMON IN THE RING, SAYS PRAYER BEFORE BATTLES.



JACK DILLON, THE HOOSIER BEARCAT, IN STREET CLOTHES AND FIGHTING POSE.

That old familiar lay entitled, "He hasn't a thing but his glove and a prayer," has been associated with baseball since the old days. Should Jack Dillon, or, to be exact, Ernest Cutler Price, the bristling, pompadoured, bone-crushing middleweight of Indianapolis, be given a chance at Jess Willard, the saying will be transferred to the ring and Dillon will wheel into action with "his gloves and a prayer."

The prayer will be offered with truly devout blessing. Jack has said a prayer in his corner prior to every ring battle in which he has engaged. Once he has said his prayer and the gong rings, "Let-er-Go" Dillon is transformed into a fighting demon, possessed of unlimited courage and a terrific "kick" in his right mauler.

Tom Jones, manager of Willard, says Dillon is the greatest man of his inches since the days of Stanley Ketchell.

Standing 5 feet 8 inches and scaling 170 on the hoof, the Hoosier bearcat believes he can whip Willard.

"My best punch is as old as the hills," Jack says, expecting on the kayo wallops that have ended many encounters. "They used it in the old London ring rule days, a common, ordinary righthand swing, delivered from well back of the shoulder. Once it lands flush and the other fellow hears the bugles blowing taps."

Dillon's willingness to tackle Willard, who weighs nearly fifty pounds more, is a sample of his nerve. He'll fight any man in the world, regardless of size or weight.

Dillon used to be able to find men of his weight who were willing to meet him, but he disposed of most of them and now he seldom gets a match with a man near his size.

The Indianapolis man can cut the big fellows down to his size. When offered a match with the giant Willard he signed for $10,000 as his share and was willing that Willard should get $35,000 or $50,000, or whatever the promoters wanted to give him. Dillon said the thing he wanted most was a chance at the title.

WILLARD 50 POUNDS OVER MORAN'S WEIGHT

And is Six Inches Taller Than the Man He Will Face in New York.

Jess Willard, heavyweight champion, will weigh about fifty pounds more than Frank Moran when they meet in New York March 5 for the first bout Willard has had since he beat Jack Johnson for the title nearly a year ago.

When Willard met Johnson he weighed 250. Moran weighs 203. Jess weighs in the neighborhood of 275, but is flabby and will not have much trouble getting down to about 250 by time for the bout.

The champion is six inches taller than Moran, measuring 6 feet 7 inches. Despite the advantage in height he has the edge in reach. Jess has a spread of 83¼ inches, which is five inches greater than that of Moran. At that rate Willard should be able to hold the Irishman off so that Moran's swing would miss their mark.

Willard's reach has served him well in all his matches. He has never met a fighter of any importance at all who equaled him in reach.

Moran says he is not going to jump to hit Willard about the head, but will play for his middle section. He has a hunch that by attacking Jess in the midriff he can cut him down to his size, and besides, claims Jess is weak in the bread basket.

Johnson played on Willard's stomach, but was unable to bother him much. In the bargain, Jess knows most of the men he meets are going to play for his bread basket and he has built up a defense for that kind of attack.

REVISING TURF CODE.

Radical Changes Before National Trotting Association.

New York, Feb. 9.—A radical revision of the turf code in accordance with the recommendations of the rules committee is the principal business before the National Trotting association today by its biennial congress. The rules committee was in session all day yesterday and continued its labor this morning before the congress was called to order.

ASKS FOR OFFICIAL RECORD.

Ted Meredith Seeks Recognition for His 500-Yard Race.

New York, Feb. 9.—On the strength of his time of 59 4-5 seconds made in the 500-yard race at the New York Athletic games here last night, Ted Meredith, the University of Pennsylvania runner, will apply to the amateur athletic union for the official record in that event. At present there is no record on the books for 500 yards indoors.

JEFF ASKED TO REFEREE BOUT

JAS. J. JEFFRIES

Jim Jeffries, former heavyweight champion, is being considered as referee for the bout in New York March 8 between Jess Willard and Frank Moran.

Tex Rickard, promoter of the bout, says a husky fellow will be needed to properly handle the big battlers. He figures Jeff has the size and strength and has been in enough bouts to know the duties of a referee.

If Jeff gets the job his appearance in the ring will be his first break into the limelight since he was beaten by Jack Johnson.

MEETING IN LOUISVILLE.

Plans for National Amateur Baseball League Go Forward.

Pittsburg, Feb. 9. Clayton C. Townes, Cleveland city councilman, and a leader in the movement to form a national amateur baseball league, announced yesterday that a meeting will be held in Louisville on Friday and Saturday of this week for the purpose of formally launching the national organization. Mr. Townes met several Pittsburg officials and urged that teams from here be represented in the proposed league.

MARCH 8 THE DATE.

The date of the Willard-Moran go in New York city was advanced to March 8 instead of 17, at a meeting held last night. A number of minor matters were taken up as well.

HOCKEY ISN'T THE PERFECT LADY-GAME ON THE WESTERN COAST.

Ed Carpenter, of Seattle, Another "Hard Man" on the Ice.

"Smoky" Harris, of Portland, One of the "Smashers."

(By Jack Jungmeyer, Staff Correspondent.)

Portland, Ore., Feb. 9.—Probably the bitterest feud in the sport world just now is that between the Portland and Seattle hockey teams.

Whenever these two aggregations clash malice takes its toll in one or more painful injuries upon the players.

A slashing sport to begin with, the western game has been "roughed" to a dangerous pitch by the leaders of the Oregon and Washington clubs.

Somehow or other these skaters had acquired the reputation of being hard men on the ice. The fans expected to see some rough work. The players had to live up to their accredited qualities.

And so the smashing of heads has become a pleasant pastime—pleasant to the smasher.

A dented head or slashed cheek, naturally, calls for retaliation in the next game. Thus it has gone from bad to worse.

Portland is leading the Pacific coast association by a good margin. This, too, rankles under the padded sweaters of the Seattle Metropolitans who, not so long ago, were champions of all America when they wore the Toronto letter.

Fines and temporary suspensions by the club managers have not served to curb the growing animosity, and fans are looking for some serious mishaps before the close of the season.

BOURBON ELEVATOR FIRE-THREATENED

Pennsy Engine Crew Called to Pull Cars from the Siding.

When fire was discovered in the corn drying room of the E. E. Delphi elevator at Bourbon at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, the Bourbon fire department enlisted the aid of the Pennsylvania company in moving a string of freight cars to a point of safety. Pennsylvania company employes were on the job within a couple of minutes after the first alarm, and had the fire gotten beyond the control of the fire department of the little town, would have been of great assistance in saving property.

The engine was run into the siding and the cars were ready to be coupled on. They were loaded with grain and had the blaze reached them the loss to them would have been very heavy.

The fire department managed to extinguish the blaze before it got beyond the corn drying room, and the loss is not heavy.

MUSKRAT IN SHOPS.

Big Fellow Got Into Store Room in Some Way and Created Excitement.

For several weeks back the employes of the Pennsylvania store room have noticed that bits of rubber hose, order blanks, and a variety of other kinds of stock were being chewed up by a nibbling animal. However, they never so much as got a glimpse of the offender.

H. J. Niezer doped it that mice were at work, and so with the aid of several other employes they set mouse traps about the place. But it was of no avail. Rat traps and poison merely wasted time and the nibbler continued its outrages.

Night before last Night Watchman Joe Weiss came out of the cellar like a Russian retreat. Over in the corner he had seen an animal crouching in the dark, and from where he turned around it bore a family resemblance to a grizzly bear.

So as soon as it was light enough to venture into the cellar this morning a posse headed by Charles Hardendorf surrounded the place and began to close in on a barrel in which the intruder was heard. They found him and killed him, one of the largest muskrats ever seen in these parts. How he had gotten there and the story of his journey so far inland is a mystery which probably will go forever unsolved.

Balhagan, Nickel Plate dispatcher at Conneaut, has been ordered to give up work and take an indefinite rest. Overwork is said to have been the cause of his collapse.

HARRY HILGEMANN FOR CONGRESS

(From Auburn Courier.)

"When the democrats of Allen county decided to present a candidate for congress to the party in this district, their choice of a favorite son fell on Harry H. Hilgemann; they knew their man. Mr. Hilgemann was closing his second term as prosecutor of the county. He was free from entanglements that usually weaken a candidate. He had no sore spots to heal. Genial in his disposition he counted his friends by the thousands. He has always responded to the call to colors when the party was in the midst of a campaign. He was eloquent on the stump, fearless in his official duties, and his character as a man and a citizen was beyond reproach. His friends knew that he would make an ideal candidate and a 'vote getter.'

"Harry Hilgemann goes before the democrats of this district with these credentials. Even those who for personal reasons do not look kindly on his candidacy for congress freely admit that he has proven himself to be a faithful, loyal and conscientious official, always true to the best interests of the people. He is free and clean-handed; he has not mortgaged the future with promises. The man to represent this district in congress is one who has 'made good' in the past. This is the class of men who come to the front. His friends court investigation of his character and his ability to fill the position he seeks."

TAXI MEN ADDING TO LONDON'S WOES

City Rises in Rebellion Against Insolence and Whistling.

London, Feb. 9.—The taxi shortage in London has caused the public to fill the mail bags of the local newspapers with complaints regarding the insolence of drivers and the whistling nuisance. During rush hours, especially during dinner and theater times, drivers often refuse to take fares unless they chance to be going in the direction the driver favors. This is due to the rule that drivers when not carrying passengers must pay for their own gasoline. A movement for a law to prevent the use of whistles to call taxis is suggested, but while putting down a nuisance, it would not help transportation facilities.

The real trouble is traced to the enlistment of competent drivers. Because of this, some of the taxi companies have temporarily retired from business. Scotland Yard has hindered the substitution of new drivers by a refusal to relax on the strict geographical examination of former days. Then, every candidate had to show an intimate knowledge of London's streets and by-ways. Many women could easily qualify on the mechanical side and show a fair general knowledge of London, if the rules were relaxed. Meantime, Londoners who used to look down on plebian modes of travel are taking to the undergrounds and the buses, which maintain excellent services notwithstanding the war.

Under the pressure of necessity, owing to its scarcity because of the war, platinum is being replaced in many electrical appliances.

Germany Sought Separate Peace With Japan, He Declares.

Tokio, Jan. 10.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press).—Confirmation of reports that Germany has been unsuccessfully trying to conclude a separate peace with Japan was made by Count Okuma, the premier, in an interview with a representative of the Kokumin Shimbun, on January 5. The premier believed this indicated that Germany was showing certain signs of suffering, chiefly as a result of the weaken condition of her finances.

While no details of the peace negotiations were made public, the premier said it was hardly necessary to announce that Japan would adhere to the London peace declaration by which she had agreed not to make a separate peace.

Criticism in some quarters has arisen because Japan's adhesion to the London peace declaration was undertaken by the government without consultation with the privy council, but in defending the government's action, Count Okuma declared it was a natural result of the declaration of war by Japan upon Germany.

"The fact," he said, "that the anti-Japanese sentiment in Canada, the United States, Australia and other countries has gradually subsided and is being replaced with a favorable sentiment towards Japan is due to our acts of loyalty to pledges."

At the same time the premier made the important announcement that Japan is about to obtain from Russia certain concessions in forestry, mining and other industries in the northern half of Saghalien island, which is owned by Russia. The southern half of this island was acquired by Japan at the conclusion of the Russo-Japanese war.

"Russia," said the premier, "is very grateful for the material and moral support extended to her by Japan since the outbreak of the war." He referred also to the forthcoming visit to Tokio of the Grand Duke George Michaelovitch, a cousin of the czar, as another indication of the growing friendship between Japan and Russia, which many people believe will grow into an alliance.

Count Okuma made a plea for a united Japan in this period of war and earnestly urged the political groups of the empire to cease their conflicts and come together in an effort to improve the welfare of their country. He declard that recent Japanese diplomacy had not been a failure as some of the government's enemies were insinuating.

Speaking of the relations with China, he pointed out that Baron Kato, the former foreign minister, was able to secure various concessions in Manchuria and Mongolia and to extend the railway and other concessions to 99 years "without moving a single soldier or manoeuvring a single warship" and he had done this "while conversing with Chinese officials with smiles on his face."

"Even if the present disturbances should spread throughout China," he continued, "our country need not mobilize troops there. If a portion of our fleet should take some action in the rivers, lakes, or along the coast of China it would be sufficient. In case of necessity we are prepared to undertake to protect Europeans and Americans as well as our own fellow countrymen."

Frank A. Emrick.

On the first day of January, 1916, F. A. Emrick assumed the duties of the office to which, for over a year, he had been elected. Just twelve years before he had ceased to be a member, as deputy, of the office of prosecuting attorney. When he entered upon the duties again, it was with over four years' experience, fortified by twelve more in active civil practice. Two years ago, when he was a candidate, he promised the people that he would appoint able young lawyers as his assistants. He has kept that promise, and so well have the affairs of the office been handled by the new force, that they have been commended by all persons regardless of party. They believe in an effective enforcement of the law, and expect to continue to command the respect of the public. The prosecuting attorney is elected for two years, and it has been customary to elect for two terms. Frank Emrick is a candidate for the office for his second term, and he again asks the people for a vote of confidence.—Advertisement.

NEW BAD CHECK DODGE.

'Phone Is Used to Aid in Passing Fraudulent Paper.

Columbus, Ind., Feb. 9.—Mead Shumway, a local druggist, heard the telephone bell ring and answered it.

"This is Lee Bassett," said a voice at the other end of the wire. "Will you cash a check for me if I send a man over with it?" It was after banking hours. Mr. Bassett is a business man and Mr. Shumway knows him well.

"Of course, I'll cash it," he said.

A few minutes later a colored man entered the drug store with a check. It was drawn on Irwin's bank here for $3 and bore the signature of Mr. Bassett. Mr. Shumway cashed the check without looking at the colored man. He found out the next day that the check was a forgery. The colored man disappeared.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

Mrs. Mary Roe, of Adams County, Laid to Rest Near Berne.

Berne, Ind., Feb. 9.—Mrs. Mary Roe, for many years a resident of Adams county, was buried this week from the Spring Hill church near this place, having been brought here from Vicksburg, Mich., where she had been spending the winter with a daughter, Mrs. Jude Harrison. Had Mrs. Roe survived until March 5 she would have been 103 years old. For one of her extreme age she had been in good health until a few days before her death, when a fatal illness seized her. She had spent her summers in this county and her winters in Vicksburg for the past several years. Only last November she went back to Vicksburg, making the long trip by automobile, without any ill results. She continued remarkably strong to the day of her death, and on the day that her demise occurred she had been sitting up two or three times. The deceased was the widow of Joel Roe. She leaves the following children: Mrs. Sarah Reynolds, of Decatur; Nathan Roe, Berne; Joel Roe, Pleasant Mills; Susan Calderwood, Upland; Michael Roe, Kalamazoo Mich.; Malinda Buckmaster, Monroe; Label Roe, Lagrange.

CHARLIE WARREN IN SKIRTS.

Lady Swindler Cleans Up Nappanee in Approved Fashion.

Warsaw, Ind., Feb. 9.—According to reports from Nappanee there is no trace of Mrs. George Gregier, the Elgin, Ill., woman who after bargaining for the purchase of the F. B. Coppes farm at $185 per acre, is declared to have swindled Jacob S. Walters, of the First National bank, out of $100 and the Newcomer jewelry store of two watches, one of which was the property of the late William Doering, of Goshen. The woman stopped all night at the home of Ed Ulrey and met many Nappanee people. She said her son was going to be married and would live on the farm. Nearly all the cut glass in the Newcomer store was set aside for wedding gifts. Mr. Walters, it is said, reasoned the acquisition would be a fine thing for Nappanee and accompanied her to the B. & O. station. The last seen of her was at Milford Junction. As a forfeit in connection with the farm purchase, which was drawn by Perry A. Early, a Nappanee lawyer, Mrs. Gregier deposited a $1,000 note. During the sojourn in Nappanee she met the Stryckers and others, gaining their confidence, it is said.

FORGER AT WORK IN NOBLE.

Columbia City, Ind., Feb. 9.—In the past four or five months four checks have been forged on Elmer Weaver, who lives over the line in Noble county, the last one coming to light recently. One of them was payable to Wm. Bonar, another to Jap Nobles, another to another party and the last one to Ralph Pressler, the 19 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Pressler, and it called for $8. The boy had not been in this city since last October until last Saturday, and the check had been issued before that time. Mr. Weaver is desirous of locating the individual who is signing his name to checks and passing them. He keeps his bank account at the First National bank in this city and the checks are passed to merchants in this city and then turned in at the bank. The largest amount called for by any of the checks was $15.

MOTHER SAVES BOY FROM DEATH

Huntington, Ind., Feb. 9. The six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Fisher, of Broadway, was seriously burned when his clothes caught fire from a heating stove. It is thought the boy had opened the stove door and was playing with the fire. Mrs. Fisher was in a sort of basement-kitchen doing her morning housework when she heard the boy scream. She rushed up stairs and found him enveloped in flames from his clothes. Mrs. Fisher grabbed covering from a bed and smothered the flames by wrapping it about the boy. She then threw the covers out of doors. A physician was called and he dressed the burns, which covered the right side of the face, the right arm, right side and part of the right leg, as well as the left forearm. Some of the burns were very deep.

BOYS MUST EARN FINES

Huntington, Ind., Feb. 9.—Three boys, charged with petit larceny, after the discovery that they had broken into various groceries in Huntington, were tried before Police Judge A. J. Rosebrough in city police court, and pleaded guilty to the charge.

The discovery of the guilt of the boys was due to their teachers, at William street school, overhearing a conversation about the stolen goods. When they were arraigned, the boys at once pleaded guilty, and after a severe lecture by the judge, were fined the lowest possible, $5 and costs. The fine will have to be paid or the boys go to jail. The docket was stayed by the boys' parents until the boys can earn enough money to pay the fines.

WELLS CENTENNIAL PLANS.

Bluffton, Ind., Feb. 9.—County Clerk Herman F. Lesh, recently appointed committeeman from Wells county to supervise plans for the celebration of the Indiana centennial, has called a meeting to be held at the city library at 8 o'clock next Friday evening, February 11th, for the purpose of discussing and devising plans for an observance by Wells county of the one hundredth anniversary of Indiana's admission to statehood. The counties throughout the state are adopting various methods of celebrating the centennial. Some will set aside special occasions for spectacular productions, while many are planning to set aside a particular day or days during fair or carnivals to be observed as Centennial day.

VAN WERT TO HAVE FORUM

Van Wert, Ohio, Feb. 9.—Plans are now going forward rapidly for the formation of the Van Wert public forum, the first step in which will be taken this evening, when a big meeting will be held at the high school auditorium for the purpose of organizing. As it is planned, the organization will be open to the public at large and there will be no dues or membership fees. Everyone from every class of society will have an opportunity to come to the meetings. It is hoped in this way that an expression of crystallized public sentiment may be obtained on a variety of public matters and that the organization may have a marked force in formation of public opinion and the action of officials.

MIXUP IN NAMES

Van Wert, Ohio, Feb. 9.—Probate Judge Koch has received a telegram from the probate judge of Hamilton county stating that George Miller, of near Convoy, was being held in the probate court in that county on a lunacy charge, and asking for information about him. It states that a brother, Willis Miller, lived near Convoy. Investigation proved that there was a mixup in the names and that the only Miller who answered the description was George Miller, of north of Dixon, whose brother Willis has been absent for several years. It is thought that it is this Willis Miller who is being held in Hamilton.

DIPHTHERIA AT WOLF LAKE.

Columbia City, Ind., Feb. 9.—A couple cases of diphtheria, near Wolf Lake, has given the people quite a scare around there. A McCormick girl, who was very ill, is said to be getting over it, and Mr. Rolly Weber, who has been very seriously ill with it, is now thought to be improving. Because of these cases so near Wolf Lake, the revival meetings which began a week ago, closed. The primary grade and the fifth and sixth grades in the school have been closed all week, and they will probably open Wednesday. Many are keeping their children out of school for fear of exposing them.

GRIP FATAL TO AGED MAN.

Auburn, Ind., Feb. 9.—Grip and pneumonia proved fatal to Elias J. Fisher, father of Mrs. Hiram Pooler, of North Indiana avenue, who came to Auburn a week ago Thursday to make his home with his daughter, and who was taken sick a few days after that. Mr. Fisher was in his 83rd year, having been born in Wayne county, Indiana, September 18, 1833. He has spent nearly all his life in the state of his birth. For the past three years Mr. Fisher made his home with his son, John, near Spencerville. He was a member of the Saints church, near Spencerville.

HARTFORD CITY INTERESTED

Hartford City, Feb. 9.—People in this city are greatly interested in the $10,000 damage suit filed in the Delaware circuit court by Thompson Huffman against William C. Racer, jr., of Albany. Racer has retained Attorney L. B. Simmons, of this city, to defend him. According to the defendant's attorney, the suit filed at Muncie is the outcome of the Huffman divorce case which is pending in the Blackford circuit court. The allegations made by Huffman in his suit against Racer are the same which appear in his cross complaint to the divorce actions.

TWO TAKEN TO PENAL FARM.

Decatur, Ind., Feb. 9.—Sheriff Ed Green left Tuesday for the state penal farm at Putnamsville, to which place he took John Coffee and Clarence Stevens, two men convicted of petit larceny yesterday. Coffee, as heretofore related, was convicted of stealing corn, and Stevens of the larceny of a machine belt, which he took from a separator standing on Madison street, near the Schafer building. He was caught by Night Policeman Reynolds while at the job. Coffee goes for ninety days and Stevens for six months.

ROANOKE'S BIG REVIVAL

Roanoke, Ind., Feb. 9.—Crowds that fill the Roanoke U. B. church to capacity continue to attend the revival services conducted by Evangelist Nelson. Seven conversions were made Saturday night, and three sermons were delivered Sunday. The evangelist has shown such power that the series of meetings have begun to resemble union services, members of other churches attending and assisting in accomplishing the object of the services. He has announced the meetings will continue another week.

BROTHERS ARE REUNITED.

Delphos, Ohio, Feb. 9.—After a separation of nearly a half century Frank Niedecken, of Rulo, Neb., and Ignatz Niedecken, of this city, met here Sunday afternoon. Frank Niedecken left Germany when he was 18 years old, leaving behind his brother, Ignatz, then 7, who came to America a number of years afterward. Though the brothers were located but a few states apart, they never met until the one came to Delphos Sunday afternoon to attend the wedding of his niece.

Auburn, Ind., Feb. 9.—Traffic standards of "silent cops" will be installed at the intersection of Main and Seventh, Main and Ninth, Seventh and Cedar and Ninth and Cedar streets within the next few days. Has Used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for 20 Years.

"Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been used in my household for the past twenty years. I began giving it to my children when they were small. As a quick relief for croup, whooping cough and ordinary colds, it has no equal. Being free from opium and other harmful drugs, I never felt afraid to give it to the children. I have recommended it to a large number of friends and neighbors, who have used it and speak highly of it," writes Mrs. Mary Minke, Shortsville, N. Y. Obtainable everywhere.—Advertisement.

A. G. BURRY SPEAKS.

A. G. Burry, president of the Fort Wayne Box company, addressed the students of the International Business college Tuesday at the regular weekly lecture by a local business man. He spoke on "Self Culture."

"A man having $100,000 was not always worth that sum, whereas, a man with much less is often worth more," he said. "Your worth depends in no small measure upon the self-culture you develop from now on."

Mr. Burry showed the imperative need and importance of intellect, health, morals, personality, responsibility, accuracy, persistency, etc., in the proper development of the individual. Good judgment and a strong will are also very essential, he said.

CONSTITUTION OF NATION OUTRAGED

Cruel and Unusual Punishment Inflicted by the City Court.

Thoughtful men may well pause to inquire, "Whither are we drifting?" when they behold sinister violations of the constitution of the land and a ruthless trampling under foot by the courts of its sacred guarantees of human rights and a reckless casting off from the ancient and secure moorings of the republic. Dark foreboding filled the minds and disquieting fear brooded in the bosoms of those who sat in the city court of Fort Wayne, Wednesday morning, and were made pained witnesses of an assault on the organic law of the country by Judge H. Waveland Kerr, who without misgiving and without mercy flouted the American constitution by inflicting cruel and unusual punishment.

Frank Prill was sentenced to take a bath.

To those who do not know the worthy Mr. Prill this may not appear in all its shocking and hideous inhumanity, but to such as may claim the happy chance of acquaintance with this venerable an upright citizen such a judgment will appeal as an outrage, perversion and mockery of justice.

Prill was arrested and arraign on a charge of trespass sworn to by Mrs. Ida Guebard, mistress of a boarding house at 230 Baker street, who testified that the prisoner at the bar kept himself and his room in such a state of indescribable filth that she could no longer tolerate him. She had fired him out and tried to bar his way when he sought to return, but he swept past her undismayed and unafraid and ensconced himself in his room. Then Mrs. Guebard got out a warrant. In her testimony Mrs. Guebard averred her belief and conviction that Prill had not had a bath since he was washed at birth and piled Ossa upon Pelion by declaring that he was altogether the most populous individual he had ever seen, heard of or imagined.

On the stand in his own defense Prill said he did sometimes take a bath and had been known to change his clothing. In a half-hearted way he denied the allegation that he harbored vermin. Then Judge Kerr, sitting within a foot of him, took note of an animated procession down the lapel of the prisoner's coat. The court shied off another half yard and told Prill there was no denying material evidence. Then came the cruel judgment.

"If you don't clean up I will send you to jail to be renovated," said the court. "You have got to do it. You're awful. I can see 'em now running around all over you. There are three having a race on your collar. If you don't get a bath and clean clothing down to jail you go and I'll see that there's plenty of water, soap, concentrated lye, carbolic acid, formaldehyde to get you clean, wholesome, sanitary and no longer a menace to public health."

Prill said he would do what he could and his employer stepped forward to say that he had been trying to get Prill to take a bath and put on clean clothes and had failed, but would try again. Then Prill went out to brave an ordeal that may be the death of him and a court attache got the fumigating squirt-gun and took proper measures in the court room.

Stewart Case Is Tried.

George "Coon" Stewart, horse dealer, was tried Wednesday morning on a charge of assault and battery on Henry Williams, another horseman. The assault followed a dispute at the Sauers feed barn on Barr street, January 17 when Williams says Stewart struck him over the head with a shovel. Stewart pleaded not guilty and was defended by Attorney L. A. Todd. It is not denied that Stewart struck Williams, but the defendant did not testify and the inference is that he struck him with his fist and that Williams in falling bumped his head against a platform scale near by. The day following the assault Williams appeared at police headquarters to complain of Stewart and Chief of Police Lenz, finding the man seriously injured, ordered him taken to the Lutheran hospital. There Police Surgeon J. Frank Dinnen discovered that Williams had a fractured skull. Williams has been at the hospital even since, though for a few days has been able to get out. He was taken back to the hospital after the hearing in the city court. Judge Kerr took the case under advisement until Saturday and may bind Stewart over to the circuit court.

CANTRELL SENT TO PRISON.

Former "King of Ghouls" Convicted of Thefts in Michigan.

Detroit, Feb. 9.—Rufus W. Cantrell, "king of the ghouls," has been sentenced by Recorder William F. Connolly to a term of two years in Marquette prison. Cantrell, who was married here a few weeks ago, while conducting religious services in a mission, is alleged to have preached as a cloak for his thefts. Every time the "minister" made a special call he would leave with the money and silverware, it was testified. Eldridge Gowdy, Cantrell's accomplice, was also sentenced to two years in Marquette prison.

"OLD JOHN" GIVES SOME ADVICE IN MATTER OF PREPAREDNESS.

"Old John," Advocate of preparedness.

Portland, Ore., Feb. 9.—"Old John" patriarch and sachem of the Siletz Indians, is a stoical advocate of preparedness.

"In summer," he grunts, "must get ready for winter.

"Me, I buy overcoat last August because know him going to be dam cold winter. Now you see!" And he drew his tattered but serviceable coat about his shoulders.

Oregonians, who have long known "Old John," laughed when the grizzled Siletz prophet predicted for this winter the worst snows in years. But now that the severest weather the northwest has known in many seasons has swept southward as far almost as Mexico, they are recalling the patriarch's warnings.

ENTER FIGHT FOR LOWER POSTAGE

More Congressmen Giving Aid to 1c Drop Letter Rate Plan.

Washington, Feb. 9.—Enthusiasm is running high among members of congress for a reduction in the rate of postage on local delivery letters. Since the holiday recess many additional members have entered the fight. As a result several more bills have been introduced proposing a rate of one cent on all drop letters in one form or another.

In the house 44 different members have introduced bills proposing a reduction in the rate. Of this number 22 are democrats and 22 republicans. In the senate 2 democratic and six republican members have introduced bills, making the total number of bills introduced in the two houses 52. Observing that the bills are fathered by members of both parties, there can be no feeling of partisan legislation.

The business people of the country are much aroused over the possibility of getting some action in this session of congress. Members have been receiving hundreds of letters urging early action and at the same time pointing out how much more business the government would get should the rate be reduced to one cent. The argument is made that business is in a nervous condition and that the government can improve this situation by granting the proposed legislation at this time. Nearly two hundred national associations have passed resolutions indorsing the movement in addition to several thousand local organizations such as trade bodies, boards of trade, chambers of commerce, etc.

The postal committee of the house realizes the significance of the demands that are being made and has begun a series of hearings on the various bills, the first of which was held a few days ago. At this time not a single person appeared to speak against the proposition. Many convincing arguments were made on why the condition of the federal treasury should not be held as an excuse to delay action at this time.

No member of the committee is regarded as opposed to the proposition but some of them are inclined to want to force a change in the system of railway pay instead of recommending early legislation on drop letters. A few members entertain a fear that the proposed reduction in the rate might result in a slight loss in revenue. This view is opposed by the postal experts who insist that the increased volume of mail, which is bound to follow the reduction, will more than double, thereby taking care of any possible loss in revenue.

This argument is more or less borne out by the conditions in Canada. There they have had a one cent drop letter rate for several years. Sometime after the war broke out the government increased the rate one cent on this class of letters as a revenue producer. The deputy postmaster general of Canada a few days ago freely admitted that since the increase took place it has resulted in a marked falling off in the volume of business and the revenues.

During the past several months a marvelous increase has been reported in the receipts of the postal service. In November, last, the receipts increased nearly 14 per cent. over the corresponding month of the previous year, which, according to a statement issued by the postmaster general, is nearly 7 per cent. greater than the normal increase. During the subsequent months it is understood that the increase has been even greater.

The campaign for drop letter reform is both local and national. It is being directed by an organization known as the National One Cent Letter Postage association, with headquarters at Cleveland, Ohio. The directing heads of this organization, Charles William Burrows and George T. McIntosh, are well known retired successful business men of that city who have no axes to grind. They give their valuable time each day in conducting this nation wide campaign, and at a personal sacrifice.

Thin People Can Increase Weight

Thin men and women who would like to increase their weight with 10 or 15 pounds of healthy "stay there" fat should try eating a little Sargol with their meals for a while and note results. Here is a good test worth trying. First weigh yourself and measure yourself. Then take Sargol—one tablet with every meal—for two weeks. Then weigh and measure again. It isn't a question of how you look or feel or what your friends say and think. The scales and the tape measure will tell their own story, and many thin men and women we believe can easily add from five to eight pounds in the first fourteen days by following this simple direction. And best of all, the new flesh stays put.

Sargol does not of itself make fat, but mixing with your food, it aims to turn the fats, sugars and starches of what you have eaten, into rich, ripe fat producing nourishment for the tissues and blood—prepare it in an easily assimilated form which the blood can readily accept. Much of this nourishment now passes from your body as waste. But Sargol works to stop the waste and do it quickly and to make the fat producing contents of the very same meals you are eating now develop pounds and pounds of healthy flesh between your skin and bones. Sargol is safe, pleasant, efficient and inexpensive. Meyer Bros. Drug Co., Dreier Drug Co., D. & N. Pharmacy, The Family Drug Store and other leading druggists in this vicinity sell it in large boxes—forty tablets to a package—on a guarantee of weight increase or money back as found in each large box.—Advertisement.

DEMAND INCREASE FOR ALL.

Striking Glass Workers at Kokomo Refuse Company's Offer.

Kokomo, Ind., Feb. 9. The local plant of the Pittsburg Plate Glass company is still closed in every department, following the strike which began last Saturday. The company through the superintendent, W. J. Golightly, has issued notice that it is willing to give all men drawing 20 cents an hour or under an increase of ten per cent. in their wages. The men have announced that they will accept nothing but a flat increase of 5 cents an hour for employes in all departments except the castings hall. In that department the men did not go out; they receive the highest wages and, so far as known, they are not dissatisfied.

The plant has been picketed, and this morning when the castings hall men went to work they were met at the gates by pickets, who induced them to return to their homes. The police are on duty around the plant, and no disturbances occurred except when a potash burner became involved in a controversy with another employe this morning and was choked.

WHEEL TAKES A "JOY RIDE."

Leaves Machine and Disappears in Alley—Driver Not Injured.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 9.—A front wheel of an automobile belonging to Frank Callon, of the firm of Woolen & Callon, 24 South Alabama street, had a little "joy ride" all by itself in Massachusetts avenue, near Edison avenue, Friday afternoon.

Mr. Callon was driving the machine when the wheel started on its ride. The wheel ran up on the sidewalk, circled a telephone pole and disappeared in an alley.

In the meantime Mr. Callon was wondering whether there would be enough of him left for the doctors to find. The automobile bucked like a frisky broncho and began to show how many twists and turns it could make. Mr. Calhoun jammed on all the brakes and managed to bring his three-wheeled auto to a stop before any serious damage was done. He found the front axle broken off at the hub. Besides the broken axle, the fender and foot board of the machine were damaged.

Mr. Callon found the runaway wheel in the alley. It was not damaged. Mr. Callon escaped without injury.

DRINK HOT WATER BEFORE BREAKFAST

Says you really feel clean, sweet and fresh inside, and are seldom ill.

If you are accustomed to wake up with a coated tongue, foul breath or a dull, dizzy headache; or, if your meals sour and turn into gas and acids, you have a real surprise awaiting you.

Tomorrow morning, immediately upon arising, drink a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is intended to first neutralize and then wash out of your stomach, liver, kidneys and thirty feet of intestines all the indigestible waste, poisons, sour bile and toxins, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal.

Those subject to sick headaches, backache, bilious attacks, constipation or any form of stomach trouble, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store and begin enjoying this morning inside-bath. It is said that men and women who try this become enthusiastic and keep it up daily. It is a splendid health measure for it is more important to keep clean and pure on the inside than on the outside, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing disease, while the bowel pores do.

The principle of bathing inside is not new, as millions of people practice it. Just as hot water and soap cleanse, purify and freshen the skin, so hot water and a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Limestone phosphate is an inexpensive white powder and almost tasteless.—Advertisement.

HAD RHEUMATISM EVERY FALL AND WINTER

Mr. Frank E. Beck, formerly of 706 Riverside avenue, Fort Wayne, but now of R. R. No. 2, Auburn, Ind., says: "I would get an attack of rheumatism every fall that would lay me up for the winter. Four years ago I was under the doctor's care for five weeks without any help; my limbs were terribly swollen and my knees were stiff. I could only get about on crutches. Miller's True Herb Remedy was recommended very highly and I got a bottle. After I had the sixth dose taken the swelling and stiffness began to leave me and when I had the second bottle finished I was rid of Rheumatism. I had eczema for years and both diseases were cured with two bottles. I used many kinds of remedies for my troubles but Miller's True Herb Remedy is the only one I can recommend. I used this good medicine four years ago and the cure is holding good. My wife says it is the finest medicine for constipation she ever used."

It will cure any blood disease, also liver, stomach, bowels and kidney pains, dizziness, sick headache. For sale at all drug stores, 75c and $1.50 a bottle—The $1.50 bottle gives you a fifty days' treatment. Direct mail orders to

URGES ELIMINATION OF PETTY POLITICS

Judge Orbison Speaks Before Fort Wayne Real Estate Exchange.

Judge Charles J. Orbison, of Indianapolis, made a plea for the elimination of partisan politics in city affairs in his address before the Fort Wayne Real Estate exchange at its regular weekly meeting and luncheon at the Commercial club, Tuesday evening.

"I do not know what your government here is—that is who is in power—so I may speak freely," he said. "You must have a clean city government to maintain a city's progress. A city stands so long as there is respect for the law. I want to talk citizenship for a minute. I am not talking politics, understand. We are getting to the place where we must eliminate partisan politics. God speed the time when this will come about, and the running of our cities will be a business, and we will have men in power who will direct our most vital business as you would direct yours. That time will come when we will have such, and will have principles and not parties; when men will cease to worship a bird, animal or any other emblem."

Judge Orbison declared that nothing will go so far in holding a family together and building up a city as a home. "Above all things be a booster for your city," he said. "Don't be a knocker. My experience has been that the real estate men are boosters. Their business offers the greatest opportunity for boosting their city. If Fort Wayne has grown so fast that Evansville has been compelled to go down the river and take in a couple of little towns in order to keep her boast of the second city, it has been largely due to the Fort Wayne real estate men."

Urges Co-Operation.

The speaker urged co-operation. Every citizen must have the spirit of useful helpfulness. "I think we need to emphasize the old theory that 'honesty is the best policy,'" he continued. "It is not for the preacher and lawyer alone to be honest, but for every business man. It is up to the Fort Wayne Real Estate exchange to see that there are no dishonest men in this organization."

Four members were called upon to give five minute talks on Fort Wayne, and during the next two meetings each of the members will be called upon for like talks. The board will then choose the speaker to represent Fort Wayne in the five minute talks for the cup to be given at the national convention to be held at New Orleans in March.

NEW ARCHBISHIP IN CHARGE AT CHICAGO

Impressive Ceremonies at Indiction of Archbishop Mundelein.

Chicago, Feb. 9.—Most Rev. George W. Mundelein, D. D., was installed as the Roman Catholic archbishop of Chicago and metropolitan of the province of Illinois here today with elaborate ceremonies in Holy Name Cathedral. He is the third holder of the office, his predecessors having been Patrick A. Feehan, who died in 1902, and James E. Quigley, whose death occurred last summer. Most Rev. John Bonzano, apostolic delegate to Washington, officiated at the services.

Archbishop Mundelein arrived in Chicago yesterday from Brooklyn, escorted from the city by a delegation of seventy officials of the Chicago diocese.

This morning church societies escorted him from his residence to the cathedral, where he was met by Rt. Rev. M. J. Fitzsimmons, who has been administrator of the arch-diocese since Archbishop Quigley's death. Followed by bishops throughout the country, about fifty in all, and more than 800 Chicago clergymen, Father Mundelein was escorted to the sanctuary with officers of the pontifical mass. Kneeling before the altar the new archbishop heard prayers by Mgr. Fitzsimmons, and ascending to the altar gave his blessing and retired to the throne.

Addresses by the apostolic delegate and archbishop were followed by the bulls proclaiming the appointment of Father Mundelein as archbishop.

After solemn pontifical high mass, celebrated by Monsignor Bonzano, Archbishop Mundelein was vested with full pontificals and proceeding to the altar knelt before the apostolic delegate and took the oath of obedience to the holy see. Monsignor Bonzano cloaked him with the pallium, emblematic of his office of archbishop, closing the ceremony.

Archbishop Mundelein, who is 43 years old, is the youngest priest ever to be entrusted with an arch-diocese of the importance of Chicago. In 1907 he was selected as a member of the Ancient Academy of Arcadi—the only man in the United States upon whom this honor ever was conferred. He assumes, on behalf of the bishopric, the ownership of property worth approximately $50,000,000, and is ecclesiastical ruler of a Roman Catholic community of 1,400,000 people.

How Mr. Davis Got Rid of a Bad Cough

DO NOT SEEK TO COIN AGONY INTO PROFITS

E. A. Filene, of Boston, Defends American Business Men in War Attitude.

Washington, Feb. 9.—Addresses on "Commercial Relations Between the United States and China," by Dr. Wellington Koo, the Chinese minister; "Business View of Peace to Come," by Edward A. Filene, of Boston, a member of the executive committee of the international congress of the chamber of commerce, and "Work of the International High Commission," by Senator Fletcher, of Florida, held the attention of delegates at today's session of the annual convention of the chamber of commerce of the United States.

In presenting a partial survey of conditions expected to confront the United States at the end of the war Mr. Filene declared the chamber's recent referendum approving their proposal that the country take the initiative in the establishment of an international court to settle the disputes of nations, has effectively given the lie to the charge that the chief interest of American business men in the war is the chance it gives them to coin the agony of Europe into dividends, Mr. Filene said it was the clear duty of the United States and the states of South America to take steps to complete a Pan-American program which will include international arbitration with power behind it to enforce its operation.

59 INDICTMENTS IN NEUTRALITY CASES

San Francisco, Feb. 9.—Fifty-nine federal indictments—thirty-two charging violations of American neutrality directed against consular officials here, the Turkish consul general and steamship agents, and twenty-seven against immigration officials in connection with the attempted smuggling of eighty-six Chinese in the United States last November from the Pacific mail steamer Mongolia—were in the possession today of the United States district attorney's office. It was said they would be returned in open court tomorrow when arrests would follow.

The indictments against the German consular officials, who include Franz Boppe, the consul general, were voted yesterday by the federal grand jury as a result of the nation-wide investigation by the department of justice. The indictments are the first the government has attempted to gain against officials of any foreign power in connection with its efforts to curtail activities of persons engaged in the alleged plots. The indictments voted against immigration officials and steamship men followed a searching inquiry into reports that a wholesale traffic in contraband with aliens was being carried on.

United States District Attorney J. W Preston said that W. F. Boyce, assistant United States immigration commissioner; four immigration inspectors, W. H. Thornley, customs house broker; M. H Hunt, Robert Aul, J. J. Richars, W. J. Scott, officers of the Mongolia, as well as fifteen Chinese, were among those indicted.

While the indictments against the consul officials were not unexpected some surprise was manifested today over the large number of true bills, which indicated, it was said, that the government had completed the San Francisco investigation.

PERSIAN TRIBESMEN ROUT THE RUSSIANS

Berlin, Feb. 9.—Constantinople reports given out today by the Overseas News agency state that Russian forces in Persia have met with a severe defeat at the hands of Persian tribesmen and that they retreated in disorder.

The Persian forces, according to these advices, were under command of Haidar Bey. They attacked the Russians near Sandshulak, which was reconquered by the natives.

Advices were received from Constantinople today that anotheer group of British prisoners captured by the Turks in the fighting at Essin on the Tirgres below Kut-el-Amara had been taken to Mosul, in Assyria, 220 miles northwest of Bagdad. It is said the convoy consisted of 249 men out of a great number captured.

SERBS BEAT NIGHT ATTACK.

Corfu, Feb. 8.—(Via London, Feb. 9.)—A serbian official statement issued here today says that on February 2, during the retreat southward from Alesso of the Serbian troops, a night attack was delivered near the village of Bloma on the pursuing Austro-Hungarian forces, who were aided by armed Albanian bands and that the latter were put to flight after many had been killed and a hundred prisoners were taken, mostly Hungarians.

SAYS BIG PACKERS CONTROL MARKETS

Wichita, Kan., Feb. 9.—Big packing houses are behind powerful interests which are manipulating the livestock market of the country, is the belief expressed by Gov. Capper in an address before the Kansas Livestock association here today. "We know the packers control stock yards and their terminal facilities," said Gov. Capper, "and there is no doubt in my mind that the livestock markets are controlled by factors other than supply and demand."

Remedies for prevailing conditions, he said, are organizations and co-operation.

Eight Were Lost Overboard From Scow at Puget Sound.

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 9.—The eight four-inch naval guns lost overboard from a scow while en route from the Puget Sound navy yard to Seattle last week have been recovered, it was announced here today. Each of the guns weigh 22 tons and the four are valued at $60,000. The guns, which were removed from the armored cruiser Colorado, are to be sent to the naval arsenal at Washington for reboring.

CHEAP FURS NOT TO BLAME FOR ANTHRAX

New York Health Commissioner Gives Denial to Recent Rumor.

New York, Feb. 9.—A belief which gained considerable currency here early in the winter—that the comparatively rare disease known as anthrax is spread by wearing cheap furs—is contradicted by Health Commissioner Emerson in a statement published today. Dr. Emerson says that his department has record of only nine deaths from anthrax in 1915, and that in every case the cause of the disease was unknown. The nine victims followed these occupations: Lawyer, candy maker, medical student, government weigher, laborer (two cases), shoemaker, no occupation (two cases).

"If cat fur is such a dangerous source of infection," says Dr. Emerson, "it is a miracle that the death rate among those employed at Barrien island in preparing the large consignments of cat fur is not much greater than the total number of anthrax cases alleged to have been discovered in New York city by the representatives of the state labor department. As a matter of fact among those most closely associated with cats and cat fur no cases of anthrax have developed."

JEWELRY WORKERS STRIKE.

New York, Feb. 9.—A general strike of the jewelry workers in New York city was called at a meeting early today, attended by more than 1,000 members of the union. The jewelrs demand an eight-hour day. They are all highly paid workmen, some of them, the diamond setters, earning as high as $100 a week in busy periods, and the question of pay does not enter into the present trouble.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, Feb. 9.—Wheat gathered fresh strength today, notwithstanding that at first some uncertainty was shown. After opening ⅛@⅝c off to ¼c up, with May at $1.29¾ to $1.30¼ and July at $1.22⅞ to $1.23⅛, the market sagged a little and then scored a moderate general advance.

The close was steady but 2¼c to 2½c net lower, with May at $1.27¾@1.28 and July at $1.20⅝.

Seaboard demand lifted corn. Opening prices, which ranged from ⅛@¼c to ⅝c higher, were followed by further upturns.

The close was heavy at ¾@⅞c net decline.

Provisions advanced with hogs.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Feb. 9.—Washington advices that the Lusitanian case had been virtually settled, with bullish news regarding the steel and copper industries, caused a cheerful feeling in financial circles here before the opening of the stock market and prices at the start were substantially higher, with many stocks up to one to two points. Canadian Pacific and New York Central were the strongest features of the railroad list and scored gains of 1¼ each. American Car and Foundry, U. S. Alcohol, Crucible Steel and Beet Sugar and the coppers led the industrial division upward.

Stocks were offered on the advance and this together with sudden heaviness in the more speculative issues, notably Industrial Alcohol Cuban-American Sugar and Texas company, resulted in general recessions. U. S. Steel fell off a substantial fraction and Crucible Steel, Mexican Petroleum as well as Baltimore and Ohio and Rock Island were under yesterday's close. Dealings dwindled to slender proportions in the second hour and irregular tendencies were again manifested at midday. Bonds were steady.

Activity was resumed in the last hour, average prices then being at their highest. The closing was strong.

The temperature has risen quite generally to the eastward of the Mississippi, and in connection with a high area central in the Dakotas, it has fallen in the upper Missouri valley and on the northeastern slope. The weather continues cold in northwestern sections, while in the south and Pacific states temperatures are above the seasonal average. Since yesterday morning precipitation has occurred in the north Pacific states, northern Rocky mountain region, from the upper Mississippi valley eastward to the north Atlantic coast and over a narrow area from Arkansas eastward to the coast.

CONSIDERS PROHIBITION BILL.

Senate Committee Reaches No Decision —Amendment Proposed.

Washington, Feb. 9.—Senator Sheppard's national prohibition constitutional amendment was considered several hours by the senate judiciary committee, but no conclusion was reached. An amendment was proposed by Senator Dillingham to provide that whisky should not be shipped beyond the confines of any state which permits its manufacture.

Such a proposal would only need a majority vote in the congress and would not require approval of three-fourths of the states as is the case with a constitutional amendment.

TELLS OF GAINING ENERGY AND LIFE

Edward Ryan Feels Fine in Mornings Since Using Tanlac.

Edward Ryan, a well known horse-trader, who lives at 219 East Jefferson street, this city, is one of the dozens of Fort Wayne friends of Tanlac, who praises the Master Medicine because of good they have gained through its use. He said:

"My system has been in a generally run down condition for a long time. I had stomach trouble, indigestion bothering me, and I was subject to headaches. During the last five years accumulation of gas on my stomach have bothered me and it seemed impossible for me to digest even the lightest foods. My eyes bothered me and sometimes I suffered from dizziness. I believe this was caused by stomach trouble. I was very restless at night.

"I feel a great deal stronger and I am filled with energy since taking Tanlac. I sleep well at night now and awaken in the mornings feeling refreshed. The formations of gas on my stomach have disappeared; the indigestion has been relieved, and for several days I have not suffered from headaches or spells of dizziness.

"Tanlac has done a world of good for me and I want to recommend it to the public."

Tanlac, the Master Medicine, is especially beneficial for stomach, liver and kidney trouble, catarrhal complaints, rheumatism, nervousness, sleeplessness and the like and is a fine blood purifier and system builder.

Tanlac is now being introduced in Fort Wayne at the Wayne and Calhoun streets store of the Meyer Drug Co., where the Tanlac Man is explaining the new remedy. It also may be obtained at the other Meyer stores, Calhoun and Columbia, 1420 Calhoun and Broadway and Taylor. Advertisement.

GERMANS RUSH 600,000 MORE MEN INTO FRANCE

Developments Bearing Out Forecast of Big Drive Planned in France.

Today's War News Given in Summary

New gains for the Germans in the region between Lens and Arras, not far south of the Belgian border, were announced today by Berlin which reports the capture of first line French positions along nearly a half mile front on the west of Vimy. The gains were made on ground over which the French advanced in the allied offensive of last September near Neuville, St. Vaast, in which the Germans late in January reported the storming of 1,500 yards of French positions.

In some quarters the recent German assaults in this quarter are regarded as primarily defensive operations designed to win back position which would give the entente forces an advantage in any forward movement they may attempt in the future. It has been persistently reported however, that the Germans were on the point of launching a determined offensive in Northern France and Belgium in which case the operations in the present area of activity would have an important bearing.

The latest advices concerning these supposed preparations came today from Amsterdam in the shape of a report that 600,000 men have been sent by the Germans to the Belgian frontier.

From the Balkans comes news indicating that there is no longer the former apparent unanimity of opinion that the Teutonic Allies are shortly to begin an advance on Saloniki. It is even declared in one official quarter that the Entente Allies are preparing to take the offensive.

Constantinople advices report setbacks for the Russians in their Caucasus campaign and in Persia. Persian tribesmen fighting against the Russian forces are unofficially reported to have inflicted a severe defeat near Sandshulak.

Petrograd, while not reporting on the Persian operations, declares that the engagements in the Caucasus have continued to result in advantage to the Russians.

Berlin, Feb. 9.—(Via London)—Capture of the first line French positions over a front of 800 yards to the west of Vimy was announced today by the war office.

AUTO FINALLY TAKEN FROM SPY RUN CREEK

The Ford automobile which went into a washout at the Lawton park bridge over Spy Run creek some weeks ago was brought to shore at 2:10 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, badly damaged as result of its long stay in the water. In dynamiting for the machine Wednesday morning a stone was hurled through one of the bedroom windows and out into the hall at the home of Edward A. Derheimer, 1530 Spy Run avenue. A broken window pane was the only damage done.

GRAND JURY HOLDS TIEPER FOR MURDER

Indictment at Buffalo Accuses Him of Slaying His Mother.

Buffalo, N. Y., Feb. 9.—An indictment charging John Edward Teiper with murder in the first degree was returned by the Erie county grand jury today. Teiper is charged with the slaying of his mother, Mrs. Agnes M. Teiper, who with his brother, Frederick C. Teiper, was killed on the Orchard park highway Sunday night, Jan. 30.

There were two counts in the indictment to both of which Teiper pleaded not guilty when arraigned. Application for bail was denied. The indictment charges that Mrs. Teiper was killed "with a revolver, a hammer, a blunt instrument and other instruments unknown to the grand jury. It is unlikely that Teiper will be tried at this term of court, it was said today, which means that it will not be called until some time in April. The condition of Grace J. Teiper, who was injured at the time her mother and brother were killed, showed improvement today, the hospital physicians said. She had a brief period of consciousness but said nothing that could throw any light upon the tragedy.

H. B. HUNT DIES IN LOS ANGELES

Former Fort Wayne Insurance Man Succumbs to Pneumonia.

Hoyt B. Hunt, formerly a well known Fort Wayne life insurance man, died at 10:30 o'clock Tuesday evening from pneumonia at his home in Los Angeles. He had been ill since the first of the year, and news of his death came in a telegram to Mrs. W. A. Jones, of West Wayne street, a longtime friend of the family.

Mr. Hunt was 62 years of age. He lived in this city about twenty years and was general agent of the Northwestern Life Insurance company, with offices on Calhoun street. He removed to Los Angeles in 1912, where a few weeks later his wife died. Later he was united in marriage to a Los Angeles woman. Mr. Hunt was a man of fine Christian character, and during his residence here was a member of Wayne Street M. E. church and a local preacher in that congregation. Prior to coming to Fort Wayne he had done mission work in the slums of Chicago. The Hunt home in this city was on West Wayne street near Fulton.

Myriad of Babies for Examination at Auburn

Auburn, Ind., Feb. 9.—Babies' health conferences in connection with the community institute, is in full blast here today with a large attendance of babies of all sizes and descriptions.

The attendance is so large that it was found necessary to limit the examination to each child from a half hour to fifteen minutes. After the examination the parents are instructed to the health needs of the child and if a physician is necessary are told to see their family doctor.

A successful effort is being made to have the fathers of the babies attend the conference as well as the mothers.

This is the second institute of its kind to be held in Indiana, the first being held at Butler last week.

J. J. Pettijohn, director of the extension division of Indiana university, spoke last night on "Community Promotion."

COL. D. N. FOSTER.

CHARLES M'CULLOCH.

ALBERT E. THOMAS.

THORNE RAPS MR. BRANDEIS

Assails Conduct of Supreme Court Nominee in Rail Rate Case.

Infidelity, Breach of Faith and Unprofessional Conduct Alleged.

Washington, Feb. 9.—Investigation of President Wilson's nomination of Louis D. Brandeis, of Boston, to the supreme court bench was begun today by a senate sub-committee which first heard Clifford Thorne, chairman of the Iowa board of railroad commissioners, who was associated with Mr. Brandeis in the fight against giving the eastern railroads increased freight rates. Mr. Thorne assailed the conduct of Mr. Brandeis in that case.

"I believe the nominee before this committee was guilty of infidelity, of breach of faith and of unprofessional conduct in one of the greatest cases in this generation," said he. Thorne charged that Brandeis as an attorney appearing for the shippers conceded that the rate return to the railroads was inadequate and that Brandeis in his opening oral argument conceded that the returns were inconsistent with the prosperity of the railroads.

Because of the widespread interest in the nomination the committee decided to hold public sessions. So far as known it is the first instance in which such a nomination has been inquired into except behind closed doors.

Mr. Thorne's Charges.

"At the outset two facts stand out, it appears to me," Mr. Thorne declared "In the first place I believe the nominee before this committee was guilty of infidelity, of breach of faith and of unprofessional conduct in one of the greatest cases of this generation.

"In the second place in open court while acting as special counsel, Mr Brandeis committed himself to the proposition that the net return of 7½ per cent above all expenses, all interest on debts, on capital stock of railroads was inadequate, or to use his own words 'negligible.' This had been held adequate by the commission in 1910."

Mr. Thorne said that in the 1913 case Mr. Brandeis had limited his activities to showing that railroads were entitled to more revenue, how shall it be secured.

Thorne Was Surprised.

When he first received a copy of Mr. Braudeis' brief Thorne said he was surprised to find nothing additional in it about adequacy of rates. He asked Brandeis what his position was and the latter responded he believed some of the roads were not earning enough money and he thought conditions were unsatisfactory in Ohio, Michigan and Indiana.

"With the opening of Mr. Brandeis' oral argument he made this statement," began Mr. Thorne, reading from the record: 'On the whole the net income and the net operating revenue in official classification territory are smaller than are consistent with their prosperity and the welfare of the public and conditions are bad in central territory.'

Then He Was Dumbfounded.

"I was simply dumbfounded by the statement," declared Thorne. "For four years the roads had been fighting to establish that before the interstate commerce commission. They had carried on a nation-wide propaganda in newspapers magazines, speeches and every conceivable manner. I am not saying dishonestly. I was dumbfounded to hear at the conclusion of this great case, involving $50,000,000 interest on a billion dollars if you adopt the stand of dollars and

The measures passed the house on Monday and now go to President Wilson for his approval.

THIS SEEMS TO FREE JAMES FROM ALL OF IT

Indianapolis, Feb. 9.—James LeRoy Hankins, of Wheaton, Ill., from whom Nellie S. Hankins obtained a divorce here last June, was released from all claims of any kind she might have against him yesterday in one of the most general releases ever filed in the county clerk's office. The release was received from Chicago. It reads:

"Know all men by these presents that I, Nellie S. Hankins, of Indianapolis, Ind., in consideration of $8 in hand paid, and other good and valuable considerations, receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, do hereby release, remise and forever discharge James L. Hankins, also known as James LeRoy Hankins, of Wheaton, Dupage county, Illinois, of and from all manner or actions, causes of actions, claims, debts, suits, contracts, judgments, covenants, accounts and demands whatsoever in law or equity, which I ever had, now have, or may hereafter acquire by reason of any cause or motive whatsoever, from the beginning of the world to the date of this instrument."

The instrument is dated Nov. 15, 1915. The $8 paid to Mrs. Hankins is said to have been the last of the alimony settlement between her and her husband.

MANY MEETINGS AT COMMERCIAL CLUB

The Commercial club was the busiest place in Fort Wayne Tuesday night, beyond any doubt. Meetings were in progress in every available corner of the big building and the electricians who were desirous of meeting there had to find quarters elsewhere. Among the meetings in progress at the same time were: Weekly luncheon of the Fort Wayne Real Estate exchange; smoker of the Fort Wayne Medical society; manufacturing committee of the Commercial club; jewelers and centennial committee.

NO NEW HITCH NOW EXPECTED

NEGOTIATIONS ARE GOING SMOOTHLY

"Recognizes Liability" Substituted for "Assumes Liability."

Washington, Feb. 9.—One of the changes in the Lusitania agreement suggested by Secretary Lansing to Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, is the substitution of the words "recognizes liability" for the words "assumes liability" which were employed in the tentative draft.

It is understood that upon this change and others described as minor, is based the expressed view of high officials that the two governments are "substantially in accord" although not wholly so. No new difficulty is expected here from the change of words. It is felt that Germany could not or would not assume a liability which she would not recognize. It is not believed here that the Berlin officials will hesitate to accept the suggestion.

It was not disclosed just when American officials determined that the recognition instead of the assumption of liability was more to be desired. The understanding based upon authentic information had been that the assumption of liability was contained in the tentative proposal which had embodied in it all the wording the United States desired and in which the German government substituted a phrase for the word "illegal."

From one quarter came the suggestion the word "recognizes" makes clearer the meaning the German government desires to convey. It has not been suggested it was said, that either the word illegal or legal be employed in the formal communication the understanding being that the Berlin officials are particularly undesirous of using either, at the same time wishing to have the viewpoints of the two governments concerned in harmony.

NO OFFICIAL INFORMATION.

Berlin, Feb. 9.—Berlin is still without official information from Washington regarding the reported good prospects for a settlement of the Lusitania case.

A Berlin dispatch in the Frankfurter Zeitung says experienced diplomats expect that even though Germany's latest proposal may not be accepted immediately it will not be rejected flatly as was thought possible last week. This it is said the way to counter proposals and eventual understandings is left open.

TWENTY CHURCHES AID HOPE HOSPITAL

Still Others Expected to Join Movement Within Short Time.

At a very enthusiastic meeting held Thursday evening at Hope hospital eighteen churches and two synagogues endorsed the movement which has been in progress for several months and signified their intention of joining the federation and signed the articles of agreement of the association.

The churches and synagogues which were represented Tuesday evening were Wayne Street, First, Trinity and St. Paul's M. E. churches, First and Third Presbyterian churches, Grace and Salem Reformed churches, B'Nai Jacob and Achduth Veshalom congregations, West Creighton Avenue Chure hof Christ, First and Crescent Avenue Evangelical, Plymouth Congregational, South Wayne Baptist, African M. E., Christ's and Trinity English Lutheran churches, Bowser Free Methodist and Church of God. Six or seven other churches will hold meetings this week at which time the question will be decided whether the churches will join the federation or not.

The old board will also hold a session some time this week at which time the by-laws of the present organization will be changed to conform with the new arrangement. As soon as this is accomplished another meeting of the new body of officials will be held at which time the organization will be perfected and officers chosen. Plans are to hold the meeting next week.

WILSON INVITED TO BRYAN'S HOME TOWN

Washington, Feb. 9.—President Wilson was invited today to speak on preparedness in Lincoln, Neb., by Senator Hitchcock and a Nebraska committee. The president said he would take the invitation under advisement but that he was not sure he would make another speaking trip. Lincoln is the home of former Secretary Bryan, the administration's leading opponent in the preparedness program.

Senator Hoke Smith and a large delegation from Atlanta asked the president to visit that city if he made a trip south. Senator Sheppard extended a similar invitation for Dallas, Tex.

OIL STOVE IN AUTO BUS FELLS TWELVE

St. Louis, Feb. 9.—Four persons were made unconscious from fumes of an oil stove and eight others were made ill today while making the trip in an automobile bus running from Gumber to Clayton, St. Louis county.

The driver, Chester Colver, fell from his seat unconsciouss and Fred Hackmann, a passenger, took Colver's place at the wheel. Before he could drive the car to Clayton three other passengers fell unconscious and eight more became ill.

The three unconscious passengers were given medical attention when the auto bus reached Clayton and they quickly revived. Colver, however, was not revived for thirty minutes. The body of the bus is completely enclosed and the vehicle is heated with two oil stoves.

GRAND JURY IS READY.

Begins Investigation Into Political Activity of Brewers.

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 9.—An investigation into the alleged political activities in Pennsylvania of national and state brewers' organizations will be started by the federal grand jury here today. Officials of the Northwestern National bank, in Philadelphia, were the first witnesses to be summoned to appear. They were ordered to produce books and other documents, which, it is said, will show records of bank transactions of at least one of the brewing organizations under investigation.

ORDERS INDICTMENT OF WOMEN WHO PLAY CARDS FOR PRIZES.

Madisonville, Ky., Feb. 9.—Society matrons of Madisonville were perturbed today over instructions delivered to the Hopkins county grand jury to investigate all bridge parties and "indict every woman, no matter who she is, if she is caught playing cards for booty."

"The card table is the ruination of many boys," said Judge Carl Henderson, who delivered the charge, "and that card table is in the home." He spoke of the influence the society women exercise on the city and directed the jury "to stop this terrible crime."

"Investigate the society gambling first and then go after the poor negro and ignorant class of people," was Judge Henderson's concluding statement to the jury.

FUND STARTED FOR MONUMENT

Statue of Late Perry A. Randall to Be Erected in Swinney Park.

Effort Will Be Made to Raise $2,000 Within Fifteen Days.

Following the suggestion made by Col. D. N. Foster, plans are now in progress for the erection in one of the city parks of a bronze statue or monument of suitable character to the memory of the late Hon. Perry A. Randall, who, during his lifetime, was Fort Wayne's greatest booster and who, perhaps, more than any other one man, took a more active part in practically all movements that had for their object the betterment and advancement of this city.

Col. Foster's suggestion has met with general approval and has gained such headway that its ultimate accomplishment is now almost a certainty.

At a meeting of interested citizens Monday at the Commercial club it was definitely decided to go ahead with the project and in order that some tangible plan might be devised a committee of five was appointed to take full charge. The committee is composed of Col. D. N. Foster, Charles McCulloch, Albert E. Thomas, Dr. Eric A. Crull and Luie H. Moore.

Hope to Raise $2,000.

The committee hopes to be able to raise $2,000 within fifteen days, the highest subscription being limited to $50. Several of the wealthier citizens of Fort Wayne have already agreed to subscribe the maximum amount. An opportunity will be given for all the friends of the deceased to subscribe and a minimum amount has been fixed at $1. The committee will be ready to announce its plans within the next two or three days.

MOTORMAN IS HELD TO CIRCUIT COURT

Floyd Luttman, a motorman in the employ of the Fort Wayne Traction company on the city lines, was bound over to the circuit court under $500 bond by Judge H. Waveland Kerr, in the city court, Wednesday afternoon, on a charge of assault and battery. The hearing was held several days ago and Judge Kerr took the case under advisement.

Luttman was in charge of a car on the Huffman street line, Christmas eve, when it struck a jitney bus in which Mrs. Lena Blazer, 1125 Polk street, was a passenger. The woman received injuries from which she died about three weeks later at St. Joseph hospital. It has been charged that Luttman was running his street car at excessive speed and that the collision with the jitney was due to negligence and carelessness.

It may be that an affidavit charging involuntary manslaughter will be placed against Luttman. In his findings relating to the death of Mrs. Blazer Coroner J. E. McArdle held that both Luttman and Oscar Shustman, the latter of whom was driving the jitney, were guilty of negligence and carelessness.

Judge Kerr fixed Luttman's bond at $500 and it was promptly furnished.

ESCAPED SPY IS NOW THOUGHT ON ATLANTIC

London, Feb. 9.—It is rumored here that Ignatius T. Lincoln, former spy, who escaped from custody in Brooklyn last month, is now on the Atlantic enroute to Europe. If this report be true, as seems probable in consideration of its source, it is hardly likely Lincoln will succeed in escaping the British cordon

LITTLE HOPE OF SETTLING STRIKE

However, Certain Parties Declare They Will Make Another Effort.

Settlement of the street car strike which came so near being realized this week now seems more remote than at any time since the strike was declared on September 27. Further negotiations looking to peace are not probable although it is understood certain persons have not given up hope and will continue the effort. Both officials of the Traction company and the Federation of Labor declare that they are through, so far as attempting to bring about an agreement is concerned.

An Explanation.

The executive board has issued the following explanation:

"The communication sent to General Manager Greenland will necessarily require some explanation as the public has been led to believe that a settlement of the car strike was near at hand.

"For the past several weeks meetings between the exutive board of the Fort Wayne Federation of Labor and General Manager Greenland, of the traction company, have been going on. Various phases of the controversy were discussed and as a basis of settlement Mr. Greenland on February 7 verbally promised four members of the board that the men would be allowed to maintain their organization on the same basis that they could maintain any fraternal or religious affiliations, they saw fit. The men were also to wear their monthly button of their organization, if they so desired.

"Mr. Greenland also agreed that thirty-five men should be returned to work within thirty days and other employes re-employed as fast as vacancies occurred. He further verbally agreed that all grievances other than those relative to wages should be referred to the representatives of the company by the complaining employe or employes or representatives of these. The men were to return to work at wages as prior to strike.

"The carmen agreed to the proposition that the thirty-five men should return to work in thirty days, and the further re-employment of the men as vacancies occurred. They were willing that questions as to wages should be referred to the utility commission, providing this commission had power and authority to act on the question. The men were also satisfied with the proposition of the maintenance of their organization.

"Some questions as to how men should be re-employed and of their seniority rights were left to be settled at a conference arranged for Tuesday morning, Feb. 8.

"It was also mutually agree that in case of a settlement being reached that a statement of the conditions of settlement would be issued jointly and given to the press, but according to the morning paper, Mr. Greenland voluntarily gave out the news that the strike was settled, while the executive board refused to be interviewed. The plan to mislead the public, union men and their friends is plain, for at the conference Tuesday morning Mr. Greenland repudiated his words of the day before, refusing to allow the men to maintain their organization, and by denying the uniformed employes only the right to wear emblems of any organization with which they might be affiliated.

"Mr. Greenland also insisted on the men signing the individual contract that was so objectionable last fall and that the men have always maintained was illegal, because they had no part in the forming of said contract.

"The strike is not off and the controversy cannot be settled unless the men have the rights guaranteed them as American citizens—the right to belong to any church, order or union they see fit and the right to maintain that organization in any way they see fit.

"The union men of the city deplore the fact that this controversy of weeks' standing cannot be settled as questions between other employers and employes relative to hours, wages and conditions have been settled. We stand for a bigger and better Fort Wayne and know that we are trying to do our part to bring it about."

HIS TAXES TOO LOW; WOULD BOOST 'EM UP

Indianapolis, Feb. 9.—Uriah M. Hinson, of Martinsville, declaring that all assessments, including his own, are too small, applied to Governor Ralston yesterday for appointment as a member of the state board of tax commissioners and gave reasons why he would like to serve.

"I would like to have a place on the state tax board," he wrote, "for this reason: Land is not assessed equally. I own a farm that is listed at $2,400. It is worth $5,000. I spoke to the county assessor about it and told him I knew of a place offered for sale at $500 which was assessed at $400 which, in my opinion, represents its full value. If you don't think I am fit, get some one that will assess at its full cash value. Then the tax rate would be greatly reduced and assessments would be more equal. The poor have too much of the taxes to pay the way land is assessed now."

KENDALLVILLE HAS BIG GARAGE BLAZE

Kendallville, Ind., Feb. 9.—The Studebaker garage, owned an managed by Roy I. Wallace, was practically destroyed by fire, starting from an overheated furnace, early today.

Thirty cars, including several new models, were damaged. The loss is estimated at $15,000. Wallace and George Kihn, fire chief, were slightly injured.

Maccabee Ladies, No. 6, and friends, will be pleasantly entertained at the regular tea Thursday afternoon at the home of the hostess, Mrs. Nellie Herman, 808 Grace avenue, with Mrs. Jennie, Willig, assistant hostesses.

AT THE GRAND.

Francis X. Bushman is again featured at the Grand today in "The Accounting." This is the sixth complete prize mystery story released in conjunction with the Ladies World. The story deals with a thrilling love drama and international politics, supported by the most popular team of actors in moving pictures. The play is a clean, clear-cut drama all the way through, not of the blood and thunder or ridiculous sort, but plain, and related to everyday life. There is not a ridiculous movement or situation in the entire three reels, and not a tremor in the acting. It might be pronounced perfect. There is an appealing situation throughout.

CARRY RELIEF TO FLOOD SUFFERERS

Steamer Distributes Food and Fuel to Refugees in Arkansas.

Little Rock, Ark., Feb. 9.—Relief work among refugees of the flood began when a steamer loaded with supplies to distribute food and fuel among 2,000 or more destitute persons at Pendleton, Redfork, Douglas, Watson and other towns in the inundated basin. The cargo was in charge of Murray A. Auerbach, Little Rock special agent of the American Red Cross, and D. C. Welty, agricultural commissioner of the Iron Mountain railroad. Business in Arkansas City virtually is suspended. A few merchants are conducting business from the second stories of their stores and from box cars on the levee. Relief reached 200 or more refugees at Gaine's Landing yesterday, north of Lake Village.

Residents continue to desert Clarendon, and of the 3,500 inhabitants only about 300 remain. Relief work is proceeding slowly but effectively in the region near Clarendon.

"Wacht Am Rhein" Out of Fashion in Apia.

Schoolmaster B. H. Sawode

"Zum Rhein! Zum Rhein! Zum Deutschen Rhein!"

For years the school children at Apia, Samoa, sang the thrilling words of this German song at morning exercises. The kaiser's picture hung on the wall. The earnest master, B. H. Sawode, taught his charges German poetry and German folklore. Songs and tales of the Fatherland they learned. All this was before the war.

Then trouble came and with it the British, who captured German Samoa. They ordered the master of the little school to tear down the kaiser's picture, to teach his charges English and above all to quit the singing of "Die Wacht Am Rhein." To tear the kaiser's picture from the wall was a sacrilege to Sawode and he refused. He was thrown into a dungeon for a few days and later sent with his family out of the country.

He arrived in San Francisco recently and will try to return to Berlin.

SINNING ALLEGED IN DIVORCE SUITS

Wife in One Case and Husband in Another Accuse Mates.

Selma M. Fredrick has begun action in the superior court against Ervin W Fredrick for divorce, $3,000 alimony and the custody of an 8-year-old daughter. She says they were married April 29 1906, and lived together until January 20, last, on which day she alleges the defendant was guilty of adultery with a woman residing in Bloomingdale but whose name is left blank in the complaint. The wife also charges that her husband was for a long time guilty of cruel and inhuman treatment of her and refuses to support her. William Grayless, who is alleged to owe the defendant $130, is made party to the suit and an order restraining him from paying the money to Fredrick has been issued, the plaintiff asking that it be paid to the court for suit and support. R. B. Dreibelbiss is the plaintiff's attorney.

Wife Is Accused of Wrong.

John Craig has commenced suit in the superior court against Rosella Craig for divorce, charging her with guilty association with various men whose names are unknown to the plaintiff. He says she visited winerooms, became intoxicated and came home at early hours of the morning after being out all night, neglected her children and her household and abused the plaintiff with curses and vile names. He asks the custody of two children, aged 4 and 3 years, respectively for neglect of which he says she was prosecuted in the city court. Stephen A Callahaan is the plaintiff's attorney.

Wife Charges Cruelty.

Martha E. Whitacre has begun suit in the superior court for divorce from William H. Whitacre, charging cruel and inhuman treatment. She says her husband has a violent temper and when angry found fault, slapped her face and beat her with his fists, rendering her ill for days and weeks at a time, adding to the cruelty by refusing to get her a physician. She says also he did not provide her with a home and di not properly support her. An order restraining him from molesting her at 1611 Sherman street and from drawing his wages is asked for. McAdams & Hartzell are the plaintiff's attorneys.

Receiver for Movie Show.

In the suit of Hallie B. Reichard vs. A. A. Kleinrichert to collect $100 on a note and for the appointment of a receiver, it was represented that the defendant was dissipating the assets of a moving picture show situated at 1311 Maumee avenue and in imminent danger of becoming insolvent. The court appointed Robert B. Garmire receiver, under $2,500 bond, to take charge of the business.

Says Husband Left Her.

Jessie Saunders complains in the superior court of Jack Saunders and asks a divorce on the ground of abandonment and failure to support. She asks the custody of a child of four years. They were married June 26, 1910, and she says he left her October 15, 1913. H. Waveland Kerr is the wife's attorney.

Wants $500 for Injuries.

Clair E. Knepple has begun action in the superior court against Abraham B Frank, demanding $500 damages for the wrecking of his motorcycle and bodily injuries to himself when, as he alleges an automobile belonging to the defendant and in charge of his servant, ran into the plaintiff at Washington boulevard and Calhoun street, October 9, 1915 He says the automobile was running at a speed of thirty-five miles an hour and hurled him and his machine against a telephone pole. S. M. Hench is attorney for the plaintiff.

In the suit of Wesley D. Rhodes vs. Oliver J. Harper, final report has been made to the superior court by Oscar E. Scott, receiver, and he has been discharged.

The will of the late William Wiegmann has been filed for probate. His entire estate is left to his wife, Augusta Wiegmann, who is named executrix.

In the circuit court the suit of Adam H. Hans vs. the Pennsylvania company for damages, has been set for trial before a jury April 10, and the suit of Henry Rockhill vs. John Rockhill before a jury February 24.

A jury in the Wells circuit court at Bluffton late Tuesday afternoon returned a verdict finding for the defendant in the case of Olive Jones vs. the Fort Wayne & Northern Indiana Traction company for $10,000 damages for personal injuries. The case was taken to Wells county on a change of venue from the Allen circuit court. The plaintiff alleged that she was injured at Huntington, Ind., while attempting to board an interurban car. The defense showed that her injury was due to her own carelessness. McAdams & Hartzell appeared for the plaintiff and Barrett, Morris & Hoffman for the defendant.

WILL SAVE HOMES OF HATTERS.

Accumulated Interest on Savings Deposits Belong to Defendants.

Hartford, Conn., Feb. 9.—Accumulated interest of $30,000 on the attached saving bank deposits of the 180 defendants in the famous Danbury Hatters' boycott litigation belongs to the defendants, according to a decision today by Judge E. S. Rhomas, of the United States district court. The plaintiffs, D. E. Loewe & Co., had claimed they were entitled to all the interest that had accrued since the attachments were made thirteen years ago. This sum, it is said in union circles here, will practically complete the amount needed to save the hatters' homes from being auctioned off to satisfy the judgment of $252,130, awarded D. E. Loewe & Co. by the United States supreme court. Organized labor throughout the United States recently undertook to raise the entire sum by subscription, but it is said that the amount was about $30,000 short.

Twenty-five members of the board of directors, which is composed of twenty-seven ladies, were present at the regular monthly business session held Wednesday morning at the Y. W. C. A., when a board of six trustees were elected. They are Mrs. Fred Hayden, Mrs. J. B. Harper, W. E. Mossman, Arthur H. Perfect, Fred J. Thieme and W. J. Vesey.

Mrs. E. A. Donnan, formerly president of the association, attended the board meeting and gave a brief address. A memorial was read at the meeting in honor of a former secretary of the local Y. W. C. A. Miss Grace Dodge, who passed away in Chicago last October.

Miss Mary Harrah, chairman of the student committee, reports that there are now five classes in her department that meet regularly. Mrs. Hudson, of the physical committee, stated in her report that during the month of January fifty-one classes met and that the enrollment of the classes now is 264. The physical department will give a demonstration at the high school building on February 25 of the work that is being done each day at the gymnasium of the Y. W. C. A.

Mrs. W. S. Whitbeck, chairman of the extension department, submitted a very interesting report. There are now six clubs in the extension department and each is progressing rapidly. The names and number of members of the clubs follows: Boss Glove Factory, 67; Gymnits, 50; Electric Works, 30; Perfection, 25; Busy Bee, 25, and Business Women's club, 40.

A meeting will be held at the association building February 18, at which time the clubs will be federated. A proposed constitution will be submitted and officers elected. The purpose of a federation of the clubs is to promote sociability and helpfulness among the members so that they will be an assistance to the other girls of Fort Wayne.

Visitors From Muncie.

Mrs. E. Whitely, president of the Muncie Y. W. C. A., Mrs. Eva H. Little Mrs. A. L. Johnson and Mrs. L. W Neely, members of the board of directors, came to Fort Wayne at noon Wednesday for the purpose of going through the local building and to get information for the new building to be erected in that city soon. They were guests at lunch with Mrs. J. S. House at the Y. W. C. A.

EMMONS AND FATHER BURKE PATCH PEACE

South Bend, Ind., Feb. 9—That the pipe of peace between Notre Dame university, at least official Notre Dame and the street car company was smoked last night, was the report after a conference between Father William Burke, of the university, and C. D. Emmons, general manager of the street railway system. Both men said they regretted sincerely and emphatically the series of episodes which culminated Sunday night in the burning of one of the company's cars by students, who asserted they had been discriminated against by the company.

Before going to South Bend Mr. Emmons was general manager of the Fort Wayne and Wabash Valley system and resided in Fort Wayne.

Frank Gray, of Philadelphia, supreme recorder of the Knights of Malta, arrived in Fort Wayne Wednesday and Wednesday evening will speak at the Hotel Anthony in the interest of the order here.

POLITICAL NOTES.

Everything is in readiness for the republican love feast to be held Thursday evening at New Haven when many of the candidates for state office will be in attendance. T. J. Logan, of this city, will preside as toastmaster.

A meeting of the Young Men's Republican club will be held Wednesday evening in the office of Judge Walter Olds in the Old National bank building.

An enthusiastic meeting in the interest of James E. Watson, who is seeking the republican senatorial nomination, was held at Huntington, Tuesday evening. Mr. Watson was the principal speaker.

Great preparations are being made for the democratic love feast to be held at Columbia City Thursday. More than twenty-five local democrats will attend.

The plan is to erect a monument in one of the city's parks on which will be a bronze bust of Mr. Randall. The question of the kind of monument to be erected and other details connected therewith will not be taken up until after the money has been subscribed.

Swinney Park Favored.

The monument will, in all probability, be erected in Swinney park by reason of Mr. Randall's long connection with the Swinney estate.

The death of no citizen in recent years has caused more genuine sorrow and regret. During his long residence in Fort Wayne Mr. Randall was identified with almost every public spirited movement. He was for Fort Wayne and he never lost an opportunity or was never too busy to boost his home city. It is regarded as no more than proper that his services should be commemorated in this fashion. The committee has already met with much encouragement and does not contemplate any difficulty in raising the necessary $2,000 within the time specified.

All the banking institutions in the city will be closed next Saturday in observance of the anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln.

To Prevent the Grip.

The Loom Ends! Powerful Electro-Magnets That Draw The Crowds with Irresistible Force!

This loom end sale has been a semi-annual occurrence for so many years that the children of its first costomers are now taking advantages of its low prices to buy material for THEIR children's dresses. Twice a year we go direct to the mills and buy up their "loom ends," the short lengths left after bolts of regulation size are made up. These loom ends are every bit as good as if they were cut off the big bolts in our store. Yet, because they were cut into short lengths at the mills WE bought them very cheaply and pass the savings on to you.

Here They Are---Enumerated:

In addition to those enumerated you will find remnants of cretonnes, sateens, flannelettes, galatea cloth, etc., all priced at tremendous savings. We are putting forth special efforts to make this the finest Loom End Sale in the history of the store.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

Proverbs 19:1-20.

1 Better is the poor that walketh in his integrity, than he that is perverse in his lips, and is a fool.

2 Also, that the soul be without knowledge, it is not good; and he that hasteth with his feet sinneth.

3 The foolishness of man perverteth his way: and his heart fretteth against the Lord.

4 Wealth maketh many friends; but the poor is separated from his neighbour.

5 A false witness shall not be unpunished; and he that speaketh lies shall not escape.

6 Many will entreat the favour of the prince: and every man is a friend to him that giveth gifts.

7 All the brethren of the poor do hate him: how much more do his friends go far from him? he pursueth them with words, yet they are wanting to him.

8 He that getteth wisdom loveth his own soul: he that keepeth understanding shall find good.

10 Delight is not seemly for a fool; much less for a servant to have rule over princes.

12 The king's wrath is as the roaring of a lion; but his favour is as dew upon the grass.

15 Slothfulness casteth into a deep sleep; and an idle soul shall suffer hunger.

16 He that keepeth the commandment keepeth his own soul; but he that despiseth his ways shall die.

17 He that hath pity upon the poor lendeth unto the Lord; and that which he hath given will he pay him again.

18 Chasten thy son while there is hope, and let not thy soul spare for his crying.

19 A man of great wrath shall suffer punishment: for if thou deliver him, yet thou must do it again.

Regarding the "Pork Barrel."

The hue and cry regarding "pork" in the public buildings appropriations is never absent at any session of congress, and the fine art of securing imposing federal buildings in towns where federal business does not justify the expenditure on any rational business basis has engaged the attention of many congressmen from all political parties from time immemorial. Some interesting light on the real situation as to "pork" has just been contributed by Senator Gallinger, who has collected and tabulated the original authorizations and appropriations for every public building in the United States.

Senator Gallinger finds that the public buildings erected or authorized by the government number 1,439. Of this number only 493 are in towns having a population in excess of 10,000 at the time the appropriation was authorized. Of the whole number, five are in towns of less than 1,000 population, 68 in towns less than 2,000 population, 143 in towns between 2,000 and 3,000 population, 169 in towns between 3,000 and 4,000 population, 156 in towns between 4,000 and 5,000 population, 133 in towns between 5,000 and 6,000 population, 82 in towns between 6,000 and 7,000 population, 82 in towns between 7,000 and 8,000 population, 84 in towns between 8,000 and 9,000 population, and 51 in towns between 9,000 and 10,000. All of these appropriations for small towns range from $50,000 to $125,000 each.

There are five towns in the United States, Senator Gallinger finds, where imposing buildings were ordered built when the hamlets had less than 1,000 population. One of them is in Kentucky. Another is in Wyoming, where most of the federal buildings have been built in towns of less than 1,500 population.

Casting his eagle eye on Indiana, Senator Gallinger discloses the fact that of the fifty-one federal buildings in this state, seventeen are in cities of more than 10,000 population, and eleven of them were authorized when the towns selected for buildings had less than 5,000 population. To be absolutely fair about it, however, it must be noted that the past few congresses have killed off nearly all propositions of this character. It isn't so easy to "get by" with them as it used to be.

Fred Landis, late militant mooser and now back in the republican ranks, has issued from his home in Logansport, an announcement to the general effect that he will not be a candidate for the republican congressional nomination from the Eleventh district. He goes still further and expresses the conviction that no man who has been a principal in the bitter political feuds of the district should seek the place, because success demands a candidate free from old grudges. Mr. Landis is frank enough about it, but the form of his utterance indicates that he still has some suspicion regarding the thoroughness of his own reconstruction.

State Food and Drug Commissioner Barnard, speaking before the National Canners' association convention at Louisville, declared that the goods that left the Indiana canneries for the markets of the world were "just a little better because they came from Indiana." He explained that the Indiana canneries were cleanly, that they used good materials and cheerfully sought to comply with the pure food law requirements in every day. In view of frequent complaints regarding food products it is indeed refreshing to discover at least one industry that not only deserves commendation but gets it.

Washington indicates that President Wilson may soon announce that he is a candidate for renomination before the democratic national convention in St. Louis, but Washington mustn't expect the country to be greatly surprised at the announcement when it does arrive. Some things in the general trend of events recently have suggested the bare possibility of some such thing as that coming to pass, and we are more or less prepared for the news.

Twenty-four more or less prominent South Bend business men are said to have been caught in raids on two gambling establishments in that city. It is becoming increasingly evident that those of us whose eyes have been pretty steadily centered in admiration on South Bend will be forced to cast about for a new model of civic righteousness. Isn't it fierce when a cherished ideal is shattered?

A REAL TARIFF BOARD

(Pittsburgh Dispatch)

President Wilson's conversion to support of a tariff commission is symptomatic of the increasing popular demand that, so far as possible, the tariff be taken out of politics. But there are tariff commissions and tariff commissions. There is the commission which would confine itself to the statistical and clerical duties of collecting and tabulating facts. That sort of commission, of course, would be of little value because congress would be certain to pigeon-hole the report and forget it, as has been the custom with all investigations. Then there is the commission, like the interstate commerce commission, which not only gathers and assembles facts, but applies them. That is the sort of tariff commission that is needed—not the other.

If, for instance, a majority of congress favored a protective tariff, based on the difference in the cost of production here and abroad, a proper sort of tariff commission would report just what difference was in each schedule, and apply the principle laid down by congress. Or, if a majority of congress favored a tariff for revenue only, that particular principle would be applied mathematically by the tariff commission. In each instance the application would be simply a matter of facts and figures, a pure business operation, having nothing to do with politics, the political features, which principle, protective or revenue only, being left where it belongs, to the discretion of congress.

By this means we would end the log-rolling of sections and industries, the factional whipsawing and manipulation that has marked the framing of schedules by the committees of congress. Neither the public nor congress has at any time had any accurate idea of the details of more than one or two schedules in which there was personal interest. The subject is too many sided, too complex, too intricate, to ever be grasped in all its details and schedules by any but experts. This has enabled the log-rollers, time after time, to put over most indefensible discriminations which, when found out, have provoked the inevitable popular dissatisfaction and demand for revision. But anyone can understand a plain statement of a general principle, protective or for revenue only, and with the confidence that this principle will be applied impartially and exactly all along the line, and people would be able to judge intelligently just how the principle worked. Tariff discussion would then be possible on a bedrock basis instead of being lost in a maze of schedules and business details that not one person in hundreds of thousands could ever take the time to figure out.

FLAG DESECRATION

(Indiana Daily Times)

Especial attention is being given to the enforcement of the Indiana law against the desecration of the national flag of the United States. The Indiana flag law, enacted in 1901, was drawn by Capt. Wallace Foster and was backed by the Woman's Relief Corps, department of Indiana. The statute is stringent. Patriotic citizens are busying themselves in the effort to bring about its strict enforcement. To this end a circular has been sent out by Florence Millspaugh, department president of the W. R. C. The national committee of the W. R. C. on the prevention of desecration of the national flag has sent out a circular with an appeal for the co-operation of W. R. C. members in the work of protecting the flag, not only from profanation by the mercenary and heedless, but also from improper usage by those who would do the flag honor. Greater activity for law enforcement is earnestly urged. In response to the national appeal the W. R. C., department of Indiana, now asks that patriotic instructors and corps members in Indiana give better heed to flag law violations in this state.

BEAUTIFUL HAIR, THICK, WAVY, FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Draw a moist cloth through hair and double its beauty at once.

Save your hair! Dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.

Immediate?—Yes! Certain?—that's the joy of it. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after an application of Danderine. Also try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few week's use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

You can surely have pretty, charming, lustrous hair, and lots of it, if you will just get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it as directed.—Advertisement.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

What The Sentinel Had to Say About Persons and Events Twenty-Five Years Ago.

Editor A. J. Moynihan of the Morning Journal, has gone to Indianapolis on business.

The Monday club will hold a meeting tonight with Mrs. A. J. Detzer, of West Wayne street.

Ed J. Golden entertained the Cooing club in a pleasant way last evening.

The removal of chairs from the workrooms at the Fort Wayne Electric works caused a ripple of indignation among the young lady operators and for a time there was trouble in the air.

President A. S. Lauferty, of the Business Men's exchange, states that an effort will be made to convert the exchange into a Commercial club and to obtain a suitable club house for it. The interest in the Exchange has been subsiding.

Bishop J. H. Vincent, of New York, one of the foremost divines in the Methodist Episcopal church, preached three sermons here Sunday—one in Simpson M. E. church, one in Berry Street M. E. church and one in the Wayne Street M. E. church.

Collier's Once a Week, a leading illustrated weekly published in New York, prints a picture of the Georgetown university football club and in the group the face of Stephen B. Fleming of this city, is conspicuous. The magazine speaks in high terms of Mr. Fleming as fullback.

Harry McMullen has resigned his position as city editor on the Morning Press to take a similar position vacant at the News owing to the resignation of John T. Dougall. C. L. Drummond will temporarily fill the vacancy on the staff of the Press.

Dr. E. F. Biewend, of St. Louis, formerly of this city and now visiting here, injected the lymph of Dr. Koch, the great German savant, into the arm of E. M. Worley, cancer victim, at the city hospital, last Saturday in the presence of several local physicians. The patient shows signs of improvement. Dr. Biewend is a cousin of Dr. Koch and recently returned from an extended period of labor in the celebrated German scientist's laboratories as an assistant.

Triumphs in Fight on Government Methods of Retrenchment.

Dublin, Ireland, Jan. 15—(Correspondence of The Associated Press).—Ireland has just passed through a vigorous and successful agitation against government methods of retrenchment. It is a tradition of Irish government that some of its services are extremely costly in proportion to the needs of the people, while others are starved. The treasury, in determining to effect war economics, proceeded to attack one after the other the "starved services," leaving mostly untouched the larger and less useful items. They thus irritated the largest possible number of people and interests for the smallest return in cash.

One of the starved services is education. The national library in Dublin, the Royal Irish academy of music, the teaching of science in secondary schools and agricultural education all suffered, or were threatened. Among the grants to be discontinued was the small sum for the colleges of Irish. This brought the Gaelic league into the fray, and throughout every part of Ireland, resolutions of public bodies, and public meetings, culminating in a meeting in the Dublin mansion house, conveyed to the government the popular indignation. The Irish Catholic bishops also passed a series of resolutions of protest.

It was not only the educational grants that suffered. Ireland has been receiving a grant of 10,000 pounds a year for the encouragement of horse-breeding. The country is a great breeding ground for army horses and its merits in this respect were recognized before the war not only by the British government but by foreign buyers. It was announced that the horse-breeding grant was to be stopped though a similar grant of larger amount given to Great Britain was not only to be continued but increased. Protest in parliament led to the explanation that army horses could be more conveniently bred in England because it was nearer to the seat of war, and because the provision of army horses might be an urgent matter of hours instead of days. As an argument against a grant for breeding horses in Ireland this was not regarded as convincing. Meanwhile no serious attack was made on the swollen items of Irish expenditure. The police cost over a million and a half a year of pounds sterling, though for some years past the record of the country is almost crimeless, and the judges of assize are constantly presented with white gloves by the sheriff because there are no cases to try.

Ireland's taxation since the war has increased from about eleven millions to about seventeen and a half millions, and the treasury methods of retrenchment would be ineffective for any real contribution towards war economics. They are said to have been due to the blunder of some minor officials in Dublin castle or in Whitehall unacquainted with the country. At first they were defended in the house of commons by the treasury chiefs. But after the representations made by Mr. Redmond, Mr. Dillon and other Irish parliamentary leaders it has been decided that these small economics detrimental to national efficiency will not be further persisted in. The matter has caused a great deal of irritation among people of all classes and sections of Irish opinion who have shown great sympathy with the war, and admit the necessity of wise public economics.

Martinsville, Ind., Feb. 8.—The executive committee of the Associated charities is making war on lazy husbands. WAR PRICES FOR BREAD IN AMERICA?

Washington, D. C., Feb. 9.—"War prices for bread in America!"

This sums up the opinion of officials of the United States department of agriculture and of the department of commerce here in commenting on the reasons for the sharp upward trend in prices of wheat and flour in the United States.

"We have not been following the flour price fluctuations closely," says Charles J. Brand, chief of the office of markets and rural organization of the agricultural department, "but we have followed the wheat price! A few days ago the Minneapolis price for wheat went to $1.24 a bushel. As compared to prices before the outbreak of the European war this is over a 50 per cent. increase in the price of flour. Before the outbreak of the war, wheat was selling at from 75 to 85 cents a bushel. Beginning almost immediately with the war, the prices of wheat show a steady upward tendency with a few very small sags. This is due unquestionably to the heavy exports and the demand due to the war."

Leon M. Estabrook, chief of the bureau of crop estimates of the agricultural department, agrees entirely with Brand. "The heavy increase in wheat prices," he said, "is unquestionably due to the war. It is a 'war price' and not a 'crop price.'

"This is proved by the fact that the 1915 wheat crop was the largest in the history of the country, amounting to 1,011,000,000 bushels. For the year 1914, the crop amounted to 892,000,000 bushels, so that the increased yield in 1915 would tend, if anything, to hold down prices instead of boosting them. The 1915 crop is now on the market.

"One big factor in the wheat situation is the fact that the Russian crop—and Russia is a large exporter of wheat—has been bottled up for two years. This has increased enormously the demand on other wheat exporting countries, and has consequently boosted the price."

Figures furnished by the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce show how exports both of wheat and flour, have jumped on account of the war, and indicate why the American people must pay "war prices" for their bread. The total exports of wheat for the ten months ending October, 1914, amounted to 125,804,067 bushels, valued at $128,127,532. The European war began in August, 1914. For the ten-month period ended October, 1915, the exports of wheat jumped to 179,705,636 bushels, valued at $251,596,751.

For the ten-month period of 1914, wheat flour exports amounted to 9,444,377 barrels, valued at $44,978,122. For the same period in 1915, the wheat flour exports amounted to 12,668,460 barrels, valued at $79,877,016.

The exports of wheat and wheat flour are merely typical of what is going on generally. America is largely feeding and supplying the nations at war. American exports for December exceed those for any previous month in the country's history. The total value of all kinds of goods shipped abroad for that month amounted to $359,301,07[illegible], which makes the total exports of all kinds for 1915, $3,550,915,393, or about a billion dollars more than was ever before exported during a like period.

We are feeding and supplying the world, and our exporters are getting rich from the profits—but in the meantime our people must compete with the nations of Europe in paying prices for our own products. War prices in Europe mean war prices in America!

Simple, Inexpensive, Effective.

Many people seem to think that the best medicines are to be had only upon the prescription of a high-priced specialist, but there are many simple things that can be obtained for a few cents which often do the work even after the best doctors have failed.

How many stomach sufferers have ever heard of concentrated liquid marlix? Perhaps not one in ten, yet here is something that any good druggist can sell you and which is said to produce astonishing results in cases of indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, belching, bloating, pains and heart palpitation after meals and similar indications of stomach disorders.

It is a simple thing—perfectly harmless—and the best way to prepare it is to get two ounces of liquid marlix (concentrated)—cost about fifty cents and an empty eight ounce bottle. Take these home, pour the marlix into the bottle and add water enough to fill it. The dose is a teaspoonful before each meal and the quantity—eight ounces—will last for several weeks. Those who know of it and have tried it, say it is not only the simplest, but one of the finest things persons troubled in this way can take and that relief is usually felt within a few minutes.

Being in liquid form it has the advantage over the many medicines in pill or tablet form. The rapidity with which it reaches the affected parts and brings relief to the sufferer is the best proof that it is readily assimilated by the stomach. —Adv.

DRESS WARM AND KEEP FEET DRY

Tells Rheumatism Sufferers to Take Salts and Get Rid of Uric Acid.

Rheumatism is no respecter of age, sex, color or rank. If not the most dangerous of human afflictions it is one of the most painful. Those subject to rheumatism should eat less meat, dress as warmly as possible, avoid any undue exposure, and, above all, drink lots of pure water.

Rheumatism is caused by uric acid which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and irculating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which overcomes uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.—Advertisement.

The few intimate friends who were entertained at the home of Miss Armonde Breen last evening were prepared for a delightful time and were not surprised to be informed during the evening of Miss Breen's engagement to Frank J. Malone and also learn that the wedding would take place before the Lenten season begins. In every way the party was a charming affair, with the loveliest of decorations all carried out in pink while the supper served after a merry game of cards, bespoke the coming nuptials in heart shaped sandwiches, white ice cream cupids in pink ice cream, pink rosebuds and cake in white hearts covered with pink frosting, that were a part of the menu. Miss Irma Blee and Miss Josephine Hayes won the prizes in the card game. The house and the supper table were beautifully decorated with many pink baskets of roses. The chandelier in the diningroom sent its light through pink paper and underneath it stood a white crochet basket with a vase of pink roses. Attached to the basket were narrow pink ribbons, one of which extended to each plate and was tied to hand-painted cards, the work of a friend in Washington, D. C., with whom Miss Breen has been visiting now. The cards told the announcement and gave the date of March the first as the interesting day. At each plate lay a small white crocheted basket of pink and white candies. On each place card was a verse suggestive of a hymeneal affair and the table itself, decked in a Madeira embroidered center piece with napkins to match, was a handsome sight. Big bows of pink moline topped off the baskets and gave an airy look to the table. Miss Breen is exceedingly popular with her acquaintances and is a very pretty and sweet young woman who since her graduation from St. Catherine's academy, has devoted herself to her music and to her home. Mr. Malone is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Malone, of South Calhoun street, and is an ambitious and energetic young man who is located in Toledo, O., with the Toledo Tool Machine company. The guests were Misses Lucile Miller, Frances McGuire, Matilda Boyce, Esther Leonert, Muriel Larimore, Mary Travis, Julia Breman, Irene Lennon, Helen and Marie Aurentz, Agnes Murphy, Nellie Breen, Miss White of Broughton, O., Mrs. A. G. Foley, of Pierceton, Mrs. C. E. Wahl, of Denver, Colo., who is an aunt of Miss Breen. Miss Breen is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Breen, of 231 West DeWald street.

Mrs. Joseph Haley is entertaining her sister, Miss Evans, of Defiance, Ohio.

The Rosary society will give a card party at St. Patrick's lyceum on Thursday.

Mrs. C. E. Wahl, of Denver, Col., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. James Breen, of West DeWald street.

The Sunshine club will be entertained at the home of Mrs. D. Siebold, 1701 West Main street, Thursday afternoon.

Willard Bohne, who has come home from California for a visit, is going to Lafayette to attend a house party over the week-end.

Howard Weigel, a student at Tri-State college, is at home for a few days' vacation with his mother and sisters at 2710 Lillie street.

The Visiting Nurse League will meet on Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock with Mrs. C. R. Branson, of the White apartments.

The Ladies' Auxiliary to the Caledonian society will meet on Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Thomas Sinclair, of 109 West DeWald street.

Mrs. Sarah Richey, of Hoagland avenue, left Wednesday for Kansas City Mo., to spend the rest of the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Reagan.

Miss Frances McGuire has issued invitations to an entertainment she will give next Monday to honor Miss Armonde Breen, a bride-elect of March.

Miss Ruth Caldwell is to entertain the young women of the Ewing-Keplinger bridal party at a luncheon and bridge on Saturday at her home in West Creighton avenue.

Members of the Hal Resh fraternity gave an informal dancing party on Monday evening at the Anthony hotel. Franklin's orchestra furnished music and everyone present spent a pleasant time.

Miss Esther Centlivre surprised her sister, Mae, on Tuesday evening with a company of friends in celebration of Miss Centlivre's birth anniversary. A game of progressive hearts was enjoyed.

Miss Laura Philley returned to Valparaiso on Tuesday after a stay of several weeks at the home of her parents, the Hiram Philley farm south of the city. Miss Philley came home for a few days' visit and has been quite ill.

Little Helen Bieberich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bieberich, of 1226 Lambert drive, celebrated her third birth anniversary on Tuesday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock by having a number of small friends at a pretty party. A birthday cake was by no means the least thing prepared for the good time the children enjoyed. The guests were Elmer Horner, Maurice Hickman, Edwin Lenz, Amos Kelly, Robert and Walter Bieberich, Dorothy Schuster, Dorothy Kelly and Dorothy Bieberich.

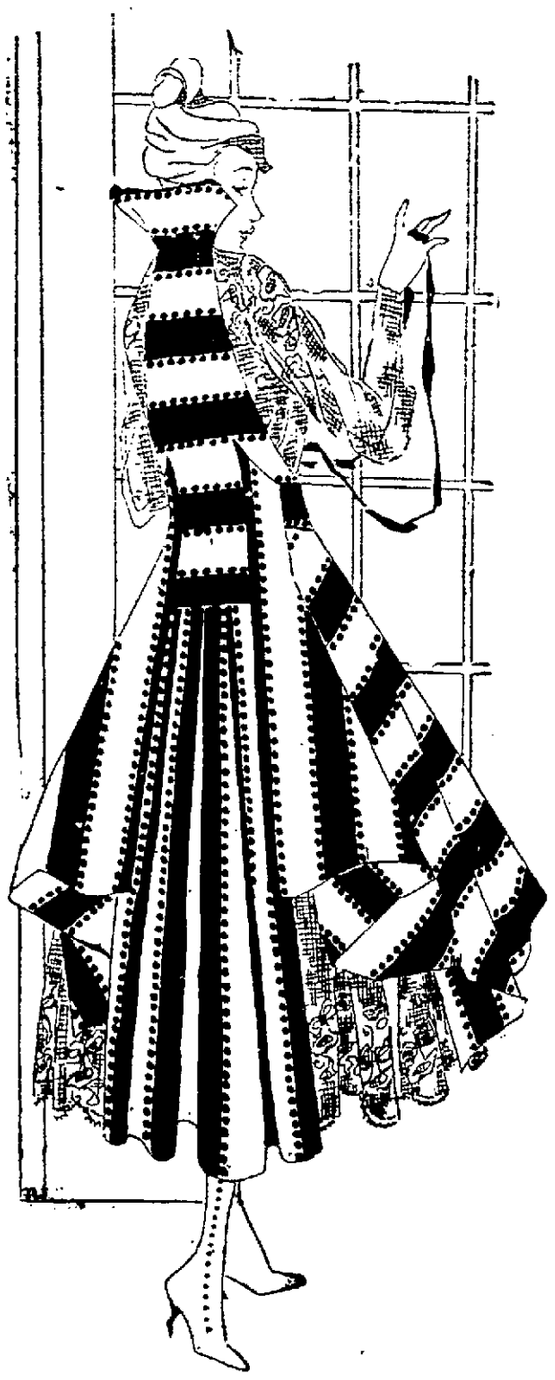
SIMPLE LINES FOR MAGPIE GOWN—SPRING CREATION IN NEWEST SILK.



By Betty Brown

A dull, drab bird is the magpie compared with the new magpie ribbon-silk. It fairly shrieks—the contrasts are so sharp; scarlet or emerald green would seem sober beside it.

The new silk is either made or marred by the designer, more than any other fabric it depends on good lines for its effectiveness. The severe straight line of the pleated back, the straight folds of the panniers, the almost rigid lines of the bodice give the desired "severely simple" effect to the gown I've pictured here—a gown that comes from the Fashion Art League of America, by the way.

The high Elizabethan collar is one of the new things of the season—many of the new neck adornments conceal only the back of the neck and leave the throat bare.

MR. DALTON'S "UNCLE JOHN."

New Farce at Temple Theater Delights Many Patrons.

Test Dalton's farce that is being tried out at the Temple theater this week by the stock company of that playhouse, is giving huge entertainment to the patrons of the house. Women fairly shriek with laughter and men laugh and chuckle over the situations as noisily. For some very ingenious ideas Mr. Dalton, an Indianapolis man, deserves all credit. The framework of the farce is tiptop. Some of the filling out is commonplace, but can easily be given the necessary wit. The role of Uncle John is good all the way through. There are many situations that are funny and a fine climax is reached in the second act that calls for the curtain. But Mr. Dalton has strung out the act by more situations and complications, farce-like of course, but possibly not so effective, certainly not so strikingly good as the previous part of the play is. The development of the farce is clean cut, but not obvious and interest is maintained to the end of the third act. The stock company presents the play with much appreciation of its possibilities, considering how little time was given to rehearsals. "Uncle John" is what may well be termed a live wire as a character, and Walter Poulter, who takes the role, gives a very excellent idea of the part. The farce runs all this week.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

Thurston's Farewell Appearance Tonight.

To tell the whole happenings of the two hours and a half performance of Thurston, the magician, the attraction at the Majestic again tonight, would be like telling a fairy story, as so many miracles are performed.

One is transported into the realms of magic and as the interesting program reveals itself, each trick seeming more wonderful than the preceding, you are oblivious of the time and only awaken by the regret that the curtain has fallen. You then rub your eyes, rise from your seat and leave the theater, wondering how it was all done.

Howe's Pictures on Friday and Saturday.

Gifted with that peculiar faculty of sensing exactly what is of absorbing interest, Lyman H. Howe's Travel Festival, which comes to the Majestic on Friday and Saturday, can always be relied upon for an evening of unalloyed pleasure for young and old. Besides pictorial pilgrimages of rare charm to Madeira, Italy, France, Holland, Switzerland, the Firth of Fourth bridge, Scotland, and to our own Glacier National park, the new program also includes some distinct novelties, such as the crystallization of different metals, and most amazing of all, a new demonstration of motion photography, showing the movements of animals so slowly that the eye can detect every detail which is impossible at the high speed at which these animals move normally. Thrills are also provided by a ride in an aeroplane above the clouds, the perils of ascent of perpendicular cliffs by fearless mountain climbers and the struggle of a torpedo boat through a raging sea.

AT KEITH PALACE

Another "Peachy" Act One of Several Features at Palace.

"The Earl and the Girls" another "peachy" act with a bunch of nifty young girls in the one act musical hit by Darl MacBoyle, will be presented at the New Palace as one of half a dozen features on the week end bill opening tomorrow afternoon. George Choos is presenting his clever little hit with Eddie Buzell, Peggy Parker, Charlotte Taylor and Loring Smith in the principal roles.

Al Herman, the singing comedian whose clever work at the Chicago Palace Music hall several weeks ago inspired a highly complimentary article in Variety, also is on this bill. James Grady and company will present the comedy dramatic sketch, "The Toll Bridge," and other acts on this bill are Newhoff and Phelps, in the skit, "In Care of General Delivery"; Josephine Lenhardt, the vest pocket edition of Irene Franklin; and Will and Kemp, the amusing and amazing equilibrists.

The current bill featured by the musical comedy tabloid, The Junior Follies, will close this evening. Boyle Woolfolk's juvenile entertainers have proved one of the most delightful bunches of entertainers Fort Wayne has enjoyed in a long time. On this same program are the Three Falcons in a sensational aerial act and Miss Lillian Watson, the dainty little singing comedienne.

AT THE ORPHEUM.

"LURE OF HEART'S DESIRE."

Edmund Breeze and Brilliant Cast in Drama Screened at Orpheum.

Robert Service's great poem, "The Spell of the Yukon," makes admirable material for a photoplay, and the Metro corporation in producing it, afford us one of the most virilely interesting releases in quite some time. The story provides two sharply contrasted settings, one of them New York's celebrated Great White Way and the other the great silent wastes of the Alaskan Klondike region. Many of the scenes are devoted to showing how New York cuts its New Year's eve capers, and the cameraman has secured any number of highly diverting views showing the famous Murray's cafe at the height of the revelry, with staid business men cavorting like unleashed colts, Ethiopian orchestras swaying the merrymakers to barbaric dance music, while on a dias in the center, Gotham's niftiest society dancers flash with dizzying speed through the intricacies of terpsichore's latest whim.

Edmund Breeze has the assistance of a large and capable cast in "The Lure of Heart's Desire," and gives a brilliant performance. Arthur Hoops is a perfect villian, while Jeanette Horton makes a most delightful heroine.

AT THE JEFFERSON.

A Fine Picture and Beautiful Star at Jefferson.

The one great advantage of the motion picture is that the productions that are shown in the great cities of the country are the same that are shown in our home town, as there are no number two companies. That is why you will always find an excellent show at the Jefferson and it is not a puzzle as that house shows first run pictures and only the cream selected from the leading producers of the world. That is why Jefferson standard has a meaning. The current attraction, "Tennessee's Pardner," is no exception. The beautiful American actress, Fannie Ward, is the star, and she is the same star who became famous over night, by her remarkable performance of the wife in "The Cheat," which has been the topic of conversation ever since it was shown some time ago. As Tennessee, she has an entirely different role than she has heretofore appeared in; that of a sixteen year old girl just out of a convent and with no knowledge of the world. She has for years lived in anticipation of seeing her "Daddy," whom she has never seen. She arrives at the little town full of hopes, only to learn that he has been dead for years, and here is where the artistry of this little woman comes into play. Her acting is superb. Pathos, sorrow and disappointment are depicted with rare intelligence in this one scene, which stamps her as one of the foremost emotional actresses of the day. The last showing with Pathe News is today. Tomorrow comes Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Castle in "The Whirl of Life."

AT THE LYRIC.

Last Opportunity to See "The Missing Links" With Keystone Comedy. Tonight offers the last chance to see the initial Triangle program at the Lyric, headed by "The Missing Links," featuring Miss Norma Talmadge and Robert Herron, with "Because He Loved Her So," a Keystone comedy, with Sam Bernard as an added feature.

"The Missing Links" is a powerful drama, the scene of action being laid in a small country town, with an interest compelling story, capably acted by the large company of players, headed by Miss Talmadge. This picture was produced by D. W. Griffith, of "Birth of a Nation" fame.

To say that the comedy, "Because He Lived Her So," is a Keystone, tells the whole story. The brand Keystone has come to mean only the best and funniest of comedies, and this is no exception.

Bidwell and Rice, the operatic singers, who opened at the Lyric Monday, have delighted every audience to which they have sung, and are adding to their friends at every performance. This is without exception one of the finest singing acts ever offered the audiences of a photo play theater, or any other. Their offering for today will consist of the old ballad, "Alice, Where Art Thou?" and "Somewhere a Voice is Calling." Mrs. Malay at the organ is doing her usual brilliant work, and as one of the patrons of the Lyric put it, "Her playing is well worth the price of admission to the Lyric alone."

THURSTON SHOWS MARVELOUS SKILL

Big Audience Delights in Wizardry of Noted Conjuror.

Merely judging from applause given might convey the idea that the big audience at the Majestic theater on Tuesday evening to see Thurston, the magician, did not think they were seeing much. But that was not the case. The audience saw so much that they forgot to stir their hands and one trick followed another so fast that some people missed a lot. One can't stop to watch the liberated pigeons walking around in one corner of the stage or think what a pretty girl about one of the magician's attendants, because Mr. Thurston is doing something all the time while his agreeable personality, his softly modulated voice and his cheerful smile are as much of a continuous delight as are his deft hands and his wonderful tricks. Mr. Thurston's program is a long one and is presented in three parts. Of the most daring and mystifying ones in the first part are the levitation of the young girl, the Princess Karnac. The suspending of the girl in the air after a supposed hypnotizing of her, has been explained by a few people who think they know something about a concealed spring of peculiar shape, but they never tell what becomes of the spring or where it is, so it is far easier to believe in Mr. Thurston's power to levitate the girl for the illusion is one of the most daring as well as difficult "tricks" that Mr. Thurston, or Hermann, or Keller or any East Indian sorcerer has ever worked out and accomplished. It is just as interesting the third or fourth time it is seen as the first, and just as mystifying. A trick that was especially clever was the exchanging of the heads of a duck and a rooster. There actually walked off the stage a rooster with a duck's head and a duck waddled off with the head of a rooster on it. Of course there were many little tricks that kept the audience in a great laugh all of the time and small boys and several young men from the audience went upon the stage somewhat as if they were hypnotized, to let Mr. Thurston use them. The little boy and girl in the egg trick were very cunning and the trick was not only awfully funny, but very pretty to watch. Mr. Thurston explains to the aids he gets from the audience just what to do and there is no reason for anyone to feel the least embarrassed while on the stage. Certainly Mr. Thurston is kindness itself. Anyway that is what the boy who got a rabbit to take home thought. There were many cabinet tricks as daring as ever, while the young lady who in some way got from a trunk into a glass case of water, from which she emerged dripping wet, did so before the eyes of the audience, though no one saw her and of course everybody thinks there were two girls looking just alike. However, ask Mr. Thurston about that. The people who know "how it was done" are always present but they can't pull rabbits, ducks and geese from either their own backs or from someone's else back, tricks which the great magician Thurston doesn't call his big acts at all. The phantom piano, the haunted screen, the Bangkok bungalow, the lady and the boy and the big triple mystery were of the latter part of the wonderful program. Here's hoping that the audience tonight will express some sort of an appreciation of the program and the magician at the close of the entertainment.

Howard L. Manley has leased the room at 711 Clinton street from John H. Bass and will open a restaurant in the near future.

BIG KEY NOW HAS A NEW CUSTODIAN

Park Board Passes Valve Wrench of Delta Lake to Strodel.

Possession of the key to the valve that stands between Delta lake and the Maumee river was formally passed from the park board to Street and Sewer Superintendent Herman Strodel Wednesday morning, and that municipal functionary hereafter will exercise custodianship of the wrench. The transfer was without ceremony and more official than actual, for the key is twelve feet in length, a couple of inches in diameter and weighs about 150 pounds. With the passing of the key passes also control of the water in Delta lake and the lagoon of Lakeside park and hereafter the department of public works will exercise complete authority over everything that has to do with drainage in Lakeside and Forest park additions. The drainage of Delta Lake is proceeding and it is expected the water will be lowered to a nine-foot level by Thursday noon. At 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, after having been open for forty-eight hours, the waste pipe was running a stream a foot deep from the lake. The ice has broken up and for the present skating in Lakeside is over. Reducing the level of the lake and lagoons to a nine-foot stage will not greatly diminish the skating area.

MEETING OF CITY COUNCIL

Annual Report of City Comptroller Shows Financial Condition.

That the city's financial condition need not be viewed with alarm was shown in the city council Tuesday evening when Comptroller W. C. Baade's annual report was submitted to that body. The exhibit shows that in the general fund there is a balance of $75,928.62, an increase of $1,439.59 over last year's balance in the annual report. In the special funds there is a balance of $284,766.75, against which there are unredeemed warrants of $26,320.05 and the park funds on hand are $13,042.10. The total cash of the city on hand Jan. 1, 1915, was $325,019.98. The total receipts for the general fund were $457,963.70. The total appropriations pro- 000. Against the funds on hand is appro- Against the funds on hand is an appropriation not yet expended of $14,500 for the motorization of the equipment in engine house No. 1. The comptroller cites a loss of $3,600 to the city because a dozen saloons went out of business. The comptroller's report was referred to the committee on finance.

To the committee on finance the council referred an ordinance appropriating $300 to the police station account for the purchase of additional "dummy policemen" for the regulation of traffic at street intersections and to purchase and install a number of "no parking" signs on the streets down town. The council referred to the committee on contracts and franchises an ordinance approving a contract made by the board of works for the purchase of iron pipe for the waterworks department and passed a measure authorizing the same board to sell an accumulation of junk in the street cleaning department.

BULLETIN.

London, Feb. 9.—Two German seaplanes raided the coast of Kent today, dropping several bombs. No casualties have been reported.

WILL HAVE TO USE DYNAMITE.

The Moellering Construction company which has begun the work of repairing the wash-out and bridge approach at the east end of the Spy Run bridge in Lawton park, destroyed by the freshet of three weeks ago, will have to employ dynamite to break up the huge concrete slabs that constituted the piers of the wooden approach. These piers fell flat in the bed off the stream and are diverting the current in such a fashion as to cause the stream to eat farther into the embankment. Dynamite is the most practicable means of breaking them up so they can be removed. They weigh many tons.

ASKS PARENTS TO REPORT.

Dr. J. H. Gilpin, secretary of the board of health, in his campaign to compel stricter observance of the law requiring attending physicians to report births within three days after they occur, is repeating his request to parents of newborn infants to report to the health office if within a reasonable time they fail to see a notice of their latest arrival in the list of natal statistics in the newspapers of the city. The department is reluctant to begin action against physicians for their delinquencies in this respect, but will do so in the cases of some of the more persistent violators of the law.

Lincoln's birthday will be observed in the schools of the city and county on Friday, as no school is held on Saturday.

BOWLING | BASKETBALL | BOXING | BASEBALL

MANSFIELD FALLS BEFORE ST. PAULS

Ohio Speed Demons Aren't in the Running With Local Germans.

St. Paul's Walther leaguers proved themselves too rapid by far for the Mansfield world beaters, and the local boys copped last night's go by a score of 50 and 18. Mansfield always has been considered one of the strong teams of the middle west and the manner in which the local boys ran around them certainly is a big credit mark in favor of St. Paul's.

The old Friar lineup worked for the first time under the Walther league banner last evening, and put up a brand of ball rarely witnessed in these parts. Referee Louis Island was on the job pretty consistently, watching for rough stuff, but was forced to call but a few fouls.

After the first five minutes of play the visitors began to lag, and by the end of the first half it was evident to the most inexperienced observer that the Mansfieldians were hopelessly outclassed. Stroup, Gerberding and MacMurray all put up great offensive games, while in his short time in play Benz put up a classy brand of stuff. Diedrich and Kennedy got tired playing the defensive game now and then, and each of them is credited with a couple of field goals as the result. The lineups and scores:

St. Paul's, 50—Stroup, R. F.; Gerberding-Benz, L. F.; MacMurray, C.; Dietrich, R. G.; Kennedy, L. G.

Mansfield, 18—Miller, R. F.; Leuthner, L. F.; Hughes, C.; Pecht, R. G.; Wilcox, L. G.

Field goals—Stroup, 8; Gerberding, 4; MacMurray, 6; Dietrich, 2; Kennedy, 2; Leuthner, 3; Hughes, 3.

Foul goals—Gerberding, 6; Miller, 1; Leuthner, 3.

Referee—Island.

LYCEUM FEDS TO MEET ZANESVILLE

The Lyceum Feds take on the overwhelming Zanesville giants next Friday evening at the Lyceum gym at Butler and Harrison streets. It will be a great game for both teams put up a brand of basketball that makes the fans sit up and take notice. It has been the contention of many local fans that Zanesville would not allow itself to be beaten by any local team. There is just as strong a belief that the Lyceum Feds cannot be beaten on their own floor, no matter what team comes to play them. So the going Friday night will be interesting to the lovers of speedy sport.

ALL SET FOR THE MEETING OF SHOP LEAGUE BOOSTERS THIS EVENING

With officials of various industrial institutions promising their aid in the formation of an industrial baseball league, with several of Fort Wayne's live bodies actively interested, with the city government proffering its assistance, and with thousands of fans all over the city prepared to get behind and boost, Fort Wayne can have and will have an industrial league that will make a high mark in the history of Fort Wayne's sport. To this end a meeting of persons interested has been called at The Sentinel office at 7:45 this evening to form a temporary organization that will develop into a league representing the baseball enthusiasts of six or eight shops and manufactories.

Indications point to an enthusiastic meeting tonight, and there may be even more shops represented than can gain admittance to the league. In case this is the case it will be necessary to pick from the list those teams which early in the organization hold promise of enthusiasm and pep and ability.

The meeting tonight will result in a general discussion and the presentation of ideas by the representatives of various interests involved, in the naming of temporary officers to handle the preliminary work, and the appointment of several committees to investigate matters that will have to be looked into before the final organization can be completed.

It is hoped by those instrumental in stirring up the interest in the proposed organization that all teams desiring admittance to the league will have representatives at tonight's meeting.

Ebbets Once More Presses Plan in Recruiting from Majors.

New York, Feb. 9.—A resolution introduced by President Ebbets, of Brooklyn, limiting the number of 25 cent bleacher seats at the grounds of any club to 2,000 and several other propositions not reached at yesterday's session were before the annual meeting of the National league today. Mr. Ebbetts' innovation, if adopted, would have a severe effect upon several clubs. At present there are 10,000 25 cent seats in Boston, 9,000 in St. Louis, 6,500 in Philadelphia and 4,000 in Cincinnati. Representatives of some of the western clubs expect to oppose the measure on the ground that it would deprive them of considerable revenue.

Mr. Ebbets also has a resolution to adopt a new system of drafting minor league players. This measure was defeated two seasons ago. The question of the regulation and distribution of passes was left unfinished at yesterday's meeting.

The most important action taken at the opening session was the investment of President John K. Tener with absolute authority to decide disputes over protested games. The members today were unanimous in the belief that this change would do away with the complications arising under the old system, which gave the clubs the privilege of appeal from the president's decision to the board of directors.

The members exchanged congratulations today over the adoption of a playing schedule that contained only three conflicts. The league race will start officially April 12 with New York playing in Philadelphia, Boston at Brooklyn, Chicago at Cincinnati and Pittsburg at St. Louis. As in the past each club will play three home series, closing the season in the east Oct. 5 and in the west Oct. 1. The league will celebrate the fortieth anniversary of its organization with a dinner here tonight, which will be attended by about 250 guests.

DAYTON CADETS HERE FOR PAIR OF GAMES

The Dayton Cadets, who meet the St. Mary's five Sunday afternoon and St. Paul's Monday night, already has started on its trip, which is to include Fort Wayne. For the past few days the team has been playing central and southern Ohio cities, and will show in Evansville tomorrow. Then it will come up state, and after leaving here go back through northwestern Ohio. Sollenberger, the star center, will be the only one of the famous lineup not to show in Fort Wayne, but Bill Varley has been shoved in his place, and Varley is one of the best bets of Ohio state.

MOVIES OF SELF TEACH GIBBONS.

Some folk think Mike Gibbons, the St. Paul phantom, knows about all there is to know about the boxing game, but he doesn't think so. He is ever on the watch for a chance to learn more.

Movies of Mike in his one-round knockout of Young Ahearn are being shown in St. Paul, and Mike has seen them a dozen times. He goes to study his movements in the ring and see if he has any faults.

Mike says seeing movies of himself in action has taught him things about himself that he had never noticed in his years of boxing and gym work.

HOCKEY ISN'T THE PERFECT LADY-GAME ON THE WESTERN COAST.

Ed Carpenter, of Seattle, Another "Hard Man" on the Ice.

"Smoky" Harris, of Portland, One of the "Smashers."

(By Jack Jungmeyer, Staff Correspondent.)

Portland, Ore., Feb. 9.—Probably the bitterest feud in the sport world just now is that between the Portland and Seattle hockey teams.

Whenever these two aggregations clash malice takes its toll in one or more painful injuries upon the players.

A slashing sport to begin with, the western game has been "roughed" to a dangerous pitch by the leaders of the Oregon and Washington clubs.

Somehow or other these skaters had acquired the reputation of being hard men on the ice. The fans expected to see some rough work. The players had to live up to their accredited qualities.

And so the smashing of heads has become a pleasant pastime—pleasant to the spectator.

A dented head or slashed cheek, naturally, calls for retaliation in the next game. Thus it has gone from bad to worse.

Portland is leading the Pacific coast association by a good margin. This, too, rankles under the padded sweaters of the Seattle Metropolitans who, not so long ago, were champions of all America when they wore the Toronto letter.

Fines and temporary suspensions by the club managers have not served to curb the growing animosity, and fans are looking for some serious mishaps before the close of the season.

DILLON, A DEMON IN THE RING, SAYS PRAYER BEFORE BATTLES.

JACK DILLON, THE HOOSIER BEARCAT, IN STREET CLOTHES AND FIGHTING POSE.

That old familiar lay entitled, "He hasn't a thing but his glove and a prayer," has been associated with baseball since the old days. Should Jack Dillon, or, to be exact, Ernest Cutler Price, the bristling, pompadoured, bone-crushing middleweight of Indianapolis, be given a chance at Jess Willard, the saying will be transferred to the ring and Dillon will wheel into action with "his gloves and a prayer."

The prayer will be offered with truly devout blessing. Jack has said a prayer in his corner prior to every ring battle in which he has engaged. Once he has said his prayer and the gong rings, "Let-er-Go" Dillon is transformed into a fighting demon, possessed of unlimited courage and a terrific "kick" in his right mauler.

Tom Jones, manager of Willard, says Dillon is the greatest man of his inches since the days of Stanley Ketchell.

Standing 5 feet 8 inches and scaling 170 on the hoof, the Hoosier bearcat believes he can whip Willard.

"My best punch is as old as the hills," Jack says, exerting on the kayo wallops that have ended many encounters. "They used it in the old London ring rule days, a common, ordinary righthand swing, delivered from well back of the shoulder. Once it lands flush and the other fellow hears the bugles blowing taps."

Dillon's willingness to tackle Willard, who weighs nearly fifty pounds more, is a sample of his nerve. He'll fight any man in the world, regardless of size or weight.

Dillon used to be able to find men of his weight who were willing to meet him, but he disposed of most of them and now he seldom gets a match with a man near his size.

The Indianapolis man can cut the big fellows down to his size. When offered a match with the giant Willard he signed for $10,000 as his share and was willing that Willard should get $35,000 or $50,000, or whatever the promoters wanted to give him. Dillon said the thing he wanted most was a chance at the title.

WILLARD 50 POUNDS OVER MORAN'S WEIGHT

And is Six Inches Taller Than the Man He Will Face in New York.

Jess Willard, heavyweight champion, will weigh about fifty pounds more than Frank Moran when they meet in New York March 5 for the first bout Willard has had since he beat Jack Johnson for the title nearly a year ago.

When Willard met Johnson he weighed 250. Moran weighs 202. Jess weighs in the neighborhood of 275, but is flabby and will not have much trouble getting down to about 250 by time for the bout.

The champion is six inches taller than Moran, measuring 6 feet 7 inches. Despite the advantage in height he has the edge in reach. Jess has a spread of 83½ inches, which is five inches greater than that of Moran. At that rate Willard should be able to hold the Irishman off so that Moran's swing would miss their mark.

Willard's reach has served him well in all his matches. He has never met a fighter of any importance at all who equaled him in reach.

Moran says he is not going to jump to hit Willard about the head, but will play for his middle section. He has a hunch that by attacking Jess in the midriff he can cut him down to his size, and besides, claims Jess is weak in the bread basket.

Johnson played on Willard's stomach, but was unable to bother him much. In the bargain, Jess knows most of the men he meets are going to play for his bread basket and he has built up a defense for that kind of attack.

JEFF ASKED TO REFEREE BOUT

JAS. J. JEFFRIES

Jim Jeffries, former heavyweight champion, is being considered as referee for the bout in New York March 8 between Jess Willard and Frank Moran.

Tex Rickard, promoter of the bout, says a husky fellow will be needed to properly handle the big battlers. He figures Jeff has the size and strength and has been in enough bouts to know the duties of a referee.

If Jeff gets the job his appearance in the ring will be his first break into the limelight since he was beaten by Jack Johnson.

Pennsy Engine Crew Called to Pull Cars from the Siding.

When fire was discovered in the corn drying room of the E. E. Delphi elevator at Bourbon at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, the Bourbon fire department enlisted the aid of the Pennsylvania company in moving a string of freight cars to a point of safety. Pennsylvania company employes were on the job within a couple of minutes after the first alarm, and had the fire gotten beyond the control of the fire department of the little town, would have been of great assistance in saving property.

The engine was run into the siding and the cars were ready to be coupled on. They were loaded with grain and had the blaze reached them the loss to them would have been very heavy.

The fire department managed to extinguish the blaze before it got beyond the corn drying room, and the loss is not heavy.

MUSKRAT IN SHOPS.

Big Fellow Got Into Store Room in Some Way and Created Excitement.

For several weeks back the employes of the Pennsylvania store room have noticed that bits of rubber hose, order blanks, and a variety of other kinds of stock were being chewed up by a nibbling animal. However, they never so much as got a glimpse of the offender.

H. J. Niezer doped it that mice were at work, and so with the aid of several other employes they set mouse traps about the place. But it was of no avail. Rat traps and poison merely wasted time and the nibbler continued its outrages.

Night before last Night Watchman Joe Weiss came out of the cellar like a Russian retreat. Over in the corner he had seen an animal crouching in the dark, and from where he turned around it bore a family resemblance to a grizzly bear.

So as soon as it was light enough to venture into the cellar this morning a posse headed by Charles Hardendorf surrounded the place and began to close in on a barrel in which the intruder was heard. They found him and killed him, one of the largest muskrats ever seen in these parts. How he had gotten there and the story of his journey so far inland is a mystery which probably will go forever unsolved.

NEW GENERAL AUDITOR NAMED.

President E. F. Kearney, of the Wabash, has announced that L. G. His title will be general auditor, and he will report to the president. There will be no other changes in the auditing department.

Scott has been auditor of the Texas and Pacific since January, 1914. He was at one time located in St. Louis as chief clerk in the Cotton Belt (St. Louis Southwestern) auditing department. Subsequently he became auditor of the Minneapolis and St. Louis and the Iowa Central at Minneapolis.

EARNINGS ON INCREASE.

(Peru Journal.)

Old Man Prosperity, camping on the Wabash system during the month of January, waxed fat and reached records in railroad earnings that have never before been equalled, according to reports from general headquarters in St. Louis. Earnings on the Wabash for the month of January showed an increase in freight of $603,000, passenger, $20,000 and miscellaneous, $5,000.

The last ten days of the month made a new system record in the carload movement of freight. Earnings during that period showed an increase in freight of $201,000, in passenger $17,000 and miscellaneous $3,000.

HARRY HILGEMANN FOR CONGRESS

(From Auburn Courier.)

"When the democrats of Allen county decided to present a candidate for congress to the party in this district, their choice of a favorite son fell on Harry H. Hilgemann; they knew their man. Mr. Hilgemann was closing his second term as prosecutor of the county. He was free from entanglements that usually weaken a candidate. He had no sore spots to heal. Genial in his disposition he counted his friends by the thousands. He has always responded to the call to colors when the party was in the midst of a campaign. He was eloquent on the stump, fearless in his official duties, and his character as a man and a citizen was beyond reproach. His friends knew that he would make an ideal candidate and a 'vote getter.'

"Harry Hilgemann goes before the democrats of this district with these credentials. Even those who for personal reasons do not look kindly on his candidacy for congress freely admit that he has proven himself to be a faithful, loyal and conscientious official, always true to the best interests of the people. He is free and clean-handed; he has not mortgaged the future with promises. The man to represent this district in congress is one who has 'made good' in the past. This is the class of men who come to the front. His friends court investigation of his character and his ability to fill the position he seeks."

Germany Sought Separate Peace With Japan, He Declares.

Tokio, Jan. 10.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press).—Confirmation of reports that Germany has been unsuccessfully trying to conclude a separate peace with Japan was made by Count Okuma, the premier, in an interview with a representative of the Kokumin Shimbun, on January 5. The premier believed this indicated that Germany was showing certain signs of suffering, chiefly as a result of the weaken condition of her finances.

While no details of the peace negotiations were made public, the premier said it was hardly necessary to announce that Japan would adhere to the London peace declaration by which she had agreed not to make a separate peace.

Criticism in some quarters has arisen because Japan's adhesion to the London peace declaration was undertaken by the government without consultation with the privy council, but in defending the government's action, Count Okuma declared it was a natural result of the declaration of war by Japan upon Germany.

"The fact," he said, "that the anti-Japanese sentiment in Canada, the United States, Australia and other countries has gradually subsided and is being replaced with a favorable sentiment towards Japan is due to our acts of loyalty to pledges."

At the same time the premier made the important announcement that Japan is about to obtain from Russia certain concessions in forestry, mining and other industries in the northern half of Saghalien island, which is owned by Russia. The southern half of this island was acquired by Japan at the conclusion of the Russo-Japanese war.

"Russia," said the premier, "is very grateful for the material and moral support extended to her by Japan since the outbreak of the war." He referred also to the forthcoming visit to Tokio of the Grand Duke George Michaelovitch, a cousin of the czar, as another indication of the growing friendship between Japan and Russia, which many people believe will grow into an alliance.

Count Okuma made a plea for a united Japan in this period of war and earnestly urged the political groups of the empire to cease their conflicts and come together in an effort to improve the welfare of their country. He declard that recent Japanese diplomacy had not been a failure as some of the government's enemies were insinuating.

Speaking of the relations with China, he pointed out that Baron Kato, the former foreign minister, was able to secure various concessions in Manchuria and Mongolia and to extend the railway and other concessions to 99 years "without moving a single soldier or manoeuvring a single warship" and he had done this "while conversing with Chinese officials with smiles on his face."

"Even if the present disturbances should spread throughout China," he continued, "our country need not mobilize troops there. If a portion of our fleet should take some action in the rivers, lakes, or along the coast of China it would be sufficient. In case of necessity we are prepared to undertake to protect Europeans and Americans as well as our own fellow countrymen."

TAXI MEN ADDING TO LONDON'S WOES

City Rises in Rebellion Against Insolence and Whistling.

London, Feb. 9.—The taxi shortage in London has caused the public to fill the mail bags of the local newspapers with complaints regarding the insolence of drivers and the whistling nuisance. During rush hours, especially during dinner and theater times, drivers often refuse to take fares unless they chance to be going in the direction the driver favors. This is due to the rule that drivers when not carrying passengers must pay for their own gasoline. A movement for a law to prevent the use of whistles to call taxis is suggested, but while putting down a nuisance, it would not help transportation facilities.

The real trouble is traced to the enlistment of competent drivers. Because of this, some of the taxi companies have temporarily retired from business. Scotland Yard has hindered the substitution of new drivers by a refusal to relax on the strict geographical examination of former days. Then, every candidate had to show an intimate knowledge of London's streets and by-ways. Many women could easily qualify on the mechanical side and show a fair general knowledge of London, if the rules were relaxed. Meantime, Londoners who used to look down on plebian modes of travel are taking to the undergrounds and the buses, which maintain excellent services notwithstanding the war.

Under the pressure of necessity, owing to its scarcity because of the war, platinum is being replaced in many electrical appliances.

Frank A. Emrick.

On the first day of January, 1916, F. A. Emrick assumed the duties of the office to which, for over a year, he had been elected. Just twelve years before he had ceased to be a member, as deputy, of the office of prosecuting attorney. When he entered upon the duties again, it was with over four years' experience, fortified by twelve more in active civil practice. Two years ago, when he was a candidate, he promised the people that he would appoint able young lawyers as his assistants. He has kept that promise, and so well have the affairs of the office been handled by the new force, that they have been commended by all persons regardless of party. They believe in an effective enforcement of the law, and expect to continue to command the respect of the public. The prosecuting attorney is elected for two years, and it has been customary to elect for two terms. Frank Emrick is a candidate for the office for his second term, and he again asks the people for a vote of confidence.—Advertisement.

NEW BAD CHECK DODGE.

'Phone Is Used to Aid in Passing Fraudulent Paper.

Columbus, Ind., Feb. 9.—Mead Shumway, a local druggist, heard the telephone bell ring and answered it.

"This is Lee Bassett," said a voice at the other end of the wire. "Will you cash a check for me if I send a man over with it?" It was after banking hours, Mr. Bassett is a business man and Mr. Shumway knows him well.

"Of course, I'll cash it," he said.

A few minutes later a colored man entered the drug store with a check. It was drawn on Irwin's bank here for $5 and bore the signature of Mr. Bassett. Mr. Shumway cashed the check without looking at the colored man. He found out the next day that the check was a forgery. The colored man disappeared.

Princeton, Ind., Feb. 9.—The death at Fort Branch of Mrs. Cyrena Shanner, widow of Charles T. Shanner, removed one of the few surviving daughters of the war of 1812. She was the daughter of Colonel Joshua Duncan, a soldier of the war of 1812 and of the battle of Tippecanoe, and was eighty-seven years old. Thomas Duncan, chairman of the state public service commission, a nephew, delivered a brief address at the funeral. Surviving are four children, Mrs. Marshall Stone, Ft. NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

Mrs. Mary Roe, of Adams County, Laid to Rest Near Berne.

Berne, Ind., Feb. 9.—Mrs. Mary Roe, for many years a resident of Adams county, was buried this week from the Spring Hill church near this place, having been brought here from Vicksburg, Mich., where she had been spending the winter with a daughter, Mrs. Jude Harrison. Had Mrs. Roe survived until March 5 she would have been 103 years old. For one of her extreme age she had been in good health until a few days before her death, when a fatal illness seized her. She had spent her summers in this county and her winters in Vicksburg for the past several years. Only last November she went back to Vicksburg, making the long trip by automobile, without any ill results. She continued remarkably strong to the day of her death, and on the day that her demise occurred she had been sitting up two or three times. The deceased was the widow of Joel Roe. She leaves the following children: Mrs. Sarah Reynolds, of Decatur; Nathan Roe, Berne; Joel Roe, Pleasant Mills; Susan Calderwood, Upland; Michael Roe, Kalamazoo Mich.; Malinda Buckmaster, Monroe; Cabel Roe, Lagrange.

CHARLIE WARREN IN SKIRTS.

Lady Swindler Cleans Up Nappanee in Approved Fashion.

Warsaw, Ind., Feb. 9.—According to reports from Nappanee there is no trace of Mrs. George Gregier, the Elgin, Ill., woman who after bargaining for the purchase of the F. B. Coppes farm at $185 per acre, is declared to have swindled Jacob S. Walters, of the First National bank, out of $100 and the Newcomer jewelry store of two watches, one of which was the property of the late William Doering, of Goshen. The woman stopped all night at the home of Ed Ulrey and met many Nappanee people. She said her son was going to be married and would live on the farm. Nearly all the cut glass in the Newcomer store was set aside for wedding gifts. Mr. Walters, it is said, reasoned the acquisition would be a fine thing for Nappanee and accompanied her to the B. & O. station. The last seen of her was at Milford Junction. As a forfeit in connection with the farm purchase, which was drawn by Perry A. Early, a Nappanee lawyer, Mrs. Cregier deposited a $1,000 note. During the sojourn in Nappanee she met the Stryckers and others, gaining their confidence, it is said.

FORGER AT WORK IN NOBLE.

Columbia City, Ind., Feb. 9.—In the past four or five months four checks have been forged on Ebner Weaver, who lives over the line in Noble county, the last one coming to light recently. One of them was payable to Wm. Bonar, another to Jap Nobles, another to another party and the last one to Ralph Pressler, the 19 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Pressler, and it called for $8. The boy had not been in this city since last October until last Saturday, and the check had been issued before that time. Mr. Weaver is desirous of locating the individual who is signing his name to checks and passing them. He keeps his bank account at the First National bank in this city and the checks are passed to merchants in this city and then turned in at the bank. The largest amount called for by any of the checks was $15.

MOTHER SAVES BOY FROM DEATH

Huntington, Ind., Feb. 9.—The six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Fisher, of Broadway, was seriously burned when his clothes caught fire from a heating stove. It is thought the boy had opened the stove door and was playing with the fire. Mrs. Fisher was in a sort of basement-kitchen doing her morning housework when she heard the boy scream. She rushed up stairs and found him enveloped in flames from his clothes. Mrs. Fisher grabbed covering from a bed and smothered the flames by wrapping it about the boy. She then threw the covers out of door. A physician was called and he dressed the burns, which covered the right side of the face, the right arm, right side and part of the right leg, as well as the left forearm. Some of the burns were very deep.

BOYS MUST EARN FINES

Huntington, Ind., Feb. 9.—Three boys, charged with petit larceny, after the discovery that they had broken into various groceries in Huntington, were tried before Police Judge A. J. Rosebrough in city police court, and pleaded guilty to the charge.

The discovery of the guilt of the boys was due to their teachers, at William street school, overhearing a conversation about the stolen goods. When they were arraigned, the boys at once pleaded guilty, and after a severe lecture by the judge, were fined the lowest possible, $5 and costs. The fine will have to be paid or the boys go to jail. The docket was stayed by the boys' parents until the boys can earn enough money to pay the fines.

WELLS CENTENNIAL PLANS.

Bluffton, Ind., Feb. 9.—County Clerk Herman F. Lesh, recently appointed committeeman from Wells county to supervise plans for the celebration of the Indiana centennial, has called a meeting to be held at the city library at 8 o'clock next Friday evening, February 11th, for the purpose of discussing and devising plans for an observance by Wells county of the one hundredth anniversary of Indiana's admission to statehood. The counties throughout the state are adopting various methods of celebrating the centennial. Some will set aside special occasions for spectacular productions, while many are planning to set aside a particular day or days during fair or carnivals to be observed as Centennial day.

VAN WERT TO HAVE FORUM

Van Wert, Ohio, Feb. 9.—Plans are now going forward rapidly for the formation of the Van Wert public forum, the first step in which will be taken this evening, when a big meeting will be held at the high school auditorium for the purpose of organizing. As it is planned, the organization will be open to the public at large and there will be no dues or membership fees. Everyone from every class of society will have an opportunity to come to the meetings. It is hoped in this way that an expression of crystallized public sentiment may be obtained on a variety of public matters and that the organization may have a marked force in formation of public opinion and the action of officials.

MIXUP IN NAMES

Van Wert, Ohio, Feb. 9.—Probate Judge Koch has received a telegram from the probate judge of Hamilton county stating that George Miller, of near Convoy, was being held in the probate court in that county on a lunacy charge, and asking for information about him. It states that a brother, Willis Miller, lived near Convoy. Investigation proved that there was a mixup in the names and that the only Miller who answered the description was George Miller, of north of Dixon, whose brother Willis has been absent for several years. It is thought that it is this Willis Miller who is being held in Hamilton.

DIPHTHERIA AT WOLF LAKE.

Columbia City, Ind., Feb. 9.—A couple cases of diphtheria, near Wolf Lake, has given the people quite a scare around there. A McCormick girl, who was very ill, is said to be getting over it, and Mr. Rolly Weber, who has been very seriously ill with it, is now thought to be improving. Because of these cases so near Wolf Lake, the revival meetings which began a week ago, closed. The primary grade and the fifth and sixth grades in the school have been closed all week, and they will probably open Wednesday. Many are keeping their children out of school for fear of exposing them.

GRIP FATAL TO AGED MAN.

Auburn, Ind., Feb. 9.—Grip and pneumonia proved fatal to Elias J. Mr. Fisher was in his 83rd year, having been born in Wayne county, Indiana, September 18, 1833. He has spent nearly all his life in the state of his birth. For the past three years Mr. Fisher made his home with his son, John, near Spencerville. He was a member of the Saints church, near Spencerville.

HARTFORD CITY INTERESTED

Hartford City, Feb. 9.—People in this city are greatly interested in the $10,000 damage suit filed in the Delaware circuit court by Thompson Huffman against William C. Racer, jr., of Albany. Racer has retained Attorney L. B. Simmons, of this city, to defend him. According to the defendant's attorney, the suit filed at Muncie is the outcome of the Huffman divorce case which is pending in the Blackford circuit court. The allegations made by Huffman in his suit against Racer are the same which appear in his cross complaint to the divorce actions.

TWO TAKEN TO PENAL FARM.

He was caught by Night Policeman Reynolds while at the job. Coffee goes for ninety days and Stevens for six months.

NEW TREATMENT FOR SWOLLEN VEINS

Swollen veins are dangerous and often burst. Sufferers are advised to get a two-ounce, original bottle of Emerald Oil (full strength) at any pharmacist and start to reduce the veins and bunches at once.

Physicians recommend Emerald Oil: it is used in hospital practice and a small bottle will last a long time, because it is very concentrated. Apply night and morning with the soft brush as directed until the swelling is reduced to normal.

It is so marvelously powerful that swollen glands and even goitre disappear when used steadily.

Meyer Bros. Drug Co. can always supply you.—Advertisement.

CONSTITUTION OF NATION OUTRAGED

Cruel and Unusual Punishment Inflicted by the City Court.

Thoughtful men may well pause to inquire, "Whither are we drifting?" when they behold sinister violations of the constitution of the land and a ruthless trampling under foot by the courts of its sacred guarantees of human rights and a reckless casting off from the ancient and secure moorings of the republic. Dark foreboding filled the minds and disquieting fear brooded in the bosoms of those who sat in the city court of Fort Wayne, Wednesday morning, and were made pained witnesses of an assault on the organic law of the country by Judge H. Waveland Kerr, who without misgiving and without mercy flouted the American constitution by inflicting cruel and unusual punishment.

Frank Prill was sentenced to take a bath.

To those who do not know the worthy Mr. Prill this may not appear in all its shocking and hideous inhumanity, but to such as may claim the happy chance of acquaintance with this venerable and upright citizen such a judgment will appeal as an outrage, perversion and mockery of justice.

Prill was arrested and arraigned on a charge of trespass sworn to by Mrs. Ida Guebard, mistress of a boarding house at 230 Baker street, who testified that the prisoner at the bar kept himself and his room in such a state of indescribable filth that she could no longer tolerate him. She had fired him out and tried to bar his way when he sought to return, but he swept past her undismayed and unafraid and ensconced himself in his room. Then Mrs. Guebard got out a warrant. In her testimony Mrs. Guebard averred her belief and conviction that Prill had not had a bath since he was washed at birth and piled Ossa upon Pelion by declaring that he was altogether the most populous individual he had ever seen, heard of or imagined.

On the stand in his own defense Prill did he did sometimes take a bath and had been known to change his clothing. In a half-hearted way he denied the allegation that he harbored vermin. Then Judge Kerr, sitting within a foot of him, took note of an animated procession down the lapel of the prisoner's coat. The court shied off another half yard and told Prill there was no denying material evidence. Then came the cruel judgment.

"If you don't clean up I will send you to jail to be renovated," said the court. "You have got to do it. You're awful. I can see 'em now running around all over you. There are three having a race on your collar. If you don't get a bath and clean clothing down to jail you go and I'll see that there's plenty of water, soap, concentrated lye, carbolic acid, formaldehyde to get you clean, wholesome, sanitary and no longer a menace to public health."

Prill said he would do what he could and his employer stepped forward to say that he had been trying to get Prill to take a bath and put on clean clothes and had failed, but would try again. Then Prill went out to brave an ordeal that may be the death of him and a court attache got the fumigating squirt-gun and took proper measures in the court room.

Stewart Case Is Tried.

George "Coon" Stewart, horse dealer, was tried Wednesday morning on a charge of assault and battery on Henry Williams, another horseman. The assault followed a dispute at the Sauers feed barn on Barr street, January 17, when Williams says Stewart struck him over the head with a shovel. Stewart pleaded not guilty and was defended by Attorney L. A. Todd. It is not denied that Stewart struck Williams, but the defendant did not testify and the inference is that he struck him with his fist and that Williams in falling bumped his head against a platform scale near by. The day following the assault Williams appeared at police headquarters to complain of Stewart and Chief of Police Lenz, finding the man seriously injured, ordered him taken to the Lutheran hospital. There Police Surgeon J. Frank Dinnen discovered that Williams had a fractured skull. Williams has been at the hospital ever since, though for a few days has been able to get out. He was taken back to the hospital after the hearing in the city court. Judge Kerr took the case under advisement until Saturday and may bind Stewart over to the circuit court.

CANTRELL SENT TO PRISON.

Former "King of Ghouls" Convicted of Thefts in Michigan.

Detroit, Feb. 9.—Rufus W. Cantrell, "king of the ghouls," has been sentenced by Recorder William F. Connolly to a term of two years in Marquette prison. Cantrell, who was married here a few weeks ago, while conducting religious services in a mission, is alleged to have preached as a cloak for his thefts. Every time the "minister" made a special call he would leave with the money and silverware, it was testified. Eldridge Gowdy, Cantrell's accomplice, was also sentenced to two years in Marquette prison.

"OLD JOHN" GIVES SOME ADVICE IN MATTER OF PREPAREDNESS.

"Old John," Advocate of preparedness.

Portland, Ore., Feb. 9.—"Old John," patriarch and sachem of the Siletz Indians, is a stoical advocate of preparedness.

"In summer," he grunts, "must get ready for winter.

"Me, I buy overcoat last August because know him going to be dam cold winter. Now you see!" And he drew his tattered but serviceable coat about his shoulders.

Oregonians, who have long known "Old John," laughed when the grizzled Siletz prophet predicted for this winter the worst snows in years. But now that the severest weather the northwest has known in many seasons has swept southward as far almost as Mexico, they are recalling the patriarch's warnings.

ENTER FIGHT FOR LOWER POSTAGE

More Congressmen Giving Aid to 1c Drop Letter Rate Plan.

Washington, Feb. 9.—Enthusiasm is running high among members of congress for a reduction in the rate of postage on local delivery letters. Since the holiday recess many additional members have entered the fight. As a result several more bills have been introduced proposing a rate of one cent on all drop letters in one form or another.

In the house 44 different members have introduced bills proposing a reduction in the rate. Of this number 22 are democrats and 22 republicans. In the senate 2 democratic and six republican members have introduced bills, making the total number of bills introduced in the two houses 52. Observing that the bills are fathered by members of both parties, there can be no feeling of partisan legislation.

The business people of the country are much aroused over the possibility of getting some action in this session of congress. Members have been receiving hundreds of letters urging early action and at the same time pointing out how much more business the government would get should the rate be reduced to one cent. The argument is made that business is in a nervous condition and that the government can improve this situation by granting the proposed legislation at this time. Nearly two hundred national associations have passed resolutions indorsing the movement in addition to several thousand local organizations such as trade bodies, boards of trade, chambers of commerce, etc.

The postal committee of the house realizes the significance of the demands that are being made and has begun a series of hearings on the various bills, the first of which was held a few days ago. At this time not a single person appeared to speak against the proposition. Many convincing arguments were made on why the condition of the federal treasury should not be held as an excuse to delay action at this time.

No member of the committee is regarded as opposed to the proposition but some of them are inclined to want to force a change in the system of railway pay instead of recommending early legislation on drop letters. A few members entertain a fear that the proposed reduction in the rate might result in a slight loss in revenue. This view is opposed by the postal experts who insist that the increased volume of mail, which is bound to follow the reduction, will more than double, thereby taking care of any possible loss in revenue.

This argument is more or less borne out by the conditions in Canada. There they have had a one cent drop letter rate for several years. Sometime after the war broke out the government increased the rate one cent on this class of letters as a revenue producer. The deputy postmaster general of Canada a few days ago freely admitted that since the increase took place it has resulted in a marked falling off in the volume of business and the revenues.

During the past several months a marvelous increase has been reported in the receipts of the postal service. In November, last, the receipts increased nearly 14 per cent. over the corresponding month of the previous year, which, according to a statement issued by the postmaster general, is nearly 7 per cent. greater than the normal increase. During the subsequent months it is understood that the increase has been even greater.

The campaign for drop letter reform is both local and national. It is being directed by an organization known as the National One Cent Letter Postage association, with headquarters at Cleveland, Ohio. The directing heads of this organization, Charles William Burrows and George T. McIntosh, are well known retired successful business men of that city who have no axes to grind. They give their valuable time each day in conducting this nation wide campaign, and at a personal sacrifice.

Thin People Can Increase Weight

Thin men and women who would like to increase their weight with 10 or 15 pounds of healthy "stay there" fat should try eating a little Sargol with their meals for a while and note results. Here is a good test worth trying. First weigh yourself and measure yourself. Then take Sargol—one tablet with every meal—for two weeks. Then weigh and measure again. It isn't a question of how you look or feel or what your friends say and think. The scales and the tape measure will tell their own story, and many thin men and women we believe can easily add from five to eight pounds in the first fourteen days by following this simple direction. And best of all, the new flesh stays put.

Sargol does not of itself make fat, but mixing with your food, it aims to turn the fats, sugars and starches of what you have eaten, into rich, ripe fat producing nourishment for the tissues and blood—prepare it in an easily assimilated form which the blood can readily accept. Much of this nourishment now passes from your body as waste. But Sargol works to stop the waste and do it quickly and to make the fat producing contents of the very same meals you are eating now develop pounds and pounds of healthy flesh between your skin and bones. Sargol is safe, pleasant, efficient and inexpensive. Meyer Bros. Drug Co., Dreier Drug Co., D. & N. Pharmacy, The Family Drug Store and other leading druggists in this vicinity sell it in large boxes—forty tablets to a package—on a guarantee of weight increase or money back as found in each large box.—Advertisement.

DRINK HOT WATER BEFORE BREAKFAST

Says you really feel clean, sweet and fresh inside, and are seldom ill.

If you are accustomed to wake up with a coated tongue, foul breath or a dull, dizzy headache; or, if your meals sour and turn into gas and acids, you have a real surprise awaiting you.

Tomorrow morning, immediately upon arising, drink a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is intended to first neutralize and then wash out of your stomach, liver, kidneys and thirty feet of intestines all the indigestible waste, poisons, sour bile and toxins, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal.

Those subject to sick headaches, backache, bilious attacks, constipation or any form of stomach trouble, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store and begin enjoying this morning inside-bath. It is said that men and women who try this become enthusiastic and keep it up daily. It is a splendid health measure for, it is more important to keep clean and pure on the inside than on the outside, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing disease, while the bowel pores do.

The principle of bathing inside is not new, as millions of people practice it. Just as hot water and soap cleanse, purify and freshen the skin, so hot water and a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Limestone phosphate is an inexpensive white powder and almost tasteless.—Advertisement.

DEMAND INCREASE FOR ALL.

Striking Glass Workers at Kokomo Refuse Company's Offer.

Kokomo, Ind., Feb. 9.—The local plant of the Pittsburg Plate Glass company is still closed in every department, following the strike which began last Saturday. The company through the superintendent, W. M. Golightly, has issued notice that it is willing to give all men drawing 20 cents an hour or under an increase of ten per cent. in their wages. The men have announced that they will accept nothing but a flat increase of 5 cents an hour for employes in all departments except the castings hall. In that department the men did not go out; they receive the highest wages and, so far as known, they are not dissatisfied.

The plant has been picketed, and this morning when the castings hall men went to work they were met at the gates by pickets, who induced them to return to their homes. The police are on duty around the plant, and no disturbances occurred except when a potash burner became involved in a controversy with another employe this morning and was choked.

WHEEL TAKES A "JOY RIDE."

Leaves Machine and Disappears in Alley—Driver Not Injured.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 9.—A front wheel of an automobile belonging to Frank Callon, of the firm of Woolen & Callon, 24 South Alabama street, had a little "joy ride" all by itself in Massachusetts avenue, near Edison avenue, Friday afternoon.

Mr. Callon was driving the machine when the wheel started on its ride. The wheel ran up on the sidewalk, circled a telephone pole and disappeared in an alley.

In the meantime Mr. Callon was wondering whether there would be enough of him left for the doctors to find. The automobile bucked like a frisky broncho and began to show how many twists and turns it could make. Mr. Calhoun jammed on all the brakes and managed to bring his three-wheeled auto to a stop before any serious damage was done. He found the front axle broken off at the hub. Besides the broken axle, the fender and foot board of the machine were damaged.

Mr. Callon found the runaway wheel in the alley. It was not damaged. Mr. Callon escaped without injury.

WOULD RETURN TO PRISON.

New Albany, Ind., Feb. 9.—Wade Ernest, 40, recently paroled from the Michigan City prison, appeared at the police station here and asked to be sent back to the state institution. He said he was penniless and discouraged. Ernest returned to prison once before after being paroled. He was informed last night that he was not wanted at the prison again and that $40 due him for labor he performed while voluntarily in the institution is being forwarded. Police are caring for him until the money arrives.

HAD RHEUMATISM EVERY FALL AND WINTER

Mr. Frank E. Beck, formerly of 706 Riverside avenue, Fort Wayne, but now of R. R. No. 2, Auburn, Ind., says: "I would get an attack of rheumatism every fall that would lay me up for the winter. Four years ago I was under the doctor's care for five weeks without any help; my limbs were terribly swollen and my knees were stiff. I could only get about on crutches. Miller's True Herb Remedy was recommended very highly and I got a bottle. After I had the sixth dose taken the swelling and stiffness began to leave me and when I had the second bottle finished I was rid of Rheumatism. I had eczema for years and both diseases were cured with two bottles. I used many kinds of remedies for my troubles but Miller's True Herb Remedy is the only one I can recommend. I used this good medicine four years ago and the cure is holding good. My wife says it is the finest medicine for constipation she ever used."

It will cure any blood disease, also liver, stomach, bowels and kidney pains, dizziness, sick headache. For sale at all drug stores, 75c and $1.50 a bottle—The $1.50 bottle gives you a fifty days' treatment. Direct mail orders to

Impressive Ceremonies at Indiction of Archbishop Mundelein.

Chicago, Feb. 9.—Most Rev. George W. Mundelein, D. D., was installed as the Roman Catholic archbishop of Chicago and metropolitan of the province of Illinois here today with elaborate ceremonies in Holy Name Cathedral. He is the third holder of the office, his predecessors having been Patrick A. Feehan, who died in 1902, and James E. Quigley, whose death occurred last summer. Most Rev. John Bonzano, apostolic delegate to Washington, officiated at the services.

Archbishop Mundelein arrived in Chicago yesterday from Brooklyn, escorted from the city by a delegation of seventy officials of the Chicago diocese.

This morning church societies escorted him from his residence to the cathedral, where he was met by Rt. Rev. M. J. Fitzsimmons, who has been administrator of the arch-diocese since Archbishop Quigley's death. Followed by bishops throughout the country, about fifty in all, and more than 800 Chicago clergymen, Father Mundelein was escorted to the sanctuary with officers of the pontifical mass. Kneeling before the altar the new archbishop heard prayers by Mgr. Fitzsimmons, and ascending to the altar gave his blessing and retired to the throne.

Addresses by the apostolic delegate and archbishop were followed by the bulls proclaiming the appointment of Father Mundelein as archbishop.

After solemn pontifical high mass, celebrated by Monsignor Bonzano, Archbishop Mundelein was vested with full pontificals and proceeding to the altar knelt before the apostolic delegate and took the oath of obedience to the holy see. Monsignor Bonzano cloaked him with the pallium, emblematic of his office of archbishop, closing the ceremony.

Archbishop Mundelein, who is 43 years old, is the youngest priest ever to be entrusted with an arch-diocese of the importance of Chicago. In 1907 he was selected as a member of the Ancient Academy of Arcadi—the only man in the United States upon whom this honor ever was conferred. He assumes, on behalf of the bishopric, the ownership of property worth approximately $50,000,000, and is ecclesiastical ruler of a Roman Catholic community of 1,400,000 people.

How Mr. Davis Got Rid of a Bad Cough

"Some time ago I had a very bad cough," writes Lewis T. Davis, Blackwater, Del. "My brother McCabe Davis, gave me a small bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. After taking this I bought half a dozen bottles of it but only used one of them as the cough left me and I have not been troubled since." Obtainable everywhere.—Advertisement.

URGES ELIMINATION OF PETTY POLITICS

Judge Orbison Speaks Before Fort Wayne Real Estate Exchange.

Judge Charles J. Orbison, of Indianapolis, made a plea for the elimination of partisan politics in city affairs in his address before the Fort Wayne Real Estate exchange at its regular weekly meeting and luncheon at the Commercial club, Tuesday evening.

"I do not know what your government here is—that is who is in power—so I may speak freely," he said. "You must have a clean city government to maintain a city's progress. A city stands so long as there is respect for the law. I want to talk citizenship for a minute. I am not talking politics, understand. We are getting to the place where we must eliminate partisan politics. God speed the time when this will come about, and the running of our cities will be a business, and we will have men in power who will direct our most vital business as you would direct yours. That time will come when we will have such, and will have principles and not parties; when men will cease to worship a bird, animal or any other emblem."

Judge Orbison declared that nothing will go so far in holding a family together and building up a city as a home. "Above all things be a booster for your city," he said. "Don't be a knocker. My experience has been that the real estate men are boosters. Their business offers the greatest opportunity for boosting their city. If Fort Wayne has grown so fast that Evansville has been compelled to go down the river and take in a couple of little towns in order to keep her boast of the second city, it has been largely due to the Fort Wayne real estate men."

Urges Co-Operation.

The speaker urged co-operation. Every citizen must have the spirit of useful helpfulness. "I think we need to emphasize the old theory that 'honesty is the best policy,'" he continued. "It is not for the preacher and lawyer alone to be honest, but for every business man. It is up to the Fort Wayne Real Estate exchange to see that there are no dishonest men in this organization."

Four members were called upon to give five minute talks on Fort Wayne, and during the next two meetings each of the members will be called upon for like talks. The board will then choose the speaker to represent Fort Wayne in the five minute talks for the cup to be given at the national convention to be held at New Orleans in March.

DO NOT SEEK TO COIN AGONY INTO PROFITS

E. A. Filene, of Boston, Defends American Business Men in War Attitude.

Washington, Feb. 9.—Addresses on "Commercial Relations Between the United States and China," by Dr. Wellington Koo, the Chinese minister; "Business View of Peace to Come," by Edward A. Filene, of Boston, a member of the executive committee of the international congress of the chamber of commerce, and "Work of the International High Commission," by Senator Fletcher, of Florida, held the attention of delegates at today's session of the annual convention of the chamber of commerce of the United States.

In presenting a partial survey of conditions expected to confront the United States at the end of the war Mr. Filene declared the chamber's recent referendum approving their proposal that the country take the initiative in the establishment of an international court to settle the disputes of nations, has effectively given the lie to the charge that the chief interest of American business men in the war is the chance it gives them to coin the agony of Europe into dividends. Mr. Filene said it was the clear duty of the United States and the states of South America to take steps to complete a Pan-American program which will include international arbitration with power behind it to enforce its operation.

59 INDICTMENTS IN NEUTRALITY CASES

San Francisco, Feb. 9.—Fifty-nine federal indictments—thirty-two charging violations of American neutrality directed against consular officials here, the Turkish consul general and steamship agents, and twenty-seven against immigration officials in connection with the attempted smuggling of eighty-six Chinese in the United States last November from the Pacific mail steamer Mongolia—were in the possession today of the United States district attorney's office. It was said they would be returned in open court tomorrow when arrests would follow.

The indictments against the German consular officials, who include Franz Boppe, the consul general, were voted yesterday by the federal grand jury as a result of the nation-wide investigation by the department of justice. The indictments are the first the government has attempted to gain against officials of any foreign power in connection with its efforts to curtail activities of persons engaged in the alleged plots. The indictments voted against immigration officials and steamship men followed a searching inquiry into reports that a wholesale traffic in contraband with aliens was being carried on.

United States District Attorney J. W. Preston said that W. F. Boyce, assistant United States immigration commissioner; four immigration inspectors, W. H. Thornley, customs house broker; M. H. Hunt, Robert Aul, J. J. Richars, W. J. Scott, officers of the Mongolia, as well as fifteen Chinese, were among those indicted.

While the indictments against the consul officials were not unexpected some surprise was manifested today over the large number of true bills, which indicated, it was said, that the government had completed the San Francisco investigation.

PERSIAN TRIBESMEN ROUT THE RUSSIANS

Berlin, Feb. 9.—Constantinople reports given out today by the Overseas News agency state that Russian forces in Persia have met with a severe defeat at the hands of Persian tribesmen and that they retreated in disorder.

The Persian forces, according to these advices, were under command of Haidar Bey. They attacked the Russians near Sandshulak, which was reconquered by the natives.

Advices were received from Constantinople today that anotheer group of British prisoners captured by the Turks in the fighting at Essin on the Tirgres below Kut-el-Amara had been taken to Mosul, in Assyria, 220 miles northwest of Bagdad. It is said the convoy consisted of 240 men out of a great number captured.

SERBS BEAT NIGHT ATTACK.

Corfu, Feb. 8.—(Via London, Feb. 9.)—A serbian official statement issued here today says that on February 2, during the retreat southward from Alesso of the Serbian troops, a night attack was delivered near the village of Bloma on the pursuing Austro-Hungarian forces, who were aided by armed Albanian bands and that the latter were put to flight after many had been killed and a hundred prisoners were taken, mostly Hungarians.

SAYS BIG PACKERS CONTROL MARKETS

Wichita, Kan., Feb. 9.—Big packing houses are behind powerful interests which are manipulating the livestock market of the country, is the belief expressed by Gov. Capper in an address before the Kansas Livestock association here today. "We know the packers control stock yards and their terminal facilities," said Gov. Capper, "and there is no doubt in my mind that the livestock markets are controlled by factors other than supply and demand."

Remedies for prevailing conditions, he said, are organizations and co-operation.

Each of the guns weigh 92 tons and the four are valued at $60,000. The guns, which were removed from the armored cruiser Colorado, are to be sent to the naval arsenal at Washington for reboring.

CHEAP FURS NOT TO BLAME FOR ANTHRAX

New York Health Commissioner Gives Denial to Recent Rumor.

New York, Feb. 9.—A belief which gained considerable currency here early in the winter—that the comparatively rare disease known as anthrax is spread by wearing cheap furs—is contradicted by Health Commissioner Emerson in a statement published today. Dr. Emerson says that his department has record of only nine deaths from anthrax in 1915, and that in every case the cause of the disease was unknown. The nine victims followed these occupations: Lawyer, candy maker, medical student, government weigher, laborer (two cases), shoemaker, no occupation (two cases).

"If cat fur is such a dangerous source of infection," says Dr. Emerson, "it is a miracle that the death rate among those employed at Barrien island in preparing the large consignments of cat fur is not much greater than the total number of anthrax cases alleged to have been discovered in New York city by the representatives of the state labor department. As a matter of fact among those most closely associated with cats and cat fur no cases of anthrax have developed."

JEWELRY WORKERS STRIKE.

New York, Feb. 9.—A general strike of the jewelry workers in New York city was called at a meeting early today, attended by more than 1,000 members of the union. The jewelrs demand an eight-hour day. They are all highly paid workmen, some of them, the diamond setters, earning as high as $100 a week in busy periods, and the question of pay does not enter into the present trouble.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, Feb. 9.—Wheat gathered fresh strength today, notwithstanding that at first some uncertainty was shown. After opening ½@⅝c off to ¼c up, with May at $1.29⅝ to $1.30¼ and July at $1.22⅞ to $1.23½, the market sagged a little and then scored a moderate general advance.

The close was steady but 2¼c to 2½c net lower, with May at $1.27¼@1.28 and July at $1.20⅝.

Seaboard demand lifted corn. Opening prices, which ranged from ½@¾c to ⅞c higher, were followed by further upturns.

The close was heavy at ¾@⅞c net decline.

Provisions advanced with hogs.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Feb. 9.—Washington advices that the Lusitanian case had been virtually settled, with bullish news regarding the steel and copper industries, caused a cheerful feeling in financial circles here before the opening of the stock market and prices at the start were substantially higher, with many stocks up to one to two points. Canadian Pacific and New York Central were the strongest features of the railroad list and scored gains of 1¼ each. American Car and Foundry, U. S. Alcohol, Crucible Steel and Beet Sugar and the coppers led the industrial division upward.

Stocks were offered on the advance and this together with sudden heaviness in the more speculative issues, notably Industrial Alcohol Cuban-American Sugar and Texas company, resulted in general recessions. U. S. Steel fell off a substantial subtraction and Crucible Steel, Mexican Petroleum as well as Baltimore and Ohio and Rock Island were under yesterday's close. Dealings dwindled to slender proportions in the second hour and irregular tendencies were again manifested at midday. Bonds were steady.

Senate Committee Reaches No Decision —Amendment Proposed.

Washington, Feb. 9.—Senator Sheppard's national prohibition constitutional amendment was considered several hours by the senate judiciary committee, but no conclusion was reached. An amendment was proposed by Senator Dillingham to provide that whisky should not be shipped beyond the confines of any state which permits its manufacture.

Such a proposal would only need a majority vote in the congress and would not require approval of three-fourths of the states as is the case with a constitutional amendment.

TELLS OF GAINING ENERGY AND LIFE

Edward Ryan, a well known horse trader, who lives at 219 East Jefferson street, this city, is one of the dozens of Fort Wayne friends of Tanlac, who praises the Master Medicine because of good they have gained through use. He said:

"My system has been in a generally run down condition for a long time. I had stomach trouble, indigestion bothering me, and I was subject to headaches. During the last five years accumulation of gas on my stomach have bothered me and it seemed impossible for me to digest even the lightest foods. My eyes bothered me and sometimes I suffered from dizziness. I believe this was caused by stomach trouble. I was very restless at night.

"I feel a great deal stronger and I am filled with energy since taking Tanlac. I sleep well at night now and awaken in the mornings feeling refreshed. The formations of gas on my stomach have disappeared; the indigestion has been relieved, and for several days I have not suffered from headaches or spells of dizziness.

"Tanlac has done a world of good for me and I want to recommend it to the public."

Tanlac, the Master Medicine, is especially beneficial for stomach, liver and kidney trouble, catarrhal complaints, rheumatism, nervousness, sleeplessness and the like and is a fine blood purifier and system builder.

Tanlac is now being introduced in Fort Wayne at the Wayne and Calhoun streets store of the Meyer Drug Co., where the Tanlac Man is explaining the new remedy. It also may be obtained at the other Meyer stores, Calhoun and Columbia, 1129 Calhoun and Broadway and Taylor. Advertisement.
